CAMAS SWALE

Mrs. Ed Hoagland and children of Creswell have been visiting the past few days with her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Napper.

Mrs. C. E. Williams, who has been quite ill with appendicitis, is able to be up and around a little once more, and last week and has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Nason in Creswell. He was here Saturday and took his tractor into Creswell, returning Sunday morning for his car.

Everyone is busy getting in their spring crops and gardens between showers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huffman and family of Pleasant Hill were Sunday visitors at the Sutton home.

Miss Pearl Edwards of Eugene was a Sunday visitor at the Napper home.

Miss Jessie Williams returned to school Tuesday, having lost four days on account of the illness of her mother.

Misses Margaret and Ella Smith of Pleasant Hill were Sunday visitors at the home of their sister here, Mrs. Lawrence McKay.

Eugene Butler, who is taking treatments at the Broomfield Kelpore Baths at Cloverdale, is reported as improving.

Miss Lila Smith, teacher in the Camas Swale school, visited over the week-end at her home in Albany.

COWS SUPPLY MAH-JONGG SETS

Those who have bought imported mah-jongg sets from China may be interested in knowing that the tiles are manufactured from the shinbones of American cows. Three carloads of selected shinbones recently were shipped from Galveston to Japan and from there to China for the manufacture of mah-jongg sets. What would old boss think if she knew the bones were to be used in a game in which folks talked about silver dragons and bamboos and got excited over pungs and chows?

BRIDE OF 5 DIVORCED

Mrs. Ire Marcella Powell, "5-year-old bride" of Thomas O. Harvey, wealthy hotel owner, is awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce from him in a San Francisco court. Mrs. Harvey has been called the "5-year-old" girl because her birthday comes on February 29. In reality she was 20 years old that month.

FARM REMINDERS

Weevil infested beans and peas can be treated with scarabonbulsulfid to destroy the weevils before planting. The seed to be treated is usually placed in a tight receptacle of some kind and the liquid either poured over them or placed in a saucer on top of the seed. The container is covered and left for 24 hours. The dosage is one and one-half ounce for ten cubic feet of space. Dipping the seed in boiling water and immediately cooling will destroy most of the weevils. The new crop is usually infested by planting infested seed.

All seed potatoes while still dormant and before they are sprouted should be given the corrosive sublimate treatment.

A light application of land plaster on the clover crop will stimulate the early growth of the clover. This amount used is 40 to 80 pounds to the acre.

The presence of flies is an indication of uncleanness, unsanitary conditions, and improper disposal of substances in which they breed. Screening the food as well as the windows and doors is an important precaution to take against the fly disturbance.

A grafting wax which has been found the best for all purposes may be made at home as follows: Resin, 5 lbs.; beeswax, 1 lb.; finely pulverized charcoal, 1/2 lb.; linsed oil, 1 gill. Melt beeswax over slow fire, add charcoal, stirring, then the oil. Moulded bricks should be put in greased pans. The wax may be broken in lumps for use, and melted. Should be applied in liquid form.

Your Conversation

"Sheffield" Trays made of Sheffield plate are popular wedding presents. Sheffield plating is a process which was developed at Sheffield, England, in the Eighteenth century. A metal ware is made by a process of laying a thin silver plate on one of copper and rolling it. The accent is placed on the first syllable.
