Gas Range Canning Saves Fuel-Time-Money

—Now—with the canning season at its height and the necessity for canning greater than ever before—you will particularly appreciate the many advantages of the Gas Range as an aid to food conservation.

Exact Heat Regulation at the Turn of a Valve

—So essential to the making of good canned vegetables and fruits, is the proper heat during cooking. A twist of a valve instantly gives you the desired flame when you can on a Gas Range. There is no spoilage through scorching and boiling over when a little care is exercised.

SOCIAL EVENTS

ATTEND LODGE

Several members of the I. O. O. F. encampment attended lodge at Eugene on Wednesday evening. Those attending report the refreshments of peaches and cream great.

HAVE PICNIC PARTY.

Several members of Springfield's younger set enjoyed a picnic party at Hendrick's park on Tuesday evening. The evening was spent around a camp fire telling stories and playing games. About twelve o'clock refreshments of weenies, buns and pickles were enjoyed.

Those taking part in the jollification were: Misses Gladys Lepley, Lettie and Lottie Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bucknum, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Skinner, and Mr. Earl Lepley.

ENTERTAIN FRESHMEN.

Friday night the young people of the local high school assembled at Eggmann's ice cream parlors with the avowed intention of giving the thirty odd freshmen a warm reception. Of course no one stumbled over the tables in the course of the evening, for Mr. Eggmann had graciously permitted his business to be disrupted that day so that the students might have a good time.

Several freshmen were spirited secretly away during the evening to return later with slightly damp heads. More strangely still, the horses manifested a singular aversion to the trough on Sixth street next day.

However, everybody liked the evening and the freshmen were much pleased with the excellent rendition of "The Frosh are Marching On," by the upperclassmen. The boche was vigorously "skinned" in a contest, being represented by some apples provided for the occasion.

At 10:00 the members of the faculty reluctantly "shooed" their charges away as they believed that all children should get at least a little sleep each night.

Food saving was at first a fad; then a patriotic service; now a habit—or ought to be.

"It is necessary that every family in the United States study its food budgets and food ways to see if it cannot buy less, serve less, returning nothing to the kitchen and practice the gospel of the clean plate."

What Do We Know About Elephants?

—A good deal from the standpoint of the ones who know an excellent bread when they EAT it. Eggmann's Elephant Bread—the big 16-ounce loaf—is the last word in a perfect bread. They, who have eaten, like it—First, because it is ALWAYS good. Second, because it is made in Springfield, and they like to feel when they eat a product made at home that they are helping build up their home town as against a rival town. Ask your grocer for it, and if he can't supply you, see us.
