Why Be A Druggist?

To be one it takes long years of study, the passing of hard examinations under state supervision, a big investment in stock, long hours of tedious work, a willingness to be a bureau of information for an entire community and a tender, sweet disposition that can't be ruffled by anything less than boys throwing bricks at the front window! YET! ALSO BUT! I wouldn't want to be in any other work, for I love this business with all its ALLEGED hardships and I wouldn't swap jobs with anyone in the county. That's the sort of druggist I am!

Electric Lights
A tree and a coal mine sure feel outa luck when they see a skinny wire supplying the heat that lights the filament in an Edison Mazda lamp. We have them at prices ranging from 27c up—and they are dingers for service.

Face Music
All you kids can whistle! If you can whistle you can play a mouth organ; only with an organ you get full, rich resonant chords that make your eyes roll and the thrills play tag on your backbone. Mention this to your dad!

Flash Lights—One Buck
