In Society

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of Miss Roberta May Wilson to Charles Allen Stewart at high noon, Wednesday, October 20, at the home of Mr. Stewart's sister, Mrs. J. H. Seavey in Eugene.

To the strains of Lohengrin's march, played by Miss Jean McKenzie, and attended by Hazel and Holly, the small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Seavey, the couple took their place in a room beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Stivers of the Eugene Christian church, using the ring service.

The bride wore an attractive gown of white satin with a net overdress and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, carnations and violets.

After the ceremony a three course wedding luncheon was served in the dining room. The bridal couple left on the 1:50 train for San Francisco and other California points where they will spend a two week's honeymoon.

For the present they will make their home on Hop Island ranch of Mr. Seavey's. In the spring Mr. Stewart plans to build on their farm on the Willamette river.

Mrs. Stewart is a daughter of Mrs. F. R. Wilson of Springfield and was a popular student at the high school last winter. Mr. Stewart is a son of Mrs. Harrier Stewart of Eugene and is well known and liked in Springfield.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seavey, guests at the wedding were the mothers of the bride and groom and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Wilson, a brother of the bride.

ASTHMA HAY FEVER

Or Throat and Lung Trouble CAN BE CURED

We can cure any skin disease. Don't be a skeptic: come and see for yourself.

Why suffer, when you can get results—we kill the germs.

We prevent sickness by inhaling the fumes produced by the destructive distillation of hydro carbons, and electricity, combined with medicines.

We always fumigate the house before we lift a quarantine, why not fumigate the body also? It can be done at the Electro Medicated Inhalatorium.

Sunday closing of Picture Shows
Seven years ago this question was placed before the voters of Springfield and snowed under.

The question has been hashed and rehashed and to rake out old arguments is unnecessary. We must not look at the emotional side of the question alone. Yet ingrained in every American, born or naturalized, is the desire for free speech and freedom of choice.

Springfield is a mill town. And with this let us consider the effect on the liberty and pleasure of the mill workers. Sunday is our day of recreation. We do not own cars and can't take trips like many who favor closing on Sunday. Closing the shows will not send men to church, which appears to me to be an effort to legislate people into the church. I go to church and still enjoy the movies on Sunday.

Another question: are we, as a city, progressive?

We now have too many vacant buildings in Springfield. We certainly do not want more, which is my impression, gained from observing the attendance of the picture house on week days, would occur if the house must be closed on Sundays.

Your Teeth

(By Rea Procter McGee, M.D. D.D.S.)

CHEWING

When a Frenchman has a deformity of the jaw that throws his chin over to one side, the French doctor says he has the face of the "village chancier". Have you noticed the tendency of amateur singers to spoil an otherwise good performance by singing out of the corner of the mouth or by twisting the face in a displeasing manner? This face distortion is not necessarily confined to singers; we all do it to some extent. The reason is nearly always to be found in the mouth. Yesterday I broke a tooth and ever since I have drawn my lip down to try to hide the spot. Our natural inclination is to try to hide any infirmity, particularly when it is new. If the cause of this effort is not removed, the cover-up act will become a habit that will remain long after the original reason for its use will have been forgotten.

If a tooth becomes tender or the surrounding gum becomes inflamed, the bolus of food that is to be chewed will unconsciously be shifted to a spot that is more nearly normal. This results in the rapid progress of tartar formation upon the teeth in the whole unused area. Soft foods and mucus will join the tartar so that presently a vile tasting and smelling mass, seething with bacteria is permanently located in the waiting room of the main station of the route between your dinner table and your stomach. In addition to being contaminated when this condition is present, the food is only partly chewed. When a habit in chewing is formed that is not normal, the contour of the face is always altered and the facial expression is changed. This is because some of the muscles of the face, which are also muscles of mastication, are not doing their proper share of the work, so they atrophy, which means, grow smaller. Some of the face muscles have more than their usual amount of work to do, so they grow larger. With one side of your face growing smaller and one side growing larger, it doesn't take much of an architect to figure out the fact that you will have a crooked face if you don't chew right. You cannot chew right unless your mouth is healthy.
