NEXT SATURDAY IS DOLLAR
DAY

The merchants of Springfield are staging Dollar Day next Saturday, September 22. They are now preparing for this memorable event and will be ready to offer many bargains to the throngs of people that will be in Springfield on Dollar Day. There will be many beautiful and attractive window displays. It will be worth your while to walk down through the business section and see the many attractive bargains that will be shown in the windows so that you may have your selections made before the rush.

This occasion is not going to be one in which every merchant is trying to unload his shoddy and out-of-date goods. Of course last season's goods will sell at a lower price than the newest styles. New fall goods will be on display and there will be plenty of choice for your selection. You should not be disappointed in anything you may need. The merchants of Springfield can fit you out with any of the necessities as well as the luxuries and on Dollar Day many articles will be priced lower than they can be bought today in the wholesale market.

The stores will be dressed up in holiday array and will look their best. The clerks will be on hand to attend to your wants and to help you to find the best bargains there are offered in each of the many stores that are lined up to make this Dollar Day a great success.

A bargain is not the most or the cheapest things we can get for our dollars. Bargains are not bargains if we got them because they were cheap when we had no use for the articles. Bargains are not real bargains if the buyer gets the goods and the seller has disposed of them for less money than he had to pay the wholesalers for the goods. A bargain is a transaction made between a consumer and merchant where there is a real saving to the consumer, either because he could buy the article cheaper at this particular place than at other places or because the particular brand purchased cost no more than other kinds and would render the purchaser more real service than other articles.

United Artisans Meet

At the regular meeting of the United Artisans Wednesday night there will be initiation ceremonies at which time Dr. Eshelman of Portland will be present. There will also be special business.

Has Patriotic Window Display
C. F. Eggman has a very patriotic window display in his show window. A bronze figure of a soldier is holding an American flag, which is made to float as though by the wind, by an electric fan placed in an unobtrusive place.

Constipation the Father of Many Ills
Of the numerous ills that affect humanity a large share start with constipation. Keep your bowels regular and they may be avoided. When a laxative is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. Obtainable everywhere.
