Heber H. Votaw, brother-in-law of the president and superintendent of federal prisons, making a tour of inspection in the west, got to McNell Island prison just in time to see Roy Gardner perform one of his daring prison escape feats. He probably had not been informed that it had been set for that day.

It has been said that the defense, in the Brumfield trial, have planned to seat Mrs. Brumfield and her children in plain view of the jury, as an indirect appeal to its sympathy; and that the prosecution, as an offset, are going to seat an uncle of Dennis Russell, a man over 100 years old, in an advantageous position.

While the sheriff of Baker county and all his force were watching a circus parade go by, one day last week, two prisoners got out of jail and made their escape. Better have brought the prisoners out to see the parade and then they could have been in sight.

An examination of Dr. Brumfield by a physician, a few days ago, developed the fact that he had an inflamed appendix. It was decided, however, not to have an operation, at least until after his trial. Then it may not be necessary.

Figures from the Pueblo area where the Red Cross still is engaged in the task of restoring the life of the community show that the total number of persons made homeless by the flood to be 7,351. There were 739 owners of homes who were affected by the flood and the total number of homes completely destroyed is placed at 463. The total number of homes damaged or destroyed, including properties owned and rented, is placed at 2,318.

WORLD FAIR PLANS ARE TO BE PROMOTED TODAY

Oregon's 1925 exposition will be given its state wide significance, when a conference of representatives of every county in the state will be held in the Multnomah hotel in Portland on September 8. Governor Olcott has reverted back to the war days in the selection of the committee, believing that those leaders in each county who so successfully served to place Oregon to the forefront in all Liberty Loan and other war works, would be best adapted to devise ways and means for financing the great Oregon exposition. In addition to calling for the cooperation of the war leaders in each county, the governor has increased the number of counsellors at the meeting by requesting several state-wide organizations to send three delegates each.

All the preliminary work in building up the foundation for the exposition organization was done by the people of Portland, but as soon as congress passed the bill authorizing the exposition and it was signed by President Harding, thus giving the exposition the governmental recognition which insured its success, Governor Olcott acted upon a pre-termined plan to have some of the best brains in the state get together and put in effect an efficient cooperative plan which would provide the finances necessary for the successful building up of the exposition.

The meeting of September 8 will determine the financial scope of the exposition and the best means for raising the money; it doubtless will endeavor to provide a means by which every hamlet, village, town and city in the state will have its part in the exposition, that every section of the state may be represented in the undertaking, the greatest movement in the history of Oregon for the cementing of the interests of the state in a grand plan for its exploitation.

L. L. Goodrich is the representative of Lane county, appointed by the governor.

The appointees, during the recent war, were chairmen of the liberty loan committees of their respective counties.

In addition to the delegates there will be three representatives of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, the Farmers' Union, the State Grange, the Taxpayers' League, and County Judges' Association.

Julius L. Meyer, general chairman of the exposition and the acting board of directors has requested Governor Olcott to preside at the sessions of the state-wide committee. Mr. Meyer and his associates will entertain the delegates at luncheon for which over two hundred covers will be laid.

HINT TO CAMPERS

When you leave that campfire, brother
Put it out!
It is apt to breed another—
Put it out!
Forest fires start from little
When the woods are dry and brittle,
So when you remove the kittle
Put it out!

Don't leave one spark to smolder—
Put it out!
One small spark will soon grow bolder
Put it out!
One small spark may prove a whale;
There, when you hit the trail,
Down it with the water pail—
Put it out!

No Substitute Offered.

Say what you will about the druggists offering something "just as good" because it pays a better profit, the fact still stands that ninety nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, when the best medicine for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know from what their customers say of it, that it can be depended upon.

PORTLAND COLLEGE CHANGES HANDS

It will be of interest to our readers to know that Holmes Business college, Portland's oldest and one of the best known schools on the Pacific coast, has recently changed hands. The new owners are C. V. Crumley, president of the Crumley business college, of Tacoma, and Charles F. Walker, formerly secretary of the International business college of Indiana.

Mr. Crumley will be president of the Portland school also, and the name will be changed to Crumley Business College. For some time to come, Mr. Crumley will devote practically his entire time to the Portland school, establishing and placing it on the same plane of efficiency and high

Mr. Walker will be secretary of the new school, and will have charge of the bookkeeping and accounting departments. He was formerly president and organizer of the Indiana State Accountants' association, and brings to the school, a valuable experience in accounting and the training of young people for this work.

"Young people want and are entitled to the best business education we can give them," says Mr. Crumley. "We have built up a wonderful institution in Tacoma on a firm basis of 'He Profits Most Who Serves Best'. In connection with our Tacoma school, we conduct a large employment bureau, free to all who are qualified. We expect to make this service a feature in our other schools as rapidly as they are established. Broad minded, thorough, business men and women instructors are employed in every department, and the student is sent out a booster for the institution that can give him an education so cheaply that the entire cost of it can be earned back in a month or two after he is qualified."

CRANBERRY INDUSTRY IS A FINANCIAL SUCCESS

The cranberry is the only fruit grown in the United States whose course of travel is from east to west. Realizing that this state is a fruit-producing state, men of broad vision in the district at the mouth of the Columbia river entered the cranberry game and have developed it to such an extent that at the present time it is supplying a great many of the cranberries used on the Pacific coast, but there are still berries shipped in from the east.

Land that was considered waste has been made productive. The total investment in land and improvements in the district amounting to a million dollars.

The cranberry industry on the Pacific coast, while new, already occupies a firm place among the horticultural industries of the Northwest.

Berries of very fine quality are grown in Oregon and Washington, in the district at the mouth of the Columbia river. Here is a great frost free zone, with abundant rainfall, having a climate admirably adapted to the growing of cranberries.

Picking will commence the second week in September and will extend over a period of four to six weeks. Many people are attracted to this district by the fact that they can earn good wages picking cranberries, and at the same time, enjoy the mild weather of the Oregon coast climate in September.

To the rule that the Oregon fruit is the best grown anywhere, the cranberry is no exception. It is a very luscious and well flavored fruit which has made a great impression where ever introduced. There is a prejudice in some quarters in favor of the eastern berry. This is due more to habit than reason. The cranberry grows on the east shores of the United States is indeed a wonderful fruit, but the cranberry grown on the Pacific coast is of equally good quality and requires less sugar when put up. The industry is well organized and the fruit is marketed cooperatively. Berries will appear on the markets shortly after the picking season is completed.

The cranberry association of the coast are urging the purchase of the cranberries by the house wife early on account of the fact that there is a shrinkage in berries as the season progresses, and the thrifty housewife, by making an early purchase, saves just that much. Cranberries canned early in October taste just as good on Christmas day as cranberries cooked on Christmas eve.

The Ideal Purgative.

As a purgative, Chamberlain's Tablets are the exact thing required. Strong enough for the most robust, mild enough for children. They cause an agreeable movement of the bowels without any of that terrible griping. They are easy and pleasant to take and agreeable in effect.
