Freshman Have Party

Although all the students of the freshman class did not attend the party given Friday evening at the gymnasium a good time was reported. The crowd spent the evening playing games until it was time for refreshments. They chose partners and ate the sandwiches, cake and ice cream that was served.

It seemed but a very short time to the joy-makers when the clock struck the hour for departing. Every one was sorry to leave, even the teachers.

Donavan Knapp, student of the University of Oregon, visited the dramatics class of the Springfield High school Tuesday afternoon.

Belmont Russell returned yesterday from a trip to Salem, where he had been visiting "her" several days. He was given a very hearty welcome by Miss Alene Larimer.

We often wonder why Beulah Harper is always late for school but the wave in her hair this morning was as plain as words.

Crystal Bryan has not been with us for the last two days on account of an attack of appendicitis. We hope to see her smiling face in the assembly soon.

Belmont's trip to Salem this week end had a bad effect on him. He looks rather sad, and we think Alene has a better chance now.

Ralph Cline lost a very dear friend when Adelaide called him, but as Dorothy Girard states it, he will soon have another.

Card of Thanks:

We wish to sincerely thank the freshman for leaving their eats unguarded at their party on January 27th. We also wish to thank Charlotte and Herbert for the ice cream they put in Taylor's Ford on the same evening. We would appreciate it if they would not mention any names when they recite the incident to Mr. Roth and Mr. Morgan.

Upper Classmen

Talk about freshmen courting. Belvin Doane took Bernice Jacobson to the show Saturday night!

When Mrs. Myers came in her room after Algebra II class she said it was the dirtiest class she ever saw, and that the second division of Algebra I was just about as bad.

The Ditto girls keep a close watch on Eileen because they are afraid of loosing someone.

Herbert: "Say teacher is this exam like a cat's tail?"

Teacher: "I don't know. Why?"

Herbert: "Is it fur to the end?"

Teacher: "No. Its like a dog's tail, bound to a cur."

Tuesday morning Mabel Humphrey came into Mr. Roths room and said, "Pardon me, but don't let the youngsters forget their news notes." This idea of a junior calling seniors "youngsters"! What is this school coming to?

LILLY SEED CATALOGUE AN EXCEPTIONAL ONE

In its 1922 seed catalog just off the press, the Chas. H. Lilly company has produced a book that is unique and distinctive in this class of publication. In contents, it is not simply a catalog but is rather a compendium of useful information on agriculture and horticulture in the Pacific Northwest. The various experts of this company who have spent years experimenting and studying the soil and climate conditions of this region have placed their information at the service of the reader in the sections devoted to Garden and Field, poultry and bee culture, fertilization, etc.

The experienced gardener will find many suggestions of interest in it and for the tyro or the new-comer to the coast it will prove a most valuable guide. The book is issued for free distribution and can be secured from dealers or by writing direct to the Portland or Seattle office of the company.

CRIPPLING COUNTRY PAPERS

Radicals and agitators of new political organizations have no use for the country newspapers, calling them the kept press. In North Dakota the Non-Partisan league passed a law cutting all but their own sheets out of all public printing and advertising.

These organizations in western states are no sooner on their feet by means of liberal free advertising that they start local papers. They ride the free horse in the country weeklies and then start a county paper that contains all the advertising of the membership. Each step they take saddles new burdens on the taxpayer for more or less socialistic enterprises, like county agents, market bureaus, etc.

In single counties in Idaho the cost of these schemes for the alleged benefit of the farmers ran up bills as high as $10,000.

Repeal of the publication of the delinquent tax list is one of their schemes to cripple the country press, and taxes are left unpaid. Nearly four million dollars delinquent taxes in one western state or one tenth of all the property delinquent is a direct result.

INCOME TAX FACTS

In making out his income tax return for 1921, the average taxpayer will find a considerable saving in comparison with the amount of tax paid on the same income for 1920.

The exemptions provided by the revenue act of 1921 are $1000 for single persons (the term including widows, divorcees, and persons separated from husband and wife by mutual agreement), $2,500 for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or less, and $2000 for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or more. Under the revenue act of 1918 the personal exemption allowed a married person was $2,000, regardless of the amount of net income. The personal exemption allowed a married person applies also to the head of a family, man or woman who supports in one household one or more relatives by blood, marriage, or adoption.

The exemption for dependents—a person who receives his chief support from the taxpayer and who is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective—is increased from $200 to $400.

The act requires that a return be filed by every single person whose net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more, and by every person—single or married—whose gross income was $5,000 or more.

The requirement to file a return of gross income of $5,000 or more regardless of net income is a new provision. Net income is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, etc., which are fully explained on the forms.

Returns must be filed by married couples whose combined net income for 1921 including that of dependent minor children, equaled or exceeded $2,000, or if the combined gross income equaled or exceeded $5,000.

The period for filing returns is from January 1 to March 15, 1922. Heavy penalties are provided for failure or "willful refusal" to file a return on time.

Forms 1040A for incomes of $5,000 and less and 1040 for incomes in excess of $5,000 may be obtained from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and branch offices. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

LOCAL HOLSTEIN BREEDER SELECTS A FARM NAME

"Hilare" is the trade mark name that has been reserved exclusively for the use of H. A. Soules of Eugene, Oregon, as a prefix to the regular registration name for all Holstein animals raised on the Soules farm and registered with the Holstein-Friesian association of America, according to an official announcement recently made by Secretary F. L. Houghton of Brattleboro, Vt.

All registered animals carry besides a registry number a family name usually indicating the ancestral bloodlines. As a means of identifying the various breeding establishments of the country trade mark names are reserved by the association for the exclusive use of breeders. Thus, an animal can always be identified as to its original birthplace. Every Holstein man in the United States knows that a cow named Pabst Clover Blossom must come from the Pabst stock farm of Oconomowoc, Wis. In a like manner animals carrying the prefix Hilare will in the future be recognized as coming from the Soules herd of Eugene, Oregon.

The farm name is a good advertisement. It marks the farm home and the place of business. It dignifies the business and increases the value of property. It shows a pride in the management and fosters love of tradition. A good farm name can be sold with the land and products as the good will of a firm can be sold with the business. Certain localities in the west have become famous because of their farms and the distinctiveness which goes with the naming of them.

In the connection with the naming of the farm, it is well to think of ways of drawing the attention of the passer-by. In these days of autos and tourists, it is the grasping of a potential advertising opportunity to display on the roadsides at the entrance to the farm yard, the farm name and the name and address of the owner. Suspended therefrom might be the illustration of a cow, a bee-hive, an ear of corn or whatnot suggesting the business specialty. Such would serve as a mark of identity.

Over fifteen thousand of such names have been reserved by members of the Holstein-Friesian association, and pamphlets giving instructions for erecting appropriate signs are distributed free by the association.
