LET THE FARMER OWN THE GAME.

One of the strongest movements in progress in this country today is to make the farmer—the owner of the game on his farm, not the state. As it is at present in most of the United States, the farmer can post his farm against hunters, which is perfectly proper and which nobody wants to change. But as to the game itself, the state claims ownership laws over bird and beast and passes laws against even the farmer killing them on his own land. All of which is doing the game no good. The farmer has no interest in the wild things. The alleged protection laws are not increasing the game.

On the other hand, if the farmer owned the game on his land—mallard duck, teal, goose, pheasant, quail, deer and the like—and could kill them for his table and to sell as food, he would make pretty sure that they were protected. He would exterminate their vermin enemies, keep off game butchers, and more important than all, he would provide his game with food and even shelter on the few desperate occasions in the winter when they die in enormous numbers from starvation.

The farmer would soon find that his ownership of the increasing game on his land meant not only a better table for himself but money in his pocket. He or his boys would begin to breed game in large numbers to sell to the townspeople.

Briefly, this whole movement is intended to restock this country with game birds. There seems to be no doubt that the farmer's ownership and self-interest care of such birds would increase their numbers mightily everywhere—everywhere because wild birds do not all stay at one place.

FOREST FACTS FOR OREGON

At a conservative estimate Oregon's four hundred and fifty billion feet of standing timber is worth $500,000,000 on the stump. Harvested and cut into lumber, its value is increased twenty-fold and becomes ten billion dollars.

Oregon's timber pays a large part of the State's taxes—in some counties the bulk of them. The logging and milling of her timber supports the largest payroll of any industry in the State.

Oregon's sawmills cut two and two thirds billion board feet of lumber in 1918. With proper protection logging, and restocking, these forests

Oregon's forests will provide labor for a large army of sturdy woodsmen for an indefinite period if properly taken care of. They will furnish the raw material for the construction of houses, furniture, utensils of various sorts, musical instruments, and conveyances such as ships, cars, airplanes; and keep the wheels steadily turning in many wood-using industries, bringing prosperity not only to her own citizens but to her neighbors as well.

PIES and PASTRIES

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

CHEER up! There is no further reason for worrying about table variety. The new Royal Cook Book gives new suggestions for every meal every day. The book is so full of surprises there will never be another dull meal in the home. Here are a few suggestions from the new Royal Cook Book.

Plain Pastry

This recipe is for one large pie with top and bottom crust

- 2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
- 1/2 cup shortening
- cold water

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder; add shortening and rub in very lightly with tips of fingers (the less it is handled the better the paste will be). Add cold water very slowly, enough to hold dough together (do not work or knead dough). Divide in halves; roll out one part thin on floured board and use for bottom crust. After pie is filled roll out other part for top.

Rich Pastry

- 2 cups pastry flour
- 1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- cold water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add one-half shortening and rub in lightly with fingers; add water slowly until of right consistency to roll out. Divide in halves; roll out one half thin; put on in small pieces half remaining shortening; fold upper and lower edges in to center; fold sides in to center, fold sides to center again; roll out thin and put on pie plate. Repeat with other half for top crust.

Apple Pie

- 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 4 apples, or 1 quart sliced apples
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon milk

Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add shortening and rub in very lightly; add just enough cold water to hold dough together. Roll half out on floured board, line bottom of pie plate; fill in apples, which have been washed, pared and cut into thin slices; sprinkle with sugar; flavor with cinnamon or nutmeg; wet edges of crust with cold water; roll out remainder of pastry; cover pie, pressing edges lightly together and bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.
