The Baker's Oven

is a vital essential in making bread. Good bread cannot be made in a poor oven any more than good baking can be done in a poor stove. With this principle in mind we installed an oven that is as good as the A1 materials that go into Elephant Bread, and both—under the skillful manipulation of a top-notch baker—combine to produce a food fit to grace the table of a king. Try it for your table. It will delight the whole family.
