Home For Convalescent Babies Under Two Years Old Open All the Year Around—Founded by First General Secretary of Charity Organization Society of New York.

New York.—If your daddy had gone away to war to fight for his country, and you were something under two years old, and mother wasn't sure where the next mug of bread and milk was coming from, and like as not mother wasn't even there to worry about it at all, wouldn't you think it was pretty hard lines for a young soldier just starting out in the battle of life?

You would. And, while you might not frame it up in just those words, you would open your mouth and your lungs and let the whole crowded, hot, smell-filled tenement which constituted your world know about how miserable you were, even if you were a soldier's baby and supposed to be brave. That is just why, out over the Hudson and away beyond the beautiful, broad sweep of the Englewood Country club golf links on the western slope of the Palisades, the Memorial Home of the Edgewater Creche is today endeavoring to open its hospitable doors to take in and care for the little children and babies of soldiers, sailors and of women who could thus be released for

Bohemian Photo Drama Is Coming

Lois Weber, Famous Universal Director, Is Producer of "Even as You and I"

"Yes, I'm getting to know them pretty well." The speaker was Lois Weber, famous Universal director, who produced Universal's gripping drama "Even as You and I" which begins its engagements at the Eugene Theatre on Friday September 21.

"We're getting on speaking terms," continued Miss Weber, as she glanced at a scenario on her littered desk. "You see, when the story comes to me it is naturally new and the characters running through it don't know me, neither do I know them. But, we visit together during my spare hours and during the evening until we get acquainted. I may say that the characters in "EVEN AS YOU AND I" are unique but at the same time in most cases we get to know each other pretty well." Ben Wilson and Mignon Anderson head the strong cast appearing in this absorbing photo drama of Bohemia.

A Middleton, of this city, who for the past few months has been employed with the Star Drug company at Klamath Falls has been supplying for two weeks as druggist at Ashland.

war work, in addition to the usual groups of poor mothers and little ones sent there by social workers.

Any one who passed along Edgewater, N. J., the town that nestles under the Palisades opposite One Hundred and Thirtieth street, four or five years back remembers that creche, because it stood on the river road there for many years after its foundation by Charles D. Kellogg, first general secretary of the Charity Organization society of New York city, who first established it beside the site of the statue of Liberty and called it Bartholdi Creche. There it had averaged 6,000 to 10,000 visits of mothers with children in a summer. In the fifteen years or more it stood at Edgewater the creche averaged 12,000 visits a summer from mothers and children from the crowded tenement districts of New York.

Removed now to a beautifully rolling and well wooded site of six and a quarter acres, at Broad and Van Nostrand avenues, on the outskirts of Englewood, the creche occupies the unique position of being the only home for convalescent babies under two years old in and about New York city that is open the year round.

And in its effort to do its bit by giving preference to the babies of soldiers the creche does not stop at American babies, but cares for the babies of allied fighters as well, at least four nations being represented among the twenty babies now there—America, France, Russia and Italy.

Adopt a Baby Wolf.
Rochester, N. Y.—The Proper brothers, who live on a farm six miles west of Naples, in Ontario county, found a baby gray wolf in a hollow log in a piece of woods on their farm. They took the little creature, whose eyes were not yet open, to the house and are making an effort to raise it on a bottle. A search is being made for the rest of the wolf family.

* GIVES CORK LEG AS *
* SECURITY FOR LOAN *
* Raleigh, N. C.—A chattel mortgage has been recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Durham county, N. C., in which a $50 loan was made and an artificial leg taken as security. The leg was valued at $100, and R. O. Everett, a Durham lawyer, declares it his intention of reconveying the property to himself unless the mortgagor redeems the claim. The loan was obtained to purchase the cork leg, and the debt is to be paid within fifty-two weeks. *

Makes Clubbing Arrangement With The Oregon Farmer
Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.
