COLLEGE DAIRY HERDS WIN MANY HIGH HONORS

The 34 dairy animals now on exhibit at the state fair from the O. A. C. experiment station herds recently won 45 prizes at the Montana state fair. They also made a number of winnings at the Spokane international and at the Washington state fair, held in Yakima last week.

Four dairy breeds—Jersey, guernsey, holstein and Ayrshire—are represented in the college showing. They are mostly young stock, and were fitted for the show ring under the direction of C. J. Pollock, college herdsman. They have to be used by students in learning to judge, and by the instructors in demonstrating desirable types. In this way they are driven back and forth frequently from corral to judging pavilion, making it difficult to keep them at their best for show purposes.

Each of the seven Jerseys won a prize, and two groups, calf herd and get of sire, took money.

Five of the six guernseys won prizes and took places in three groups including get of sire and produce of dam. One bull won the grand championship over all comers.

Each of the 10 holsteins took money while the herd groups won seven prizes. A grand championship and a junior championship were among the honors.

Eight of the eleven ayrshires got inside the money, and prizes were taken by get of sire herd, produce of dam, exhibitors' young herd and breeders' calf herd.

The stock at the Oregon fair is in charge of Pollock, assisted by dairy students. The station herds are of the very largest station herds in the United States, and shows the longest line of registered ancestry to demonstrate ideals and methods of breeding.

RAIN HINDERS PRUNE DRYING

Prune drying operations have been hindered by rains which have slowed up picking and other work connected with the harvest. Remembering the losses and difficulties encountered last year when rains spoiled so much of the crop, prune growers were doing everything in their power to hurry the drying last week and were rapidly bringing the drying into full swing when the wet spell came on.

It is strongly hoped that losses from rains would not be encountered this season for the crop is far below normal and the grower needs good returns this year.

Marketing prospects appear to be very bright and it is expected that difficulty will be experienced in meeting the demand for Oregon prunes this year.

Owing to the light loads on most of the orchards, the few prunes on the trees have developed splendidly and men who have studied the crop carefully estimate that from 50 to 60 per cent of the prunes will be in the 30-40 class this year. Tests on prunes that have already been dried show that many of them are running 30 to the pound.

The prunes have a high sugar content and are of especially fine quality.

Notes on shipments of dried prunes for assembly and packing have been granted by the Southern Pacific. The new schedule will apply to all points in Oregon on the S. P. lines and will be nearly a 50 per cent reduction over the old tariff. This concession was brought about through the efforts of C. L. Smith, traffic manager of the association, and the benefit will be general to all packers in the state.

Special rates on fruit shipments to Seattle and nearby points have also been obtained through the efforts of the association. These will apply to several shipping points in the Willamette valley, and will mean a saving of about 10 per cent on all shipments from the points.

OREGON MINT INDUSTRY IS GIVEN BIG BOOST

The mint industry in Oregon is leaning up favorably according to Dean Adolph Zulte of the agricultural college school of pharmacy, who as one of the directors of the Oregon mint growers cooperative association has inspected practically all the mint plants in the Willamette valley. He found that with the exception of plants on high and dry land the start

MONEY PAID TO GROWERS

Recent payments to growers on fruit pools of the Oregon Growers Cooperative association amount to more than $100,000. Prune growers have received a second advance of approximately $75,000, and loganberry growers have been advanced one and one half cents a pound on their deliveries to the association.

Payment of 4 cents a pound on gooseberries has been made as fast as money is coming in on sales, it is being advanced to the grower. The pears in the Willamette and Umpqua valleys were sold for cash, $65 for No. 1s and $35 for No. 2s and a large part of this money will soon be available for distribution to growers.

The association is following out the policy of making payments on the fruit pools as fast as there is enough money in the pool to warrant distribution, each grower receiving the same amount per pound or per ton for his deliveries.

of peppermint and the yield of oil exceeded the average for the last five years. The highest yield reported was in the district of Brooks, Oregon, in the Lake Labish country, where the yield averaged from 70 to 80 pounds of oil an acre. Because of the success in peppermint culture in this section it is expected that the average will be greatly increased next year.

Tests are being made on the extracted mint hay for its food value. Because of the high quality of Oregon peppermint oil it is proposed to erect a purification plant in order that only the purified oil may be sent east from the state. Tests are now being made to determine the content of menthol and menthyl acetate, and from the preliminary tests which have been made the oil will be suitable for the manufacture of gum, candy, medicinal remedies, and for other purposes. Oregon peppermint oil has been tested by practical candymakers who report that because of its high quality it requires less to obtain the desired flavor than oils from other sections of the country.

"In Land of the Blind a One-Eyed Man is King!"

And in the land of blue Spectacles the man-who-does is King. You are not lost in the woods until you give up all believe yourself lost.

There is no such thing as losing your business. You lose your head and loss of business follows inevitably.

Don't sit down and wait for boom times. Start a little personal boom of your own. Slack times are ideal for doing a thousand-and-one little things neglected when the going was good. Why not do the "little" thing now?

The man who says it is no use, anticipates it, is the one who will have to pay his share of profits to the man-who-does, because he is the man-who-does, writes Sugarman's Indicator.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well fed, but thin, spare men, who live on slender diet. Be as careful as he is, however, a man past middle age should occasionally eat too much or of one article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to a ripe old age.
