

"Pharmacy is the Science of Human Service"

Service has become an important part of any business or profession—but its need is emphasized particularly in the drug business because the science of pharmacy has to do with the health and general welfare of its patrons.

We recognize an obligation to this community and always endeavor to fulfill it satisfactorily.

That feeling of security which one should have in purchasing drugs is always experienced by our customers.

If you will trade with us, we feel sure that our exemplary service will inspire in you this same confidence and cause you to become a regular customer.

TOWN AND VICINITY

Cecil Horning, of this city, was admitted to the Eugene hospital Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Griffin, from Washington state, are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Griffin.

Mrs. Herbert Smeed, of Waltherville, spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery at the Springfield hotel.

Miss Daisy Tomseth returned to Portland, Monday, after a week's visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tomseth.

On their way from Oakridge to their home in Albany, R. B. McCally and son, Rodman, were visitors last Saturday at the M. A. Clark home.

Eggmann's bread—made clean, wrapped clean, and sold clean.

Harold Kizer, for the past two years a cavalryman on the Mexican border, is spending the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kizer.

Mary A. Green was last Monday appointed, by the county court, administratrix of the estate of her husband, Preston W. Green, who died in this city a couple of weeks since.

Mrs. Tinker and children, after an extended visit at the home of Mrs. Tinker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker, left on Friday last for their home in Arizona.

For Sale—Five-room house on A street between Fifth and Sixth streets. Bath; electric light. Price $1,450. Terms. See N. A. Rowe or A. Middleton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Warner, of Fall Creek, spent Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eastman. Miss Jennie Reed, of Harrisburg, will be a week-end visitor at the Eastman home.

Ambrose Middleton, from Lancaster, Ohio, arrived here this week and plans to remain for about six weeks looking after his property interests. Mr. Lancaster was formerly owner of the drug business now conducted by Mr. Ketels.

For Sale—Twenty acres river-bottom land three miles northeast of Springfield, on McKenzie river. Good bungalow; family orchard and small fruit. Price, $6,000. Terms. See N. A. Rowe or A. Middleton.

C. F. Coon, who had his collar bone, several ribs and arm fractured by a fall from a pile of lumber at the Booth-Kelly yards on Wednesday of last week, is now getting along nicely and is able to be about.

Mrs. Purdy, of Eugene, was a visitor this week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walker.

Fred Montgomery is reported on the sick list this week, being confined to his home at Eighth and D streets.

Every ex-service man in the city, whether or not a member of the order, is urgently requested to be present at the meeting of the American Legion to be held in Woodmen hall next Monday evening, October 20. Business of much importance will be considered.

Sunday will be a great day at the Christian church. At the morning service Evangelist Stivers will speak on the Lord's Supper as taught by the New Testament. In the evening he will speak on "Bridging the Chasm." Illustrated by a beautiful chart.

L. J. Byrne is busy these days handling the product of his six-acre vineyard across the river. Besides supplying the local market and several Eugene fruit dealers, he is making daily shipments to Marshfield and North Bend. Mr. Byrne reports that although this year's crop of grapes is light, the unusually excellent quality makes up for the shortage in quantity.

W. M. Ward, who made a trip to Sharp's creek last week, reports that he saw at the ranch of William Lawson a black bear carcass which he believes it would be hard to duplicate in this region. The bear, which was killed by Mr. Lawson, weighed nearly 400 pounds and his back was blanketed with fully two inches of fat. He had been feeding in Mr. Lawson's peach orchard.

Squire Innis and wife, living near Jasper, were in town last Saturday to take train for the East. They will visit at their old home town, Nevada, Missouri, where they lived for sixteen years before coming to Oregon, and also at other points in the state. Mr. Innis plans to "show" the Missouri folks some of the attraction and advantages of this region. Mr. and Mrs. Innis expect to take from three to four months for the trip. They made the trip east over the Northern Pacific, and will return by the Southern Pacific, visiting points in California, and also in the northern part of Old Mexico—if the Mexicans are receiving visitors at that time.

DEVITALIZED TEETH

To devitalize a tooth means to remove the life therefrom. To remove the vitality or life produces an unnatural condition, which is contrary to nature. A devitalized tooth is a liability to your health.

Each tooth has at least one nerve and approximately one half of them have two or more. There may be one opening in the root end for each nerve or the nerve may have numerous branches. This uncertainty in the situation, together with the tortuous nature of the nerve canals, make success extremely improbable.

The event of the x-ray machine marked an epoch in dentistry, revolutionized many theories and brought blessing to humanity. By its aid we have learned of the many blunders conscientiously performed in root canal work. It shows abscess after abscess in teeth, which, so far as the patient is concerned, are well or perhaps as the common expression goes, "Oh it grows a little now and then."

Very few people realize the seriousness of an abscess tooth. But let me put it in a little different light. When you have an abscess in your appendix—or appendicitis—you immediately have an operation for which you pay from $100 up, and glad of the opportunity. If you have an abscess in the back—or psoa abscess—another operation. If you have an abscess of the middle ear, another operation.

People, these are vital abscesses and any amount of money you pay for a cure is well spent, yet you permit yourself to harbor an abscess in the jaw, and say, "Oh, it don't bother much." Please get this point. Why is any abscess a dangerous ailment? It is because of the constant accumulation of pus, which, sooner or later, if permitted, will pass into the system and poison every vital organ, including the mind or nervous system. The reason a tooth does not seem so bad is because the pus is gradually absorbed directly or swallowed where nature does its best to help you.

With all the assistance of the x-ray, it will not show the numerous apertures through which the nerve might pass, so I say to you, once more, "A devitalized tooth is a liability to your health."

Why all this talk about devitalized teeth. It is because so many people say, "Oh, when I get the nerve out it will not bother any more". But I say to you, when you have a nerve taken out, your trouble is just beginning and the sooner you realize this fact the better off you will be.

Now, first and last, it is plain to you that all root-canal work is unnecessary except in the most remote cases. It is unnecessary because you can have your work done before it has reached this deplorable condition. It costs you considerable less to keep your mouth in good condition than it does to let it run down.

"I did not know I had a cavity there". Certainly not, but it does not cost you one cent to have your mouth examined just as often as you desire. Now, who is responsible? Ask yourself in all fairness.

Very truly yours,

DR. S. RALPH DIPPEL
