LOGGING IS RESUMED AT MORE FIR CAMPS

Portland, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Logging is now under way at 95 per cent of the camps west of the Cascades, according to the 4L employment service letter issued here today, which reported increased logging activity in several districts. Sawmill operation remained unchanged from the previous week except in Aberdeen, Wn., where 1300 sawmill workers are on strike, affecting five plants, the letter said.

Signs of decreasing employment were reported from the Inland Empire districts where sawmill operation is being curtailed and other seasonal work is tapering off. Reports from the various 4L offices were as follows:

Reedsport, Ore.—Local supply of help equal to present demand. All sawmills here except one now operating. Most logging camps in this district running.

Cottage Grove—The Woodard and Bohemia sawmills have resumed cutting after being closed for several months. Anderson & Middleton Co. has added an extra side at its logging camps. Demand and supply of help in this district about balanced.

Portland—Good demand for loggers and farm help. Green Mountain Logging Co., Kerry Line, will resume this week. Cobbs & Mitchell, Valsetz, have laid off night shift at mill. Menefee mill at Hubbard closed. No big demand for sawmill workers but not many skilled men unemployed.

Aberdeen, Wn.—Following discharge of two men who circulated a petition for wage increase at Donovan mill 1 here, a strike starting September 25 has now affected five sawmill operations involving more than 1300 men. The petition asked for a 50-cent wage increase for all employees. The low wage at these mills is $3.25. Men elected by the strikers are trying to arrange conference with management a hope of an early settlement of differences. The plants affected are not members of the 4L. Logging is becoming more active and except for the Anderson & Middleton camp all logging companies in Grays Harbor district are now operating. Independence Logging Co., started fallers and buckers last week. No surplus of experienced loggers here. Turnovers at camps is lighter than it was one week ago.

Tacoma—Logging became more active along the Tacoma-Eastern branch last week when the Cascade Timber Co. started falling and bucking. The Western Lake camps also have been opened. No change in sawmill operation here. Few skilled men seeking employment but applicants for common labor jobs are more numerous.

Seattle—Labor demand in nearly all lines continues good. Camp and sawmill labor turnover lighter than two weeks ago. Several calls for miners posted. Many jobs for farm and dairy workers offered. Quite a few calls for shingle belt cutters on local boards. More men in town than at this time last month.

Spokane—Employment boards in this city show a marked decrease in demand for men. A few miners are being hired daily and there are a number of jobs for road men being offered, but the volume is small. Help is easy to get. Labor turnover in all lines is light, and most of the men now seeking work are trying to get jobs for the winter.

Coeur d'Alene, Ida.—Plenty of men here for all local work. Some winter camps preparing for logging. The Blackwell Lumber Co. has taken off its night planer crew, and the Coeur d'Alene Mill Co. has closed its third shift.

Bend, Ore.—Third shift has been laid off at Brooks-Scanlon plant. Slight surplus of labor here.

Visits from Fall Creek—Miss Etta Scott of Fall Creek spent Sunday in Springfield.

JOKE ON COTTAGE GROVE; PEDDLER TAKES IN $3000

A peddler for an eastern woolen mills company is in Springfield this week trying to sell his wares. He might be disposed of a pair of socks here, and there to unsuspecting people but in several places he was shown the "Try Springfield Merchants First" sign. At one place where the sign was shown him he declared he had been going in even in the face of the sign. "Cottage Grove has a trade at home campaign on" he said, "but we took $3000 out of that city."

The trade at home women in Springfield are after his scalp and we bet he will have to work faster than the telephone if he gets many more orders in Springfield.
