HARDING A FRIEND OF THE FARMER

Warren G. Harding is a friend of the farmer. As a boy he helped cut sixty-cent wheat. He knew it to sell for forty cents a bushel. He followed the cradle and sweat behind the reaper. His speech to the Minnesota farmers shows a familiarity and a sympathy with farm problems. The attempt to prejudice American farmers against him by a garbled statement that he is in favor of dollar wheat for the farmer has failed.

Senator Harding says himself: "No public servant from the great wheat-raising state of Ohio would dare to think much less to say he believed in dollar wheat amid the price wildness which the world is contemplating today."

"I know I spoke the truth when I said some years ago that Ohio farmers, in the normal days before the war, rejoiced to raise dollar wheat."

That statement had no reference to the present after war period. Conditions as well as prices have changed since I made that perfectly natural and truthful statement and other great and important changes are in contemplation and no misrepresentation is necessary to bring them about.

Senator Harding is opposed to price fixing for farm products. He does not favor the fixing of the price of wheat for the northern farmer while the southern planter, favored by the oligarchy which has been in control of the government for seven years, is allowed sky-high prices for his cotton.

He favors larger representation of the farmer in national affairs and the right of farmers to form co-operative associations for the marketing of their products.

He pledges the Republican party to a scientific study of agricultural prices and farm production costs, both at home and abroad with a view to reducing the frequency of abnormal fluctuations here.

He opposed ill-considered efforts

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

II

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

III

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

IV

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cord.

to reduce living costs by arbitrarily fixing prices of farm products while leaving the speculator and profiteer unchecked.

Instead of the opposing of the Federal Farm Loan act, as charged in the Democratic propaganda, he favors the administration of the farm loan act so as to help men who farm to secure farms of their own and to give them the long-time credit.

Mr. Harding also favors the formation of associations to furnish personal credit to the man, whether land-owner or tenant, who is cramped for lack of working capital. This is a step in advance—a constructive measure to aid the farm laborer and tenant to secure their "place in the sun."

He believes in protecting the American farmer from the competition of cheap land and cheap labor of foreign countries. In other words Mr. Harding believes that agriculture is the great basic industry. He believes a prosperous agriculture means a prosperous country. He believes farm and factory are linked together in the economic fabric of American life.

This is his spirit: "We want to greet the farmers of America in the freedom and fullness of farming productivity, impelled by the assurance that they are to have their full part in the righteous rewards of righteous American activity."
