THE TATTLER
(Springfield High School)

The frosh class will entertain the upper classmen on Tuesday morning at assembly.

Vivian Senseney is back to school again after a short absence—and was an hour late at that.

Many of the High school students are attending the carnival at leisure hours.

It wasn't only the frosh girls who screamed when put in a dark room full of ghosts. Oh, no! You should have heard the sophmores.

Notice! All freshmen who want instructions as to handling powder (face powder) apply to Mrs. Plank. Lessons given daily at 12:45 p. m. Free of charge. Students must furnish powder and mirror.

The girls in the "L" are rejoicing. Squash is their favorite toy.

Theo. Cogill spent last week end in the country.

All through General Science class Wednesday morning, Leonal Voris and Clara Volstadt were busily engaged in making eyes at each other.

Paul Dillard is seeming to suffer from several causes. We wonder if it is heart trouble.

A certain girl was talking to the freshman president. She said, "Well, I don't see why you don't appoint a sergeant-of-arms, have a few committees, etc." Perhaps we should appoint her president.

Lillian Baker is very happy. Why? Winnifred Harpole is always talking of going to Honolulu. I bet she sure could twist when it came to those raggy baggy dances. Don't the public agree?

Several of the girls are wondering who Mollie Doane was with down at the carnival grounds Tuesday evening.

It would be nice if only we could all afford side cars to ride to Domestic Science class.

Dorothy Girard is getting very popular. We wonder why?

We heard that Miriam Male wanted a kewpie. Who will be a knight and get her one?

We wonder what made Joe Deets so happy one morning not long ago. We saw him hippety hopping to school. He must feel young again.

Bessie Keenan is continually looking to the right of her, when she is sitting at her desk. All of the girls wonder what she is looking at.

The freshmen girls all want a kewpie, but they are too bashful to ask anyone to get them one.

Although a few small accidents happened, the freshmen consider that their reception was a success and wish to thank the upper classmen for their trouble on the frosh's account.

A member of the sophomore class was seen writing an article with sophomore spelled "soft more." We wonder if she thinks they are that type of students. Strange that she would admit the fact.

The S. H. S. boys are interested in basket ball. This will require good practice and will pass away time at noons.

The High school has just elected its yell leader and editor for the Tattler.

We frosh did not get ducked at the freshmen reception.

Last Thursday morning the fourth period bookkeeping class was about to bewail the fatal injury of one of their fellow students, when most unexpectedly George Signor, owing to the rickety legs of both table and chair, made the decision that the floor, though rather hard, was the safest place to sit.

Miss Roberta Wilson was elected Student Body editor for the Tattler.

Oh, say, Dell! Irene Kirchner is all right.

Dell—I'll say she is.

The girls of S. H. S. have elected Miss Opal Mason as their yell leader.

Ole Sollem says he don't want to change his seat because he has too much fun teasing the girls.

Esther Paden is absent from school today.

Our Science class is progressing rapidly. Mr. Roth told us Monday morning that if a piece of ice didn't float it would sink.

Miss Roberta Wilson, recently elected editor, is called upon today by a very despised enemy called sickness, and we all hope she will soon recover.

Miss Sibyl Westfall, one of our beloved seniors, has been absent from school for quite a while and we wonder when we shall have the pleasure of seeing her beaming face again.

If the English III class had stayed awake Wednesday morning to guard Miss Derflinger's desk, they might have enjoyed a delicious treat.

Winnifred Harpole and Merle Casteel were at the carnival Tuesday night enjoying themselves, riding on the merry-go-round, and eating peanuts.

A Student Body meeting was held Monday evening for the purpose of electing an editor for the S. H. S. Tattler and nominating a Student Body treasurer and yell leader.

Roberta Wilson was elected as editor.

In a Student Body meeting Tuesday evening, the following were elected: Helen Roberts, treasurer, and Opal Mason, yell leader for the girls, and Milton Coffman for the boys.

The freshmen wish we could have another reception.
