

Christmas Seals Now on Sale

Money Received Will Be Used Toward Prevention of Tuberculosis

Addressed to the people of Oregon the State Board of Health has issued an appeal for support of the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale. The proceeds are to be used in aid of men rejected for military service because of tuberculosis, and also for the regularly organized work against tuberculosis in Oregon. The sale will be conducted by the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. The appeal of the State Board of Health reads as follows:

To the People of Oregon:
War gives new importance to the work of the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. Numbers of men who apply for enlistment are rejected because of tuberculosis. Others contract the disease in service and must be returned to their homes. In either instance these men must be cared for. Any other course would be inhumane. It would be uneconomic. The Oregon State Board of Health desires most earnestly to commend the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis to the support of the people of Oregon in performing this service. The association is admirably equipped. In co-operation with the State Board of Health names and addresses of men rejected for military service because of tuberculosis will be secured. Each will be followed to his home. Nurses especially trained in public health work will give him and his family instructions to aid in preventing the spread of infection and to add to his chance of overcoming the disease. Where necessary, sanitarium care will be arranged; supplies and suitable food will be furnished. This work can only be done if the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale conducted by the association is a success and adequate funds to meet necessary expenses are secured. Such a necessity was not anticipated by the last legislature, and the state has no appropriation for the purpose. The total amount needed is $10,000.00. This will necessitate the sale of 1,000,000 seals at one cent each. Let the generous people of this state buy liberally and every penny will do double duty in saving life and preventing the destructive spread in Oregon of this dread disease.

The Red Cross Christmas seals are now on sale at Peery's and Kettel's drug stores and have been given to the school children for sale. Any family purchasing Red Cross Christmas seals are requested to paste one seal on their front door where it can be seen by anyone entering the door. This will prevent any further annoyance from solicitors and will also show that the occupants of this home are interested in the cause.
