STEADILY WORST HUNS IN THE AIR

British Airmen Surpass Their Own Wonderful Records.

THRILLING BATTLE STORIES

Infantry and Gunners Alike Filled With Admiration by the Pluck and Self-Sacrifice of the "Eyes of the Army"-Dash Down in Flocks and Rain Bombs on the Hordes of the Beast of Berlin.

"All ranks have their talls well up. and the superiority of British over enemy airmen has never been more marked," said General Salmond in his message from the battlefield.

British airmen with their "tails well have surpassed all their own wonderful records in the great struggle on the old Somme battlefield. In the air they have the Huns "beaten to a frazzle." Infantry and gunners alike have been filled with admiration by the pluck and self-sacrifice of the 'eyes of the army."

The London Sunday Herald has compiled a series of extracts from letters some of these flying boys, written to intimate friends and comrades at home in the few spare hours they have been able to snatch from the fighting." Told in the breezy language of the mess room, they are as thrilling as anything that has been written by even the best-known war correspondents.

"I saw a fine thing between Templeux and Peronne," writes one of these merry youngsters. "The Ger, mans were smashing on. Our squadron was returning to our base 'empty.' There was very hot stuff being pump ed at us. We could see miles of Huns our shells bursting everywhere among "Suddenly one of our scouts was winged. He dropped like a crippled pigeon, at a tremendous pace, and crashed horribly. At once another chap swooped, landed, picked him up. swung his blades, jumped in, took 'her' off and put his tall up to our lines.

"It was all the work of a minute and one of the plucklest things I've seen this week."

All Kinds of "Stunts." "Monday was great," another air man writes. "All the way west from below Cambrai to La Fore, anywhere and everywhere, we had beautiful tar

"Our chaps dived, looped, and did all quite automatically. There was no 'circus' about it.

"We circled in formation, dashed down in flocks, rained bombs on them. and linked up with the cavalry. There were no shell holes that could hide the beggars. We raked their hiding

"The sun pelted down. The row was deafening. I was bathed in perspiration. We got 'pockets' above-oh; yes!-far worse than the Basingstoke bump-from the guns, which lifted us and flopped us down and about.

"The enemy had a rotten day of it "On Tuesday morning I saw a pretty bit of work.

"Fully 25,000 Germans were advance ing below-under our very eyes 10,000 feet above-when from the direction of Channy there swung round seven French fighting squadrons-105 machines-glinting in the sun.

"They maneuvered beautifully. Fancy, Jim, a hundred 'planes in a vertical turn at once! They sprang a lovely E flat note, and 50,000 German ears heard it.

"It was laughable and tragic, "Down swooped the Frenchmen with a whiz. They spread fanwise, A mighty crescent of 100-pound bombs feli, then another, then small stuff. Hundreds upon hundreds were killed

"I saw five thousand men flat on helr faces at once hoping to escape. It was just awful.

Always on Offensive. "We've chased the devils all over the shop. You see, they have been fighting far from their base. Their pilots accordingly were carrying big loads of 'fuel.' We had minimum oads. So we were always on the offensive. There has been no partial or intermittent supremacy about our boys. It has been a stable factor all the week.

"The Germans have been using two geared machine guns, one on each side of their engines, on their fighters. Others we've brought down had two fixed guns on the machine body, so that they could swing them to aim at an enemy

"The guns are of the special Spandau variety, firing half-inch bullets, "But why don't they hit?

"The Australian and American flyers are A1. Everybody is in tip-top form. See you again soon. Tol loll ald boy."

THRIFT STAMPS AS PAY

Denver Junk Dealers Adopt Plan of German Jew.

Until the end of the war, whenever residents sell thier old bottles, old rags, old iron, old rubber, in fact any kind of old junk, they will receive their pay in Thrift stamps.

If objection is made the junk men will pay only half price for the debris, The Thrift stamp plan was originated by David Schwartz, a German Jew, and has been adopted by what is known locally as the "Junk Deniers"

Real Circus

and Everything to Make Up a

See MRS. SILAS GAY as a snake charmer—she eats 'em alive. Have a look at LITTLE HIPPO, the only one born in captivity.

Hear GEO. MAGILL explain how easy it is to stop a falling tree. Cast your gaze over HINKY DINK MARCUS PEEREE, fresh from the bar-rooms of Chicago.

Watch MABLE DURYEE as she extracts the elusive nickle from the unwary while they are under her hypnotic power.

Gaze at ETHEL KINGSWELL, and wonder while she does her bareback ride on her untamable steed

See the only fat woman, FLORENCE COFFIN-she will appear in a bathing suit.

The COPENHAVER SISTERS will appear in their dare davel trapeze act. MRS. PERCY TYSON in a playette, will demonstrate how easy it is to keep your husband home nights.

EDNA SWARTS, the Human Pin Cushion, will let you stick pins in her. Try it on and see how you come out.

FRAN TRAVIS and ETHLYN POWERS in the original old maids. BILLY HALL and BILLY GOTT will fight a three round bout for half the gate receipts.

BOB DRURY will explain how to be thin.

JOHN WINZENRIED, the only rubber (neck) man.

CHAS. EGGIMANN, half horse, half alligator, will do the human top, or anyone else.

EDNA DURYEE will do a thrilling slack-wire stunt, balancing two milkshakes and a near beer while skipping through space.

See BILL HILL in his dangerous feat looping the loop in mid-air. In the side show you will see GLADYS LEPLEY and BULAH BUCK-NUM as the Siamese Twins.

RAY ALEXANDER in his marvelous Dive from the top of the tent into a tank of water. This act has never been triplicated.

Hear JERRY VAN VALZAH, the only hyphenated skeleton, while he plays "Wait Till I Get My Lunch Hooks on Kizer Bill," on his whangdoodle.

O. B. KESSEY and CHAS. L. SCOTT will appear as the Japanese wrestlers, ERNEST LYONS and PROF. KIRK in a juggling and balancing act. JOHNNY KETELS will sing the song hit of the season,

"DADDY LONG LEGS. And last but not least, GERTRUDE WILLIAMS will show you how easy it is to roll as well as walk.

All business houses are requested to close at 8:30 so as to be in time for the last performance, which begins at 9 o'clock sharp.

Three rings and five platforms. This is the biggest stunt ever pulled off in Springfield. Don't miss it.

Plenty of Peanuts, Popcorn, Pink Lemonade and Ice Cream for all.

Your money extracted while you wait. This operation is painless.
