Dr. Rebhan was compelled to stop up for a while the latter part of last week. Partly on account of a touch of the prevailing grip and partly from an overdose of work, he was obliged for two or three days, to content himself with lying down through the forenoon and working through the afternoon.

A letter from J. J. Totten, now living at Sawtelle, California, contains some interesting personal points. He bought a home in Sawtelle last July. He was "sitting under a bright, warm sunshine" when he wrote. He says: "Our garden looks fine. We have peas, carrots, beets, onions, radishes, spinach and lettuce. We have several kinds of fruit coming in bloom."

You don't know how comfortable those old shoes can be made if repaired by Hall, the shoe doctor.

The Springfield Mill & Grain company shipped a car of flour to Portland Monday, and one the middle of last week, both for export. They received two carloads of corn from the east the middle of last week. They will ship two cars to Roseburg and Medford and five cars to Marshfield this week; all mixed cars, of flour and feed.

The tourists seem to be forcing the season a little. Several cars occupied our camp ground during the past week. It is time for the council to be deciding what the town will do with the camp ground and what they will do for it the coming season.

GOOD BANKING FOR DEVELOPMENT

There is no question as to where banks stand on the big broad proposition of helping the farmers and industry.

Banks back the big constructive movements for the development of the whole country.

On financing the movement of crops and livestock the banking interests have been ready and willing to do their part.

Banks in all section of the country have helped finance purchase and distribution of dairy cattle.

Hundreds of calf clubs and pig clubs have been organized and thousands of boys and girls are learning to become producers.

This bank believes in safe and sane cooperation with the producer so far as is consistent with sound banking.

H. J. Saunders and Albert K. Lulay, practical printers, have purchased the plant of the Florence West, which had been suspended for over a year, and have commenced the publication of a new paper, called "The Siuslaw Region". It is a four-page, 7 column paper—quite a venture for a sparsely settled region, with no large towns. We hope they will make it go. That region needs a newspaper.

U. S. ARMY HEAD ASKS ARMENIAN AID

Washington.—Major General James G. Harbord, recently appointed General Pershing's assistant Chief of Staff, has gone on record in support of the work of the Near East Relief in Armenia. He says, in a letter to the Near East Relief:

"Of all the heart-breaking distresses that exist in other countries, I believe that the Near East situation should most appeal to our charitable people. There are many thousands of helpless orphans—children of Christian parents in a Moslem land, who must be helped by our people if they are to survive. The Armenians have preserved their race, their religion and their language under conditions of distress for over a thousand years. They are worthy of a better fate than to perish, and I believe that will be their fate without substantial financial and moral support from the good people of our country."

"J. G. HARBORD, Major General, U. S. Army." General Harbord is one of the trustees of the Near East Relief organization, now making a general appeal for funds to continue its work among the destitute of Bible lands.

The Farmer's Exchange store is and will be carried on by the surviving partner, Julius Fulop.

Southern Pacific Establishes New Accident Record for 1922

Total injuries sustained by employees in all branches of the Southern Pacific company's system was the lowest during 1921 of any year since 1906, according to announcement just made by R. J. Clancy, assistant general manager, in charge of the company.

The number sustaining fatal injuries in 1921 was 19.5 per cent less than for the best year during the past fifteen years. This decrease in number of employee injuries has been brought about largely through the work of the safety committees on the several divisions of the company's lines at which times safety problems are discussed and suggestions made tending toward greater safety efficiency.

No fatalities occurred during 1921 to passengers on the Southern Pacific in train accident to steam train service. This one passenger sustaining fatal injury in train accident was in a gasoline motor car which was set afire when run into by a motor truck loaded with gasoline. Of the three passenger fatalities in non-train service two jumped overboard from ferryboats apparently with suicidal intent and the other passenger riding on a ferryboat was drowned either as the result of jumping or falling overboard.

None of the passenger fatalities in 1921 involved negligence, maintenance of track, of equipment, compliance with rules and regulations, or safe operation of trains.

WANTED A BUSY LINE

The man who had struck one of those rare not-so-very-prohibition parties and didn't want to leave it had made two unsuccessful attempts to get into the telephone booth, the third time negotiating it like a ferry going into a straggly slip. He dropped his nickel in.

"H'lo, h'lo, h'lo," he cried. "Say gimme Line's Busy, thassa good girl. H'lo, whassat? Line's busy? Aw right."

He staggered out.

"Lord knows I tried to get her anyway," he murmured.
