Oh say does the Star Spangled Banner yet wave all faded and tattered from the Lincoln school staff? If so, why? Many are the comments on the much worn and weather-beaten flag which floats from the flag staff of the Lincoln school, and it can be taken for granted that these comments are not inspired by either admiration or satisfaction. And should those who protest against irreverence to the national banner be blamed when there is a special item provided for in the school budget for the purchase of flags?

The taxpayers of the community voted this item on the budget for the express purpose of keeping the American flag, and a respectable one, floating at all times over our schools, and it is the duty of the school officials to see that this desire of the people is satisfied.

True it is that winter weather is hard on flags, but if the rules of etiquette to the flag, "to keep the flag down during tempests," be followed faithfully, much wear and tear will be avoided. As a matter of fact it would be well if all the rules of etiquette, possible, be carefully observed.

Within these schools are being taught the youth of America and in many cases future citizens. They are taught by their instructions to love and reverence their nation's flag, it is true; but what sort of an impression will be formed in their immature and undeveloped minds, when they gaze aloft and see not a thing of beauty, but only a piece of beragged and faded cotton bunting fluttering in the breeze?

To the adult mind it is not the condition of the flag which demands respect, it is the principles for which it stands; but to the childish mind, as yet unable to fully grasp these principles, the appearance of the flag means much. It is said that "as the twig is bent so will the tree grow." Do we or do we not want young America to respect the flag?

TOWN AND VICINITY

Many scenes for "Her Husband's Trademark" the attraction on Sunday, at the Bell theatre, were filmed below the Rio Grande, on a Mexican ranch.

This picture contains such thrilling scenes as the rescue of the heroine from a wildcat in a tropical forest, the flight of the hero and heroine from Mexican desperadoes, and their exciting dash to the U. S. border.

A dance given at Wendling, Saturday, December 2, by the 4L organization, was well attended and a good time reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Chase, of Prunville, entertained guests at their home Thanksgiving day with a delightful dinner. In the neighborhood of fifty relatives and friends shared their hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hayes, and family, of Cottage Grove, spent Saturday and Sunday here at the home of Norton Pengra.

FOR SALE—Complete house furnishing equipment. Call at News office.

The "Willing Workers" of the Christian church, held a bazaar and food sale Saturday in the Long & Cross shop, and report a very profitable sale having taken in something between $175 and $180. The ladies have pledged $500 to the building of the new church and of course this amount will help to swell the fund pledged.

In Society

Cupid claimed another Springfield victim last week when E. I. Korn, son of Mrs. J. E. Hastings of this city was united in marriage to Miss Frances Ruth Yeager, of 1571 High street, Eugene, at 8 o'clock on the evening of November 28.

The ceremony which was performed at the home of the bride, was witnessed only by relatives and intimate friends, and was most impressive. The room was beautifully decorated with ivy and fern. Rev. N. M. Shrodes of Roseburg united the couple.

Both of the young people are well and favorably known in Eugene and Springfield. Mr. Korn is a graduate of the Springfield High school, while Miss Yeager is a graduate of the Eugene Business college. She is the daughter of Mrs. Louise J. Yeager, of Eugene. The couple will live at Eugene where Mr. Korn will be employed by the Southern Pacific.

Portland representatives of the Ladies of the G. A. R. were entertained by Mrs. C. F. Eggmann with luncheon at her home here last Friday. The Portland ladies who were in Springfield on a tour of inspection of the chapters of the Ladies of the G. A. R. were: Mrs. Lucy C. Beck, department president of the organization; Mrs. Emma C. Bush, department inspector; Grace E. Worden, department treasurer; and Mrs. Lindsey, a member of the Portland chapter.

After the luncheon the department heads visited Iuka Circle No. 28 and were entertained at dinner by the ladies of the circle. At a meeting of the circle which took place at this time the following officers were elected for the local circle. President, Frances E. Bean; junior vice-president, Graces E. Bean; junior vice-president, Emily Dority; treasurer, Myrtle Eggmann; chairman, Jennie Fisher; conductor, Edith Laxton; guard, Jane M. Joy.

Miss Mable Humphrey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Humphrey, and Winton W. Cole, were married in Roseburg at the home of friends, December 4. The young couple will make their home in Ashland, where Mr. Cole is employed in the S. P. machine shops.

The Kensington club will hold their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. O. B. Kessey, on December 15.

The ladies of the Needlecraft club met the 3rd Thursday of November with Mrs. D. W. Crites. The afternoon was spent doing fancy work and visiting, after which a delicious luncheon was served. Members present were Mesdames, Drury, Killen, Dennis, Mortensen, H. Stewart, Pollard, Dippel, Long, Adrian, and Catching, of Springfield, and A. P. McKinsey, Herbert Walker, and Carl Fisher, of Eugene. Mrs. Alfred Morgan, and small daughter, were guests for the afternoon. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Adrian assisted the hostess in serving. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. N. Dennis, on Main street, between Mill and 2nd, on Thursday, December 7.
