FARM REMINDERS

Farmers changing from the blue-stone method of seed wheat treatment to the formaldehyde method should sow 20 per cent less than usual. The formaldehyde treatment has been found to kill less seed than blue-stone used without hose water—O. A. C. Experiment station.

Peach growers are advised to use Bordeaux to spray with Bordeaux 1-1-50 in the summer or early fall in order to prevent the destructive winter attack of peach blight. This disease is responsible for more peach orchard destruction in Oregon than any other single cause but it can easily be controlled by Bordeaux applied at the right time providing every twig and bud are covered. The spray should be used for cankered pear trees—O. A. C. Experiment station.

Corn in many instances was checked in growth by early frost. This will probably result in short seed supply for next year hence farmers should endeavor to save their own whenever possible. When the corn is still in the field, select ears from healthy stalks in full till where the stand is normal. No ears should be taken from fallen or leaning stalks as these may have root rot. Ears will matured ears having fine, deep kernels that are medium rough. All ears should be dried as promptly as possible—O. A. C. Experiment station.

Many vegetables during October require attention for storing and possibly for seed selection, which should be done before the heavy rains come. Some of the important crops that should be stored are onions, squash, and potatoes. The dry spell during the latter part of September has cured the onions well for storage—O. A. C. Experiment station.

Orchardists who have not sprayed for anthracnose should do so at once. When spraying is done thoroughly so that every twig is covered little infection will result. Bordeaux mixtures 4-4-50. To make this dissolve 4 pounds copper sulphate in water and shake 4 pounds of quick lime into one gallon in the spray tank and then add the other and fill up to 50 gallons. When a large quantity is needed make up a stock solution and dilute as needed. Full directions for mixing Bordeaux can be had free of charge by writing to the Department of Horticulture, O. A. C. Experiment station.

TILE DRAINAGE EXPLAINED

Results of investigations on spacing, depth and capacity of drain tiles, with other useful information on putting in tiling systems on Oregon wet lands, are ready for the farmer who has wet tracts to be drained. The results are published in experiment station bulletin No. 174, Farm Drainage, ready for free distribution. "Much of the wet lands is near transportation and has long growing seasons, drainage being the only factor lacking to make it productive and profitable," says W. L. Powers, chief of soils at the college and joint author with Ward Cretcher of the bulletin. "With the present reduced cost of materials and the surplus of labor this is the most favorable time to install drainage. Land owners who put in tiling this year are adding permanent improvements to their property while at the same time providing needed employment." The run-off data on four typical Oregon streams is of value to drainage and highway engineers.

"PUNKINS" ORIGINAL "HUN HUND" HAS ARRIVED IN CITY

Guaranteed to detect wieners and sauer kraut at a distance of 10 miles, "Punkins," the only war dog that has an honorable discharge from the United States army, has arrived in the city with the Elks carnival. "Punkins" served 4 months overseas with the 27th Engineers, spent nine months in the front line trenches, went over the top three times at Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne, and was gassed in the latter battle on September 28, 1918. "Punkins" who has pointed out many a German sniper for his buddies, who has called at the courts of Europe and been fussed by society women and street urchins, and whose picture hangs in President Harding's study in the White House, has arived in Eugene for inspection. "Punkins" has an honorable discharge paper and a victory medal to show that he wasn't a slacker in wartime.

The dog belongs to Sergeant Hall, formerly of the 27th Engineers, who with Arthur J. Judd, of the Rainbow division, First Savage of the Sixth Division, and "Bobby" Bundy of the 24th Heavy Artillery, all wounded veterans, are putting on a war relic exhibition. This exhibit is said to be one of the largest of its kind in America—Eugene Guard.

James Laxton returned home, Tuesday evening, from Portland, where he had been on federal grand jury service.

The people of the Camp Creek Methodist church have been giving the church building and grounds a general clean-up, and are preparing to paint the building.

David Morris died at the Sprague hospital October 9, aged 67 years. Funeral services were held in Walker's chapel Tuesday morning by Rev. Harry Nest. The interment was at Laurel Hill cemetery. Mr. Morris conducted a livery stable here some years ago.

John B. Shelton, of Bandon, died October 8 at the home of G. A. Burgess, northeast of Springfield where he had been a guest for the past month, aged 71. The body was shipped from Walker's parlors to Coquille, where the funeral was to be held Tuesday.

Mrs. Lucina Tozier died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Corona Smith, on west E street, in this city, Monday morning, aged 66 years. The remains were prepared for burial by W. F. Walker, and shipped to Coquille, where she was to be buried.

the years to come, to fill well the places they are called to fill, rather than those whose thoughts are fixed too much on green caps pink-tinted cheeks, the correct gait for students of 1921-22 or the high school or college slang.

Meeting to be held at Delta, Oct. 13-14 and 15 for the purpose of interesting people in the six western states of Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming and Utah in a general development and promotion plan. Will undertake advertising campaign, to seek outlet for western products and establish markets.

To Gain a Good Reputation.

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you appear. That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturer has been fully up to the high standard of excellence claimed for it. People have found that it can be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well-fed but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to a ripe old age.
