ATHLETES START TRAINING FOR BASKETBALL

Notice! Basket Ball Men, Notice! Basketball will start early this season. Arrangements are being made for a hall and the boys are training already. The manual training room at the Lincoln building will be remodeled and enlarged for this purpose. About $200 will be spent to start the S. H. S. athletics this year and we want every one to attend the games and cheer for S. H. S.

Comical Comics Coming

The freshmen class will entertain the rest of the students next month with a play. We sincerely hope that every comedian in the frosh class has a chance to exhaust some of the comical stuff he has been trying to peddle around the school since we opened in September.

"DOGGONE THOSE FELLOWS," SAY FRESHMEN

"Doggone those fellows," is the freshmen slogan; its slightly weird and long drawn out, but it contains the right idea. They have doubtless accepted this slogan on account of its frequent application about the school; for instance, the other day some frosh were surrounded by the walls of the wood shed, with the aid of some kind upper classmen. And as in ye days of old, when barons dark and bold used to seize the castles, likewise did the noble frosh, with this difference, they besieged it from within. Chic McPherson led the noble band (of frosh) an in it by inch they battered down the doors, wild with anxiety to get out and let the gentle water of the pump trickle down their noble brows so it was, "Doggone those fellows!"

A few eyes ago some "rambunchers" juniors, with high ambitions to do something heroic in the eyes of the frosh, risked life and happiness to climb up to the top of the lofty bicycle shed which carves its form in the skyline in the high school district and painted "22" on its crest. Agai we hear, now and then, from all corners of the study hall, the scraping voice of a frosh, "Doggone those fellows!"

SAYS OREGON LOOKS

MIGHTY GOOD TO HIM
 After an absence of five years C. Ray Lamar returned to Springfield Sunday to visit with his parents, Mr.

and Mrs. C. R. Lamar. Mr. Lamar, who has been making his home in Minneapolis for the last five years, says that "Oregon and the Willamette valley certainly looks good to me." While he lived for a number of years during his boyhood at Medford he stills calls Springfield his home and is glad to return for a visit. After a stay of a week here he will go on to California where he will visit relatives in San Jose and Los Angeles.

Freshmen girls,—

Please remember that there are several other students who enjoy using the school mirror, besides yourself.

How They Ask!

Frosh.—"Please, ma'am, I did not understand the question."

Soph.—"Give me the question again."

Junior—"I don't get you."

Senior—"Huh?"

The Junior and Senior Girls' Song

My Bonnie lies under the auto,
 My Bonnie swears under the car,
 Please send to the garage for some one.
 For 'tis lonesome up here where I am.

A Good Motto

Turn failure into victory;
 Don't let your courage fail,
 And if you get a lemon,
 Just make the lemon aid!

Courage, Freshmen!

If you're a freshman green and new,
 And everybody laughs at you,
 Just hold up your head and keep quite cool.
 And go about as though you own the school;
 Talk and laugh with all the rest,
 Just be cheerful and do your best;
 Try to smile when you get blue,
 And take the teacher's scoldings too;
 Stick by your lessons all through the day,
 And don't turn around to whisper and play;
 Get your Latin, and your English, too,
 And don't give up, but just go through;
 Keep out of trouble with the rest,
 Show your "pep" and do your best;
 And if you keep up at this rate,
 You'll soon be a senior and graduate.

—Dorothy Anderson.

Teacher: "What does A. D. stand for?"
 Frosh (after pondering for a while): "I don't know but maybe it means 'after dark'."

Teacher: "What period in history was the hardest?" Stone age.

Must Be

Neighbor: "Your son Vern is pursuing his studies in high school isn't he?"

Mr. Kief: "I guess so, he's always behind."

Latest Excuse

Farmer: "Hey there! How come ye to be in my apple tree?"

Student: "Please mister, I fell out of an airplane."

In Algebra

Mrs. Carpenter: (after a lengthy explanation) "Now we get X equals O."

