

This Home Has Many Features You Will Like

Large roomy houses are becoming more popular as people realize the benefits to be derived therefrom. The home picture above has all of the desirable features of the home shown last week but with the added beauty of the large porch. The small stoop at the side of the house breaks up the severe lines and lends a distinctive touch to the home. The living room although set back from the front of the house receives ample light from the large windows and the French doors. This style of living room is especially desirable to those who like ready access to other parts of the home. Several deviations from the plan above may easily be made. A breakfast room may be added by adding a few feet to the length of the kitchen and placing the porch at the center of the house. There are three bed rooms on the second floor and a sleeping porch of ample room. The bathroom is conveniently placed between the two bed rooms. The up-stairs hall gives easy entrance to all of the rooms. The alcove, ten by twelve feet leads to the upper porch. Lots of closet room is provided for in the hall or the bedrooms. Homes of this type are especially popular in rural districts and the man in town who wants plenty of room will appreciate the above plan.
