

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

Copyright 1919 by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Tony red bags, tidy red ties, handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and—that classy, practical pound crystal glass humidior with sponge moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

PUT a pipe in your face that's filled cheerily brimful of Prince Albert, if you're on the trail of smoke peace! For, P. A. will sing you a song of tobacco joy that will make you wish your life job was to see how much of the national joy smoke you could get away with every twenty-four hours!

You can "carry on" with Prince Albert through thick and thin. You'll be after laying down a smoke barrage that'll make the boys think of the old front line in France!

P. A. never tires your taste because it has the quality! And, let it slip into your think-tank that P. A. is made by our exclusive patented process that cuts out bite and parch—assurance that you can hit smoke-record-high-spots seven days out of every week without any comeback but real smoke joy!

I was talking to one of my soldier friends who had recently returned from "over there" and I asked him how he liked the trip over.

"Rough as thunder," was the reply.

"Were you well fed?" I asked.

"Six meals a day," he said.

"Six, did you say?" I shouted.

"Yes," merrily replied the soldier; "three down and three up."

JAPAN'S PEACEFUL PENETRATION OF THE PACIFIC COAST STATES

attested by the fact that two-thirds, perhaps more, of all the Japanese in the United States are living in California. California therefore offers the best and really the only opportunity for studying the problem and correctly estimating the results likely to follow the continued and increased immigration of Japanese into this country.

California is the outpost of American civilization, fighting against the "peaceful penetration" of the Japanese, and thus far she has had only abuse therefor from the States east of the Rockies, which she is defending. The present policy of the United States Government in permitting admissions under the "Gentlemen's Agreement," in opening the gates to "picture brides" and in discouraging—and preventing, when it can—the passage of State laws limiting the effects of the evil, has created a critical situation which makes remedial measures the more difficult.

Our Japanese Population

It is very difficult to ascertain the number of Japanese now in the United States. There are no official Government figures since the census of 1910. The only figures available are those furnished by the six Japanese Consulates in Continental United States for their respective districts. According to these reports, the total Japanese population in Continental United States in 1916 was 94,379, of which only 2,281 were in the Chicago district, and 2,781 in the New York district. All the balance are credited to the four Pacific Coast Districts, and of these San Francisco and Los Angeles districts have 74,556, Seattle district 8,232, and Portland district 5,793. San Francisco and Los Angeles districts cover six states, but the greater portion of the population credited to those two districts is in California, to-wit—55,995.

In 1916, 1917 and 1918, the Japanese population in California has been largely increased. Dr. Gulick says the Japanese immigration in 1918 alone amounted to 15,213 and that for 1919 it will probably be 12,000. In California alone in the three years named there were 12,000 Japanese births. It is not unreasonable to say that, on the basis of these estimates, the Japanese population of the United States is not far short of 150,000.

Again, the United States census of 1910 gives the number of Japanese in the United States as 73,157, of which 41,356 were in California. The Japanese births in California alone from 1910 to 1918 have been over 23,000. The official reports of the United States as quoted by the New York Evening Post in its Japanese number, March 16, 1918, show that the number of Japanese entering the United States, 1910 to 1917, exceeded the number departing by 34,317. Allowing for births elsewhere than in California and for immigration in 1918 as estimated by Dr. Gulick, and for deaths, the present Japanese population would be well over 150,000.

California the Test Ground

It is safe to say that not less than two-thirds of the total, or 100,000, live in California. In California, too, the Japanese have concentrated to a great extent in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys where rich lands and agricultural advantages attract them. For instance it is noted that of 4,105 Japanese births in the State in 1917 over 3,000 are credited to seven of the fifty-eight counties. This concentration is one of the phases of their "peaceful penetration," and it enables us the better to judge of results when their number will have become sufficiently large to take possession of all the favored locations in the State instead of the few they now hold. It furnishes sufficient answer, too, to the argument that 150,000 Japanese distributed among 100,000,000 Americans can work no harm. The 150,000 are not distributed so as to make the weak solution referred to. They throw their entire force into a few communities where they can make their numbers, with their economic advantages, tell, and they choose those communities, those industries and those conditions which will yield them most return for least effort.

Pete Lamberty was a visitor in town for a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Rogye, the first of the week.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease. And giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CLEGG & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

"Take it from Me" says the Good Judge

Wise tobacco chewers since got over the big idea. A little chew of real quality tobacco makes them better satisfied and they find their chewing costs even less. With this class of tobacco, you don't need a trash chew so often and you end you're saving part of your tobacco money.

To Gas Consumers

By authority of the Public Service Commission of Oregon the following rates for gas have been put into effect in Eugene and Springfield:

|                                     |       |                       |
|-------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------|
| First 300 cu. ft. or less per month | ..... | $0.75                |
| Next 2700 cu. ft. per month         | ..... | per 1000 cu. ft. 1.90 |
| Next 7000 cu. ft. per month         | ..... | per 1000 cu. ft. 1.50 |
| Next 15000 cu. ft. per month        | ..... | per 1000 cu. ft. 1.20 |
| Excess over 25000 cu. ft. per month | ..... | per 1000 cu. ft. 1.00 |

Effective August 20, 1919.

We greatly regret the necessity of increased gas rates at this time when nearly every commodity, manufactured article and service in common use is costing more than in half a century. We would prefer not to advance rates if such a step could be avoided. But the increased costs of all materials and labor entering into the manufacture and distribution of gas is beyond our control. The Public Service Commission has recognized this condition in authorizing these rates.

We appreciate the patronage and the good will that have been extended to us in the past, and our earnest hope is that our service in the future will merit the same good feeling.
