A SUGGESTED CHANGE

Two men were tried in a Lane county court within the last few days on charges of manslaughter in shooting at what they supposed to be game animals, and killing men. Both were acquitted. It is hardly worth while to moralize on these occurrences. But here is about where they seem to leave us: when such an accident is reported, nineteen out of twenty men will severely condemn the man who was responsible for the mischief. But when twelve of them are put on a jury, they cannot be depended upon to enforce a law which calls for the punishment of the act they were so ready to condemn.

Possibly to recognize the offense as a punishable one, but to take it out of the category of murders, and change the character of the punishment, might (?) secure the enforcement of such a modified law.

A masked man with a revolver climbed aboard a Santa Fe mail train as it was approaching Kansas City, last Friday morning, disarmed the man in charge of the registered mail pouches, and compelled him to bind his six companions. Then he spent an hour in examining the contents of eight mail sacks, selected what he wanted and got off the train. In the excitement of the occasion, the clerks forgot to ask him for a statement of the amount of his findings, so the associated press report lacked that important item.

It is estimated that about $3,500,000,000 in gold is now held in the United States, 35 or 40 per cent of all there is in the world. Most of this vast accumulation results from the liquidation of the debts of foreign nations, accruing during or following the war. But when did you last see a piece of that gold, friend?

A WOMAN ADMINISTRATOR

Women in general can make a dollar go farther than a man, and a certain type of women can make more dollars go.

In one western state a woman has made a 10-year record as administrator equalled by very few men in handling a public institution.

This woman conducts a large dormitory at the Oregon state normal school and has made it pay and earn good money.

Students get better board and room than most hotels furnish, for $7.00 a week, including light, heat, baths, laundry and gymnasium.

Many of them earn their way by doing work at fair pay by the hour and each year the dormitory earns about ten thousand dollars surplus. Last year Miss Todd built a beautiful ful English colonial style cottage and furnished it out of her profits, that houses twenty-eight students. All equipments from blankets to table-lamps are of the best. The best bread is baked daily for less than three cents a loaf. The kitchen is supplied with the most modern machinery, such as meat grinders, vegetable cutters, bread molders, dish washers and electric oven.

Instead of being a burden upon the taxpayers Miss Todd pays her own way, gives 100 per cent service and any state might be proud to have as efficient a person for governor.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday morning theme: "A Study in Christian Science". If you are interested in this subject, come to this service. It will do you good. A conscientious, conservative study of a great subject.

There will be some interesting questions to be answered in the evening. What is baptizing for the dead? If God is spirit, how can He be in all space? How may I know I am a Christian? Why Satan?

If there are any questions concerning the Bible or the Christian religion, bring them to the service. The pastor will be glad to consider them.

Theme for the evening service: "The Great Refuge." Sunday school 10 a. m. If you are not attending any Sunday school we would be glad to welcome you to this school. Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

You will be cordially welcomed at any of these services.

LUMBER PRODUCING CENTER IS NOW IN NORTHWEST

Portland, Ore., Nov. 7.—The 1920 lumber cut for Washington and Oregon, according to data recently given out by the forest service offices here, shows a decided increase over a previous year. Washington's cut shows an increase of 11 per cent while Oregon's shows a 29 per cent increase over the 1919 cut. Washington led all the states in total cut for 1920, with 5,525,000,000 feet board measure, with Oregon taking second place for the first time with 3,317,000,000 feet, Louisiana ranking third and California in fifth place.

The lumber cut of the United States as a whole in 1920 was 33,798,800,000 feet, which is 2.2 per cent less than in 1919, and 27 per cent less than the peak in 1907.

The average price of lumber at the mill increased to $38.42 per thousand, which is a rise of 150 per cent since 1910. The aggregate value of the cut is $1,299,000,000. These are the highest annual valuations ever recorded, but do not indicate present conditions. They merely reflect the extremely high peak in the post-war lumber prices which was passed in the first quarter of 1920.

These are the principal statistics obtained by the forest service, in its 1920 canvas of American sawmills. They are based upon reports from 15,978 active mills out of 23,243 estimated to have been in operation. Several thousand mills cutting less than 20,000 feet were not tabulated, though allowance was made for their cut.

