CHAMBER SECURES BUSINESS ROOMS

Enthusiastic Meeting Is Held. Plan for Banquet in the Near Future.

The Springfield Chamber of Commerce met last Friday night in Stevens hall with a large representation present. On account of the absence of the president and vice president, Director W. E. Walker presided.

The matter of securing rooms for a permanent meeting place and club rooms for the Chamber was considered.

The directors reported having looked at rooms in the Winzentz-Perry building and another set in the Stevens building.

They reported their findings on both propositions. A short recess was taken by the members present Friday night in which they looked over those in the Stevens building.

Later the Chamber decided to rent the entire upper floor of the Stevens building.

The rooms will be rearranged.

A business office and reception room and a ladies rest room will be fitted up in the front section of the building.

The large room now used as an auditorium and dance hall will remain at present and will be used for gatherings of the Chamber and social functions of the city.

Discussion as to the activities and proposed work of the Chamber of Commerce followed in which a number took part.

Mayor E. E. Morrison, in an enthusiastic talk on the future of Springfield, said that "the past is gone and forgotten. Now is the time for cooperation. There is much to be done and a great deal that we can do if we will all work together."

Continuing he said that it would be possible for Springfield to secure a canary in the near future if proper support is given the backers of the enterprise.

The need of a place where representatives of outside enterprises could be entertained and the necessity of adequate funds for carrying on the work of the Chamber were also emphasized.

A number of new members were also signed up at the meeting.

It was decided to have a banquet of the membership in the near future, announcement of which will be made later.

ROAD TO HAYDEN BRIDGE IS IN BAD CONDITION

Claiming that the two and a half miles of road between the end of Fifth street and Hayden bridge has not been worked on for ten years and is in worse shape than it was at that time, a delegation of 26 residents who live on the road, met with the county court Wednesday, asking that something be done on that road.

The residents along this road say that the roads are so bad that it is necessary for machines to travel in low and with chains on for the two and a half miles. This is said to be a very prosperous section of the country.

The Civic Improvement club will meet at the library next Tuesday night at 7:30. All of the members are urged to be present since the meeting will be held for the election of officers.

SCHOOL BOARD TO ENFORCE STATE VACCINATION LAW

At a recent meeting of the school board it was decided to enforce the provisions of the state law in regard to vaccination. This action was taken because of the prevalence of smallpox in the district which, although in a very mild form, seems to be increasing rather than abating.

Superintendent Hamlin has therefore directed that all children who have not been successfully vaccinated within the last seven years, or who have not had the smallpox, be vaccinated not later than Monday, February 9th. This applies also to the teachers as well. It is understood that all physicians in the city are well supplied with vaccine.

Inquiry at the schools discloses the fact that a very large per cent of the pupils have already been vaccinated and that this order will really affect comparatively few.

STUDENTS WRITE ON U.S. ARMY LIFE

Essays to Show Value of Vocational Training—Prizes to Be Given Winners.

On February 26th school children throughout the United States will write a four-hundred word essay on "The advantages of an enlistment in the United States Army." This essay may be written from notes; must not exceed 400 words, to be written on one side of the paper only, preferably in ink.

Each school will act as judge on the essays written by its pupils and will forward the best essay to the army recruiting officer, Eugene, as the school's entry, to arrive not later than February 24th. This essay will be forwarded in duplicate in order that one copy may be retained by this office for the judges of Lane county, who will grade the papers for the award of prizes contributed by the merchants and other generous spirited citizens of the county.

Writers of the three best essays throughout the United States are to be given a free trip to Washington, D. C., and return.

The citizens of Lane county, realizing the importance of this question, are sending in to this office a constantly increasing number of highly desirable and valuable prizes which, supplementing the United States offer, as they do, furnish a fitting reward for hard and intelligent work on the part of the contestants.

Authors of the six best essays in this county are to receive dinner at the Hotel Osburn; a box party at the Oregon theater; refreshments at the Rainbow, the party to be accompanied by a chaperon. In addition to this pleasant evening of entertainment the six will be given other prizes.

It should be borne in mind that what is wanted are the future benefits of an enlistment in the United States army and in this respect it would be well to keep in mind the system of vocational training now to be found in the army and the opportunities offered by the different branches of the service.

Anyone desirous of contributing further prizes or of obtaining information please communicate with Lieut. A. W. Jones at the army recruiting station, Eugene.

NEW POLITICAL PARTY IN OREGON

Labor and Farm Representatives Draw Up New Platform.

Salem—The convention made up of delegates from labor unions, farmers' organization and individuals from all parts of the state, closed here Friday night after having formed what they termed a new political party to be known as the land and labor league of Oregon.

Several features that were objectionable to the farmers were eliminated before the adoption of the platform of the new party. It is said that the land and labor league will not put a separate ticket in the field this year but will attempt to capture the organizations of the present parties.

After much debate the convention adopted the following platform:

"We, the members of the land and labor league of Oregon, in convention assembled, seeing that those who labor and produce the necessities of life, are and of right ought to be, the masters of the things they produce, renounce the following platform of action and invite all men and women, irrespective of party or condition, to fellowship with us in the reconstruction of the state and nation along the lines of permanence and justice rather than that of mere profit and expediency.

"We recognize that all men when they form a social compact are equal in right.

"That all power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety and happiness, and they have at all times a right to alter, reform or abolish the government as they think proper. From the constitution of Oregon."

"That all abridgements of free speech, free assembly and free press are violations of the constitution of this state and these United States.

"Therefore, in order to promote the welfare and happiness of our state and to restore uniform justice and equal opportunity to all, we demand, as a minimum, that the following changes and additions be immediately enacted and put in force:

"The extension of the direct primary to the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

"The privilege of voting by mail together with automatic registration.

"The abolition of the state senate.

"The public ownership of all public utilities and natural resources.

"The formation of a department of agriculture and industry, and the creation of a fiscal department, whose function shall be the creation of a state marketing system, a state bank and such other industrial activities as may be necessary and desirable.

"The removal of all unjust taxes from productive industry and substitution of a more equitable method of taxation.

"Proportional representation of all elective legislative bodies.

"That the public schools be placed upon a real democratic basis by making school boards representative through proportional representation, and that the object of the schools be to teach democracy rather than to train children merely to be servers of others for profit.

"We hereby declare for the economic and industrial equality of women, together with special protection for the mothers of our future citizens."

Ira C. Gates, who formerly owned a cigar store on Main street, was in the city several days this week. He is now living in Eugene and is connected with a well known insurance company.

RELIGIOUS SURVEY OF LANE COUNTY BEING MADE

Introducing locally a great religious enterprise in which the leading Protestant denominations and men of national prominence are cooperating, the Interchurch World movement has begun a church and community survey of Lane county. A large amount of data will be gathered by trained workers, showing the condition of every church, its needs and methods by which it may be made to function fully and extend its influence into every phase of community life. It is designed not only to make the church a greater power for evangelization, but also to make it an efficient ally to good roads, better farming, wholesome recreation and economic and education improvements—in fact everything making for better and happier conditions for everyone. That a comprehensive program of usefulness may be built up, the survey has been initiated for ascertaining the exact underlying facts of church and community life in the county.

The survey will proceed along lines similar to those followed by the famous Lane county survey of 1913.

The Interchurch World Movement has been called into existence for the purpose of developing a plan whereby the evangelical churches of North America may cooperate in carrying out their educational, missionary and benevolent programs at home and abroad.