M. S.: "Gee, all that work for nothing."

Father: "Well, my son, what did you learn in school today?"

Son: "The names of all the girls." Something has happened to the fifth period science class as they assembled very quietly last Monday. "Teacher" is said to be slowly recovering from the shock.

The favorite expression of the science class is, "It should have, but it didn't."

In English V Class

Miss Derflinger: "Bring paper and pencil to class tomorrow as we are going to have an examination."

Junior Girl's Motto

I love its giddy gurgle,
 I love its ebb and flow,
 I love to wind my tongue up
 And then let it go.

TEACHER'S THEORY

Little mouse, naughty mouse,
 One night went a-hunting.
 Away from papa's lordly call
 And mamma's plaintive squealing;
 Like other creatures roaming out,
 And caring naught for trouble,
 Little mouse found its cheese
 Inside a wire bundle.
 High school students placed it there
 To learn the physiology
 Of any mouse that happened near,
 And take notes in biology;
 But mischief got the upper hand
 Of those student's good intentions.
 Their game near burst every gland
 Eating teacher's rationals!

The sophomores called a meeting Monday evening after school in Mrs. Carpenter's room. The meeting was called to order and Margaret McElhaney was elected club reporter. A committee was selected to look for a play for the sophomores' entertainment.

The class chose violets to be their flower. Violets are small but very sweet.

Will your story make us laugh? Send it in.

Never mind about your style,
 If it's worth the while,
 And will make the reader smile
 Send it in!

Your Teeth

(By Red Procter McGee, M.D., D.D.S.)

FIRST STAGE OF THE DECAY OF THE TEETH

If your knife and fork, spoon, plate, cup and saucer were left from one meal to another without thorough washing, you would change your boarding house.

But why so particular about outside matters unless you thoroughly cleanse your own mouth after each meal?

When food is allowed to pack between and around the teeth, caries, or decay, as it is commonly called, gets a good start. The packed food decomposes and ferments, this makes the bacteria happy so they all move in.

As the bacteria gets settled upon the enameled surface of the teeth, they cover themselves with a coating called a gelatinous plaque. Under this protective covering the bacteria grow unless they are removed by thorough cleansing.

Decay of the teeth, caries, is a disease just the same as tuberculosis or measles is a disease. In this disease the hardest tissue of the body is attacked.

The bacteria of decay are really tiny plants. They live and die as other plants do and when they die, they decompose and ferment, forming an acid. This acid, in its fresh state, will dissolve the enamel of the tooth a very little at a time at first, but the further in the bacteria get, the more rapidly they work.

The enamel of the teeth is not sensitive. It is composed entirely of the salts of lime, shaped into microscopic rods that are bound together by a natural cement. The rods all point toward the center, like the bricks in an arch. Enamel is the armor plate of a tooth; when the decay gets through the armor it reaches the ends of the tiny fibres from the nerve that radiates through the body of the tooth.

It is here that you get that first sharp pain that tells there is trouble ahead, trouble that only one person can stop. Don't delay. Your teeth are too valuable.

"A GOOD PROVIDER"

When it comes to being a "good provider," no man would pride himself on furnishing trash liberally for his family. The family is entitled to good, wholesome food that helps growth.

It is the same with reading. Good reading pleases and creates its own hunger for more good reading. The Youth's Companion is the best of reading for all—every member—every age.

And it comes every week—crowded with the best. Let us prove it with a sample.

The Youth's Companion has long since ceased to provide for "Youth" alone. It has become the favorite all-the-family weekly of America.

Still $2.50 for a year of 52 issues, but this price not guaranteed beyond January 1, next.

New subscribers for 1921 will receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1921.

GRIP

Grip usually starts just the same as a cold with a watery discharge from the nose. You are much more likely to contract the grip when you have a cold. For that reason when grip is prevalent you should go to bed as soon as you feel that you are taking cold and stay in bed until fully recovered which should not be long if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Three days in bed now is better than three weeks later on.
