BAILEY MOVES TO CARLTON

Since graduating from high school here in 1915 Mr. Bailey has been attending the University of Oregon, having the rank of senior when he was forced to discontinue his work there a few weeks ago because of illness. He looks but a few hours of graduating, and this he plans to make up through the extension division. He will also take special work at McMinnville college, a Baptist school, while filling the charge at Carlton.

Both during his high school and university career Mr. Bailey has been prominent in debating circles. While in high school he was a member of the team which represented Springfield high school in the state championship debate contest. For two years while in university he made the first varsity team, the first time being selected by merit without a try-out, and the second time taking second place out of the 12 who tried out for places on the team. Both times he was forced to give up the work on account of illness.

He is a member of Cross Roads, an honorary philosophy club at the university, which is composed of seven professors and 14 students from the department of philosophy.

February 29 and March 7 Mr. Bailey filled the pulpit at Carlton. He will ship his household goods the first of next week but will remain to fill out the remainder of the month before taking up his new charge.

With their two children, Wendell and Patricia, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will move to their new charge the first of April.
