SAFEGUARD SCHOOL CHILD BOARD OF HEALTH SAYS

The opening of school brings with it the problem of protecting the school child from infections which take a jump when school reassembles. Education has been made compulsory and although the system is not perfect, it is a conceded fact that education is a necessity. By making education compulsory we have thereby assumed the responsibility of keeping the school as free from disease as possible. It is therefore of great importance that all children be given a careful examination to determine whether or not they are disease carriers.

Successful control of contagious diseases in schools requires effective cooperation of parents, teachers and children.

To do justice to one's own child and to be decently fair to the other parent's children, it is not enough that the child go to school properly and cleanly clad; the parents should make a definite and thorough examination before permitting him to leave home. He should always be kept at home, at least for the day, when there is nausea, vomiting, chills, convulsion, dizziness, faintness, unusual pallor, rash of any kind, rise of temperature or suggestion of it through unusual warmth of skin, a discharge from the nose, redness or secretion from the eyes, a sore or inflamed throat, swollen glands in the neck or elsewhere, a new cough, failure to eat breakfast, a seriously disturbed night's rest, or any unexplained or indefinite change from the usual appearance or conduct. If the disturbing sign does not promptly disappear, of course the family physician should be called and only on his assurance that no disease exists or is likely to occur in the very near future, may the child be permitted to go to school or come into contact with other children.

Many parents are offended when children are sent home for failing to comply with these reasonable requirements. However, they are even more likely to find fault if their child is exposed to disease through the medium of the school. The protection of children in school can never be greater than the parents help to make it.—Oregon State Board of Health.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON ENROLLS MORE THAN 2800

University of Oregon, Eugene, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The number of full-time students in the University of Oregon this college year will approximate 2850 or 2900, a record attendance in the life of the institution and an increased enrollment this fall of about 131-2 per cent over last year. These figures were announced by registrar Carlton E. Spencer following a check of the fall registration figures. Before the term ends the increase will reach 15 per cent.

The 2900 enrollment for the year includes only those students in residence. It does not include the extension, correspondence-study, and Portland center students, the total of whom is an additional 4000 more.

The number of new students making application this fall has been 1250. There are 300 more students enrolled in the University this year than last. The percentage of increase this year is the greatest since the years of the remarkable post-war flood of students into higher educational institutions.

Hitherto the freshman class of the hospital Thursday, October 3.

University has always shown a considerable increase, but because of the failure of sophomore, junior and senior students to return, the percentage of growth in the whole institution has been much less than that of the freshman class. This year, however, the remarkable fact of uniform growth is noteworthy, in that the percentage of all-university gain is almost exactly the percentage of gain in the freshman class.

The great gain of 1919, easily the greatest in the career of the university since 1900, and probably since its beginning in 1878, was 54.8 per cent. A tabulation of the percentage of gain since 1908 follows: 1908-1909, 32.5 per cent; 1909-1910, 11.5; 1910-1911, 7.3; 1911-1912, fraction of 1 per cent; 1912-1913, fraction of 1 per cent; 1913-1914, 2.7; 1914-1915, 12.5; 1915-1916, 6.1; 1916-1917, 18; 1917-1918, 1.7 per cent; 1918-1919, 16 per cent; 1919-1920, 54.8 per cent; 1920-1921, 6.7 per cent; 1921-1922, 17.8 per cent; 1922-1923, 8.6 per cent; 1923-1924, 1.9 per cent; 1924-1925 12 1-2 per cent to date. Probably increase 15 per cent.
