M. V. Endicott recently traded his 26-acre ranch on the Coast Fork, several miles southeast of Springfield, for a farm of 240 acres near Swift Current, Saskatchewan, and later traded his automobile for another piece of 89 acres adjoining the farm first traded for. Mr. Endicott is there now, and Mrs. Endicott and the family went yesterday to join him. The man with whom he traded had a farm above Marcola. He preferred to live in this country, and wanted to get his possessions as near together as possible.

LOST—A brass ruler, at the fire last Saturday. Has pic measure on one side and agate on the other. Please return to News office.

The Eugene Daily Register has been enlarged from seven to eight columns to the page.

C. F. Eggmann has been manufacturing menthol cough drops, in the form of squares for about 16 years. Lately he has been putting them up in neat paper cartons, with the name "Egg-man" pictorially represented on the carton, the packages to be sold at 5 cents. The demand for the drops has increased to such an extent that he now has a man selling them on the road.

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

Accordin' to palaver, which we seldom fail to hear, we're totterin' on the brink of certain doom. . . . We're hoverin' o'er the stage of dissolution, mighty near.—We're flounderin' in the shadder of our tomb! We're due to have a panic, an' a universal strike.—we'll never see the taxes any lower. . . . The cattle market's busted—O, you never seen the like,—and every bloomin' bank will close its door! There won't be any money, an' there won't be any coal. . . . They tell us in their every-day palaver,—we can't escape calamity, to save our little soul, or ad' another woe to our cadaver

. . . . It's true the crops is splendid, and the medder grass is tall; the country's full of everything to eat. Old Dobbin seems to fatten in his sanitary stall—the souper sixes crowd him off the street! The golf-link an' the movie show is peopled to their gates.—The billion-dollar prize-fight draws the crowd. . . . The biggest diamond market is in these United States; where jewelry that's phony ain't allowed! But we musn't let delusions shet out the a . . . that poverty has got us by the pants. . . . The crack of doom pursues us, like a never-failin' sleuth—we haven't even got a fightin' chance!

The Eugene traffic officer, last week announced with great emphasis that hereafter no quarters would be given to violators of traffic laws. Now, if the speeders, no-tail-lighters and such like should meet and resolve that they will give no quarter to the city—why, there would probably be a deadlock; and the offenders would be under the lock.

Mrs. and Mrs. Will Parker and their three little children, of Portland, visited at the home of Mrs. Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Devine, south of town, for a week or more, returning last Friday. Mr. Parker and a cousin have been engaged in cement work in Portland, but the strikes interfered by delaying shipments of materials; so they took this occasion to make this visit, and Mr. Parker took a little hunt up Row river on the side.

The W. O. W. meets every Tuesday evening in their own home.

Geo. Hills, of Jasper, was nailing some shakes on his hen-house last Saturday with a shingling hatchet. He made a light stroke to knock a small bar off the end of a shake, not holding the hatchet very firmly. A small knot clinging to the edge of the hatchet caused the hatchet to fall from his hand, and the corner struck the left
