FARM REMINDERS

Seasonal Suggestions on Things Often Overlooked, as Seen by the State College.

Animal Husbandry—Progressive cattlemen are beginning to erect dehorning and branding chutes. Plans for a modern chute will be furnished free by the college upon request.

Farm Management—Wheat growers from several sections of the state are urging congress to maintain the minimum guarantee on the price of wheat. To give weight to such desires actual facts are always convincing. Some have found it advisable to keep records to show cost of production and actual farm expenses.

Entomology—Gardeners should supply themselves with calcium arsenate and "Black Leaf 40" to be prepared for the invasion of insects sure to come. The arsenate may be mixed with eight times its bulk of air-slaked lime or sifted ashes or similar dust. A light application to young plants at weekly intervals will largely prevent injury.

Poultry—Poultry raisers are beginning to pick out the best layers in order to secure their eggs for hatching next year's laying stock.

Entomology—Before putting away woollens, furs and other valuable garments for the summer, take precaution against injury while in storage by clothes moths. The materials to be packed away should be hung in the bright sunshine for a few hours, given a good beating and then packed in pasteboard cartons. A handful of naphthalene flakes should be scattered through the folds. After packing away seal the open edges with strips of gum paper.

"VICTORY" BUTTONS READY FOR EX-MARINES AT EUGENE

The Marine Corps recruiting station in Eugene has received a supply of "Victory" buttons to be issued to all ex-marines and marine corps reservists on the inactive status, who served in the world war between the dates of April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, and who enlisted fifteen days prior to the signing of the armistice on November 11, 1918.

Ex-marines and marine corps reservists will bring their discharges personally when requesting "Victory" buttons. Those who cannot call may send discharge by mail, button and discharge will be promptly forwarded.

THINK IT OVER

$35,000,000	$2,000,000
$35,000	$2,000
$3,500	$200
$350	$20

If a man with an assessment of $350 wanted to borrow $20 to improve his condition and earning capacity you would consider him a good business man.

If a man with an assessment of $3,500 wanted to borrow $200 to improve his herd and begin immediately to get increased benefits you would consider him an enterprising stockman.

If a man with an assessment of $35,000 wanted to borrow $2,000 you would consider it a mere trifle, particularly if he asked for not more than one-fourth, or $500 any one year.

LANE COUNTY WITH AN ASSESSED VALUATION OF $35,000,000 PROPOSING TO BORROW $2,000,000 TO EXECUTE A DEFINITE, POSITIVE ROAD BUILDING PROGRAM, IS JUST SUCH A CASE AS THE THREE CITED ABOVE.

Speaking of borrowing money in sums of $2,000,000 doesn't look so big when you take all things into consideration. Old Man Lane, with his $35,000,000 assessment, proposing to borrow $2,000,000 is negotiating no bigger an undertaking than the fellow with $350 assessment proposing to borrow $20.

The man who talks about waiting until he can pay as he goes never goes ahead. Money in the banks is for and used by the progressive men. But little progress is ever made except by the aid of borrowed money which makes resources equal to the demands.

The demand for better roads was never greater than it is right now. Advantage cannot be taken of present prosperous conditions unless the markets of the country are brought in communication with the sources of supply. He who buys is as much a loser as he who has to sell but cannot deliver.

AND THE COST OF MARKETING IS OF IMPORTANCE IN ESTABLISHING PRICES.

When a producer is obliged to create undue expense in getting to market, whether it be in matter of time, motive power or wear and tear, the chances are the loss is borne equally by him and the consumer. If by but one, he cannot last long.
