

UPPER WILLAMETTE

Saturday night, May 2, the Christian Endeavor of Pleasant Hill gave a three act play "Mother Mine" at Woodman Hall to a large audience. All of the parts were well taken, from the sour old maid to the love sick couple, but much praise is due Cora John who in taking the part of "Mother Mine" was in every scene. She portrayed the part of a lovely mother very admirably and supported by Lawrence Wheeler as her adopted son, put the play above the amateur class. Over $35 was made at the play which goes toward Christian Endeavor activities.

The Pleasant Hill choir held a basket dinner on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Tinker Sunday, May 3 and practiced in the afternoon.

Mrs. Kabler and daughter Mary Catherine were down from Blue River over the week-end.

At a meeting of the members of the Christian church Sunday, May 3, C. E. Jordan and R. J. English were chosen deacons.

At a meeting of the Pleasant Hill cooking club held last week Douglas Kabler resigned as vice-president and yell leader and Vera Linton was chosen to take his place.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR LANE COUNTY

Leis F. Geiger, Plaintiff
vs.
Lee Geiger, Defendant
Alias Summons

To Lee Geiger, defendant: In the Name of the State of Oregon. You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 20th day of June, 1925, said date being more than six weeks from the date of the order in said suit providing for publication of summons herein, and if you fail to answer, for want thereof plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint, to-wit, for a decree of absolute divorce from the bonds of matrimony now subsisting between plaintiff and defendant and for costs of suit.

This summons is published pursuant to an order of C. P. Barnard, Judge of the County Court of Oregon for Lane county, dated and filed May 6th, 1925, and directing that summons herein be published for a period of not less than six weeks, in the Springfield News, a newspaper printed and published in Springfield, Lane County, Oregon.

Hand Shelling Best

Seed corn is best shelled by hand, the tip and but kernels being discarded. Each ear is shelled into a pan by itself before being dumped into the sack with the rest of the seed. In shelling, the following defects in kernel type are noted: Kernels which show decided starchiness and dull color; kernels that are blistered around the germ or show other signs of immaturity; and shoe-pegy or moldy kernels. Ears that have any of these defects are discarded.

Hand shelling gives the grower an opportunity to study the kernel-type and prevents broken kernels. The seed is run over a grader or fanning mill to remove small and over-sized kernels. The small kernels are likely to be poor yielders, and the large misshapen kernels sometimes clog the planter. Uniformity of kernels is a real help in getting uniform planting with the corn planter.

Farmers are urged not to use lime sulfur spray or dust sulfur for mildew on gooseberries after the fruit has set if it is to be marketed through the cannery. The sulfur injures the canned product. Spray information can be had of the Oregon Agricultural college experiment station.

Use of the pressure cooker for canning all vegetables in glass except rhubarb and tomatoes is inadvisable, says E. H. Wiegand, professor of horticultural products at O. A. C. When boiling water bath or open kettle methods are used, there is often danger of bacillus botulinum. Only sound, fresh, vegetables properly washed before canning are selected. Overfilling of jars often causes under-sterilization.

Training for Service

KEEPING pace with America's telephone needs means keeping ahead. The work of preparation never ends.

There must be complex engineering studies, careful financing plans, and thousands of manufacturing operations before new facilities can be built and made ready for public use.

And when they are ready, the workers must also be ready, skilled in the multitude of tasks incident to the operation and maintenance of telephone plant and equipment.

In every important center in the country, new members of the telephone forces are in continuous training, preparing to meet tomorrow's telephone needs.

For your telephone system is a living, growing organism. Last year 836,163 telephones were added to its national service. Millions of miles of wire interlace the continent, to interconnect your telephone with nearly 16,000,000 others. Tomorrow there will be more telephones, for the nation demands and expects them.