The figures show that the states which increased their cut are all in

In Society

The Pine Needle club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Hattie Castle, Thursday afternoon, November 3, 1921. The afternoon was spent in conversation and needle-work. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Those present were: Mesdames Nelson, June McPherson, Nina McPherson, Kaiser, Montgomery, Larimer, Reynolds, Webb, Lloyd, Girard, Castle, Bowman and VanValzah. The guest for the afternoon was Mrs. Norman Howard.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lottie Bowman on 9th and C streets, November 17, 1921.

Mrs. A. P. McKinsey was hostess last Thursday to the Needlecraft club, at which time refreshments and visiting was enjoyed. On Friday, the 18th, the club will meet at the home for Mrs. H. M. Stewart, and at this gathering the husbands will be entertained. The ladies will hold their Christmas social December 22, with Mrs. Carl E. Fischer in Eugene.

These present were: Mesdames O. H. Jarrett, H. M. Stewart, W. H. Pollard, Carl Fischer, D. M. Critch, Robt. Drury, Wm. Killien, T. D. Yarnes, Wm. Long, W. H. Adrian, E. Walker, F. B. Hamlin, R. P. Mortensen, C. E. Swartz, Paul Brattain H. Withrow and Irl Stewart. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robt. Drury.

Mrs. Ralph Dippel delightfully entertained the Kensington club at her home, last Friday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in needle work and conversation. Delicious refreshments were served.

Members of the club present were: Mesdames Moore, Bressler, Nest, Whitney, May, Edwards, Wheaton, Sutton, Keasey, Knox and Dipple. The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Washburne, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Gallier, Mrs. Ables and Mrs. Jarrett.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Knox on November 18.

the Pacific coast group and the Rocky Mountains. Washington is first, as usual. Oregon attains second place for the first time, displacing Louisiana from a position held for 15 years while California takes rank among the first five, displacing another southern yellow pine state.

The combined production of Douglas fir and western yellow pine, which in 1919 was less than 60 per cent of the amount of southern yellow pine cut, in 1920 became 83 per cent. This relative increase in the western species arises in part from the decrease in southern pine production, which amounted to 15 per cent. Conditions reported by southern operators, arising directly or indirectly from the world war, were so adverse that the southern pine may be expected to recover part of the lost ground during the next few years.

But the indications of the statistics are that the supremacy in lumber production held by the southern pine states has passed the zenith and is moving faster yearly to the west.

METHODIST LADIES' MISSIONARY LUNCH

The ladies of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church gave a social and lunch in the basement of the church, last Friday evening, on a peculiar plan. It has been reported that one of the ills accompanying the famine in the stricken areas in China is a lack of soap, and that the babies are the greatest sufferers. If the people had the money, they could buy it in the great seaports or have it shipped in. But the lack of money and the lack of time are the great difficulties. So it was proposed to send soap direct. It was announced that a bar of castile soap would be the price of admission to be paid by everyone who attended.

A penny cafeteria lunch was a principal feature of the affair. You filled your plate, or somebody filled it for you, with whatever you chose, each piece of food costing one cent. The drinks were 2 cents for a cup of tea, sugar or milk each a cent extra, and 3 cents for a glass of cider.

After all had lunched, entertaining readings were given by Messrs P. A. Woolley and Frank Bartholomew, and 20 or 30 minutes were spent in sports that were not just like the sport features of most socials. One consisted in pinning to the back of each guest a tag describing his occupation, or aptitude, and then having him guess what he was or having his friends looking at his back to see what he was. The last and perhaps most amusing feature was a ride by airplane. The partition was shut between the aviation field and the audience, so that those who had not taken a flight would not know what to expect. The voyager was blindfolded.

As the result of the whole affair, the missionary treasury will be enriched by upwards of $13, and about 25 bars of soap will be devoted to the cleansing of the Chinese babies.

Chamberlain's Tablets Have Done Her a World of Good

"Chamberlain's Tablets have done me a world of good," writes Mrs. Ella L. Burton, Kirkville, N. Y. "I have recommended them to a number of my friends and all who have used them praise them highly." When troubled with indigestion or constipation, give them a trial and realize for yourself what an excellent medicine it is.
