OIL SURVEY OF OREGON IN PROGRESS NOW

A survey of the oil resources of Oregon is being made by the state chamber of commerce through George Quayle, general secretary. It is hoped to determine the extent of the oil possibilities in the most promising regions.

Reports from each county concerning the indications of oil and the development undertaken are being received by Mr. Quayle. The federal authorities are also interested in the survey and he yesterday received a letter from Senator McNary to the effect that George O. Smith, director of the geological survey, will submit a report on the same subject.

"MOONSHINE" AND GASOLINE CAUSE USUAL SMASHUP

Last Sunday night, Walter Price, a prominent merchant at Marcola, accompanied by George Turner, a discharged soldier, tangled with the law when the car which he was driving while intoxicated, ran into a buggy driven by W. R. Rearick. The latter was out driving with his wife and daughter, Etna, nine years old. The little girl was thrown 20 feet and bruised considerably, though not seriously hurt. The accident happened at the junction of the Springfield and Coburg roads near the Bushnell bridge.

There was no excuse for the accident, according to Sheriff Fred G. Stickle, who was summoned just before midnight Sunday night. The road offered adequate room for passing. Mr. Rearick swore to a complaint Monday morning charging Price and Turner with having in their possession intoxicating liquors.

Frank Nettleship, deputy at Junction City, made the arrest. He happened to drive along the road at the time of the accident and stopped when he saw what had happened.

While trying to start the machine to bring Price and Turner to Eugene, Nettleship was sitting in the front seat with the two men. Price grabbed him about the neck. Bystanders who had gathered said that it appeared as if Price intended to seriously injure the deputy who used his fist so effectively as to open up the side of the attacker's face. Stitches were necessary. Upon arrival of Sheriff Stickle, the two men were taken to Eugene. They were taken back to Marcola early Monday morning.

Price and Turner had a portion of a bottle full of "moonshine" in their possession, according to the Sheriff. However, the bottle was branded "Sunny Brook."

Tuesday morning Mr. Price appeared in the Eugene Justice Court, and pleaded guilty to the charge of being intoxicated on a highway and was fined $100 and costs.

Mr. Turner failed to make appearance and it is reported at Marcola he has left the state.

Harl McPherson who was kicked by a horse was dismissed from the Eugene Hospital Wednesday evening.

OUR 1919 BOOM!

U. S. DOES NOT LOSE FARMERS BY EMIGRATION TO CANADA

Official Figures Refute Alarmists' Report that Cheap Lands Attract Americans in Great Numbers.

The old scare that the cheap lands of Canada are draining the United States of its farm population has been revived recently, particularly since the signing of the armistice. The statement gets printed at one place or another, now and then, that at least a million of America's best farmers have left the United States for Canada during the past 10 years, and a group of alarmists raise the cry that something be done to stop it.

Sees Nothing to Alarm
The United States Department of Agriculture finds nothing alarming in the situation. It does not give credence to the statement that the United States has lost a million farmers, or anything like it, to Canada in 10 years, or at all. On the other hand, it believes that at least as many farmers have come from Canada to the United States as have gone from the United States to Canada. It looks for the cross movement between the two countries to continue, just as a very marked movement among the States themselves is always to be noticed.

Comparable figures as to the number of United States farmers who have gone to Canada and of Canadian farmers who have come to the United States are hard to obtain, but such figures as are available seem to show a fairly even movement back and forth. The statistics of the Bureau of Immigration show the number of people who have gone from the United States to Canada from 1908 to 1918, but do not show what proportion of them were farmers. They do show, however, the number of farmers who went from the United States to all the rest of the world. That includes, of course, the farmers who seek new lands in Canada, together with the men who came from all European and other countries to the United States, owned or worked on farms for a time, and returned to their native countries.

The figures seem to show that, while considerable numbers of people have gone to Canada, the bulk of them have not been farmers. The largest exodus from the United States to Canada took place in 1911. The number of persons who left the United States for Canada that year was 49,375. The assumption doubtless has been that practically all these were farmers seeking cheap lands. But the number of farmers who left the United States that year for all places in the world was only 11,560, which was considerably less than one-fourth the number of people who went from the United States to Canada that year.

None of these farmers, a majority doubtless did go to Canada, and it appears equally certain that a considerable number of men who had never been farmers in the United States acquired land in Canada. Canadian figures show that 64,124 Americans took up homesteads in Canada between 1906 and 1914.

These figures, even if they were uncompensated by any movement from Canada to the United States, fail to justify the belief that the rural districts of the United States are being depopulated by removals to Canada. But there has been compensation. The United States Commissioner General of Immigration has published the following figures on the number of immigrants leaving Canada for the United States:

1914-15	82,215
1915-16	101,551
1916-17	105,399
1917-18	22,452
1918 to Dec. 31, 1918	22,446

Again, the figures do not show what proportions were farmers, but the Canadian Superintendent of Immigration made the statement in 1908 that "about 16,000 farmers per year for the last five years have proceeded from Canada to the United States." That is above the average yearly number of farmers leaving the United States for all countries.

SPRINGFIELD AUTOISTS COMPLAIN OF DETOUR

A great deal of complaint has been made by local automobilists who use the highway between Springfield and Eugene of the detour over the hills that is declared necessary on account of the paving work going on between Judkin's Point and West Springfield. Cars are detoured over the hill on the west side of the Southern Pacific track by way of the Laurel Hill cemetery, and thence by way of Springfield Junction, where there is only a narrow road, which is exceedingly rough. There is over a mile of this road, and it is impossible for two cars to pass on it in many places.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF TROUT TO BE PLANTED

Six hundred sixty six thousand young trout are now being fed at the state hatchery near Vida, on the upper McKenzie river, and will be liberated in that stream in August, according to M. L. Ryckman, superintendent of the hatchery.

The trout were hatched at the plant a short time ago, and are now two inches long. It is expected that they will be four inches long by the time they are liberated, and will be more capable of taking care of themselves than if liberated in the McKenzie now.

GEO. SETTLE BADLY INJURED TODAY AT OAKRIDGE

The message was lacking in detail, but contained the information that Mr. Settle had in some manner fallen in front of a moving mowing machine and one or both of his legs had been severed just above the ankles.

Mr. and Mrs. Settle left immediately for Roseburg.

SIMPLIFIED PROCESS FOR COMPUTING INCOME TAX

If your income is $2,400 a year and you own a ton of coal or a diamond ring and an automobile, and are married to a brunette girl twenty-six years old, you take the amount of the income, add your personal property, subtract your street number, multiply by your height, add the date of your birth, and divide by your waist measure. If there is a child in the family subtract $200 from your income, add the amount to your personal property, subtract the size of your collar—omitting fraction—divide by the square root of your telephone number, add the child's age, subtract the amount you have given to the church during the year, multiply by time of day, divide by 4,1144, and add the size of your hat with and without the hat band. If there is a second child in the family or you keep a canary, divide by the number of your automobile license tag, subtract the number of buttons on your vest, take 6 per cent of the answer and add seven-eighths the weight of your mother-in-law.

If wife has separate income and joint return is contemplated divide by sum of her glove and shoe sizes (6-17-13) instead of automobile license tag. After you get it all figured out and have arrived at an answer which may be right and which probably is not you won't have to pay taxes of any name or nature, for they will have you in the booby-hatch—strapped down.

Caution: People born under the Zodiac sign of Taurus, the Bull (April 25th-May 20th), should proceed with caution; and, in the final analysis, call in someone born under Capricornus, the Goat (December 27th-January 20th), to prove the balance.

Alby Signor and Norman Furusett left Sunday for North Bend where they will be employed at the mills.
