Will of E. I. Korn

I, Earnest Korn, being of sound mind, good health, and in excellent spirits, hereby bequeath to "Shorty Howard our ignoble Frosh; my seat in the back row of section 1, township 19, of Springfield high school assembly hall.

Signed: R. C. Olson, Attorney.

Miss Derflinger (In English V)—
Give the three principle parts of flea.
Myrtle McBee—Flea, tick, bedbug.

Three young ladies were seen marching for West Springfield, loaded with lunch enough for six and a camera. They reported to be searching for pussy willows, but we are curious to know where the lunch went. We saw the girls return, arms loaded with pussy willows, but have been unable to solve the lunch question, unless the girls have extra large appetites.

Emma to storekeeper: I want to buy a quart of oysters.

Storekeeper: We sell them by measure, not by quarts.

Emma: Well, then I want a yard.

1. Frosh! Gee, but they're numerous.

2. Anywhere, everywhere, Frosh.

First pupil: "I wish Columbus had been a Frenchman."

Second pupil: "Why so?"

First pupil: "Because I said so in the exam."

Emma Travis has taken a very strong fancy to some of our new green frosh. Why, just a few minutes ago she was heard to say, "Oh, isn't that little one with the yellow striped sweater on, a darling!"

Some of the new Frosh seem to have a rather bad case of "big-head." We hope it is not contagious, but we'll all agree that they won't feel that way very long. Wait until some of us get started.

Carrie was sitting in the dining room with Ashael and her small sister Hilda. The door leading into the parlor, where the rest of the family were seated was wide open and suddenly they heard Hilda say, "Carrie, kiss me, too. Carrie's wits were certainly in trim order for she replied immediately, "Why, certainly, dear, but you should say twice. Two is not grammar."

In general science, Mr. Roth handing Ashael the desk chair, which has arms on it: "This is generally the best kind of a chair to have when we receive our grades."

Mr. Roth: "How do you account for the phenomenon of dew?"

Pupil: "Well, you see, the earth revolves on its axis every 24 hours and in consequence of this tremendous pace it perspires freely."

A group of the leading S. H. S. boys were sitting around Florence Hill Monday noon, when Charles Girard came up. Deacon Olson, looking up, says: "Well, Chuck, why are you coming over here to sit by Florence?" Charles, blushing replied: "Because the rest are doing it." But we older girls are wondering if Charles always tells the truth. Much is hid in a blush, you know.

As Ellen Tomseth was going to domestic science this afternoon a small boy stepped up and was offered some candy. Of course he accepted it, saying, "I've got three or four brothers and sisters so I'll take enough for them, too."

Teacher: Express this sentence in as few words as possible. Mr. and Mrs. Flood drove up to the house and stopped. Mr. Flood threw down the reins and helped his wife out; then they entered the house.

Pupil: "The reins descended and the floods came."

Mr. Roth: "How was iron first discovered?"

Pupil: "Please, sir, you said yesterday they smelt it."

Poetry.

Mary had a motor, once
T was painted white as snow,
Whenever Mary wanted to go
The motor wouldn't go.

Of all sad words of tongue or pen
The saddest of all—
I've flunked again.

Mid-Terms.

"The mid-terms are over, alas, alack,
But who has the heart to wish them.
Happy are those who passed back?
Many others are cast in woe,
For before them, finals now loom in view.

And for aught they know, they may fall in them, too.

But here's too mid-terms and troubles past.

We heartily wish they were the last."

PERSONALS

The girls basketball game which was to have been played last Friday evening has been indefinitely postponed because of so many contagious diseases in the country.

S. H. S. bids hearty welcome to all the freshmen just entering high school at mid year, and we are sure they will all soon become good H. S. students.

Joe Clark has entered high school again in Springfield.

Miss Vera Senseney visited school Monday morning.

The girls English VI class of the afternoon has a new member, Milton Coffman.

The Lombard girls are out of school on account of smallpox in the family.

If this good weather lasts much longer basketball will have to give way for baseball.

The S. H. S. students who take typing are delighted with the new Royal typewriters which appeared at school last Wednesday.

We are glad to welcome Gladys Smith, sophomore, back to school. She has been absent on account of illness. S. H. S. is very glad to see "Ding" Mulligan back again. He is one of last year's baseball stars.

The English I class extends hearty thanks to Miss Derflinger for her kind thoughtfulness of those who had to take exams.

Mr. Hamlin is teaching algebra instead of Miss Machen.

The French class have a new teacher, Miss Grey although she seems very different from the last one, we like her fine.

The girls English V club when assembled Monday found that because of the absence of Laurel Griffin, president, they were in need of a vice president. The meeting was called to order by the secretary, Grace Basford and Ruth Brattain was elected vice president.

The student body and faculty of the Springfield high school wish to extend their deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Deets and family. The classmates they have lost was one of the most talented of S. H. S. students and was beloved and liked by students and teachers. He was ever ready to take an active part in all enterprises of benefit to others, and his sudden death leaves a deep vacancy in the hearts of his friends.

ATHLETICS

The class game played between the seniors and juniors against the frosh and sophomores, last Friday, resulted in a tie score of 18 to 18.

A fast clean game was played and good sportsmanship was shown by both teams. Although there was not such an enormous number of spectators, those who were there showed excellent ability in rooting, which gave the players more pep, because they knew they had the support of their classmates.

There will be a basketball game between Springfield high school team and Kaira high school Friday, February 6.
