REMEDY FOR TEACHER
SHORTAGE REVEALED

Each Community in Oregon
Should Know Instructors of Children Today.

In asking the state of Oregon to vote favorably for the two-mill elementary school measure, popularly known as the Children's Rights Bill, the teachers of the state of Oregon are not asking for an increase in salary. They are merely working for a fair and equal distribution of taxes for the support of these basic schools, that the entire state will be taxed and not only the organized school districts, as at present is the case.

The shortage of teachers in Oregon is growing so rapidly that the situation is alarming in the extreme. Last year 100 schools were closed, and in these 100 schools, 230 rooms were closed and close to 4000 pupils were unable to have the instruction that rightly should have been theirs. What was the cause?

It was due entirely to a shortage of teachers. Why? Because the teachers are being underpaid and are leaving the profession for better-paid work. They have to do this. Some day Oregon must come to the rescue of the teacher. Now, it is being asked to save the child, the voter of tomorrow.

Do we want him educated? Sure. Only recently in New York did the question of raising the teachers' salaries come up before the legislature and it was due to a lack of sufficient information as to the extent to which they should be increased, and the ability of communities to pay increases have led the legislative leaders to decide to postpone final revision of the teachers' salary law until another session.

The temporary readjustment of salaries will fix the minimum rate for the rural school teacher at $850, while in the larger country districts the lowest paid elementary teachers will get $900. The minimum in elementary schools in third-class cities will be $1,100 instead of $826 as at present, and that in high schools $1,250 instead of $940. Second-class cities must raise their minimum salary of elementary teachers from $800 to $1,200, and that of high school teachers from $1,600 to $1,400.

In order to prevent New York City draining the adjoining cities of teachers, Yonkers, Mount Vernon, White Plains, and New Rochelle are to be required to pay within $50 of the rates in effect in New York City. Flat increases of $550 over the March 1 rates are mandated upon Syracuse and of $400 on Buffalo and Rochester. These higher salaries will do much to make the teaching service more attractive.

The New York City rates are to be fixed by a committee now at work upon the problem of determining how the city's quota of the direct state tax of 1 1/2 mills—$12,000,000—shall be distributed among more than 24,000 members of the supervising staff. The average increase of $500 would seem small in comparison with the other increases were it not for the fact that the governor last month signed a bill giving the New York City teachers an increase on June 1. Six thousand six hundred and three teachers will receive from 39 to 49 per cent more pay than they received on Dec. 31, 1919, while 6,050 others of a total of 24,123 will have their salaries increased from 50 to 60 per cent. But the minimum salary on June 1 will be only $1,005.

In redrafting the provisions of the state-wide salary bill affecting New York City the joint legislative committee to which the task was assigned has raised this minimum to $1,500 and has so revised other salaries that those grades of the service where the chief shortage of teachers exists shall offer salaries that will attract and hold the best teachers. In no other way can the standards of teaching be maintained, not to say improved.

When the legislative committee reports next year whatever other grades of the service have not received due and proper consideration can be provided for in the general salary increase measure.

SCIENCE MEN CLAIM NO POWER IN THEIR HEALINGS

That no church nor creed has any exclusive claims to Divine Healings as practiced by Christ Jesus, is perhaps best illustrated in the works of three healers now holding attention in so many different parts of the United States. It is true that the mind of the people, following any world upheaval—such as the great war we have gone through—is more ready to believe in an omnipotent power and which makes the faith healing possible. James Moore Hickson of the Protestant Episcopal Church of England came here by his church, has made many healings. Brother Isaiah, connected with no church, but taking the Bible as his authority, is said to have made "miraculous" healings from his little houseboat on the lower Mississippi. While Dr. J. S. Riley, first cousin to the late Hoosier poet, James Whitecomb Riley, has been making healings at Washington, D. C., many members of Congress asking for help. None of the three claim any "Divine Power" in themselves—nor do they consider the healings as "miracles." But the fact is, that humanity is being helped by all three.
