LOYALTY WEEK TO BE FULL OF PEP

The date of the county convention has been changed from Friday, October 23 to Saturday, October 24 and will be held at Springfield at the Woodman hall at 1:00 a. m. This will cut Loyalty week short one day but if all the pep is centered on the remaining six days good results should be reported Friday, October 30.

Luncheon October 30.

The luncheon which will be the closing feature of the week will be given at the Eugene hotel. It will be held at 12:30, October 30. The dining room management has promised us a very good luncheon with the use of the dining hall the rest of the afternoon and the use of the piano and orchestra platform. The price per plate will be 60c. This is to be paid at the door as one enters the dining room. No tickets are to be sold in advance but as it is necessary for the dining-room management to know approximately how many will attend the luncheon the Loyalty week committee is requesting the delegates from each local to report to Mrs. Kappauf at the county convention the approximate number from his local who will be present at the luncheon. The committee has chosen the noon luncheon on Friday instead of an evening banquet so that no member of Farmers' union will have to remain at home to "do their chores."

October Important Month.

The month of October, 1925 is destined to be a one of considerable importance to the Oregon Farmers' union. All over the state the union is carrying on a campaign for members, and one week called Loyalty week has been set aside to be given up to this work. Lane county has chosen the week from October 24 to October 30. During that week, receptions, dinners, socials, parties, and meetings will be held by Farmers' union locals all over Lane county. Definite programs for the coming winter months, new committees, social entertainments for the future will be planned and all over Lane county old members who have been allowed to drift by the wayside will again fall in line and many new members will join the ranks.

But this can not be done by magic. Although the luncheon will be held on Halloween day, there will be no witches working to bring back old members or hunt out new ones. This must be done by the members of the union and each member is called upon to give of his time, strength and thoughts to make loyalty week not only a success for this year but to write it on the books as an annual affair.

Every delegate must attend the convention at Springfield and no delegate is to come with an empty seat in his car. It is hoped that each car that parks in Springfield October 24 will represent five or more members of Farmers' union.

CLOVERDALE LOCAL

Cloverdale local met in regular session October 9. A delegation of the Creswell business men attended this meeting. The forepart of the evening was devoted to the discussion of a subject interesting to both communities. After the departure of the visitors the home local held a short business session. The secretary was instructed to purchase a new coffee pot to be ready for our next meeting.

Our next meeting on October 23 will be an open meeting. There will be a speaker and a program. Also refreshments. Everybody come.

10 WAYS TO KILL A COOPERATIVE BODY

Don't go to the meetings. If you do attend a meeting, find fault with the work of the officers and other members. Never accept an office, as it is easier to criticize than to do things. Nevertheless, get sore if you are not appointed on a committee but if you are do not attend committee meetings. If asked by the chairman to give your opinion regarding some important matter, tell him you have nothing to say. After the meeting tell everyone how things ought to be done. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary; but when other members roll up their sleeves and willingly, unselfishly use their ability to help matters along, howl that the association is run by a clique. If you receive better prices because of the stabilizing influence of the association without joining, don't think of joining. Keep your eye open for something wrong and when you find it, resign. At every opportunity threaten to resign and then get your friends to resign. Agree to everything said at the meeting and disagree with it outside.

Dairy Cow Testing and Feeding Demonstration

SEGIS PIETERTJE PROSPECT—221946

World's Record Cow for Milk Production—37,381.4 Pounds in One Year. Born April 10, 1913. Died March 10, 1925. Owned and Developed by Carnation Milk Farms, Seattle, Washington.

One of the features of the Dairy Section at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, Portland, October 31st to Nov. 7th, will be a demonstration of testing for butterfat and cost accounting of feed of two groups of dairy cattle, using five average Oregon cows in one group. These cows will give about 4000 pounds of milk per year, which is about Oregon's standard and the standard of the United States, too.

In another group will be five purebred cows, featuring each of the five well-known breeds whose production will be from 8,000 to 13,000 pounds of milk per year. Purebred cattle have productions of more than this amount but it is thought to impress the public of the desirability of owning a string of well bred cows which shall give at least twice as much as the average Oregon cow—the cost of these cows being not greatly in excess of good grade cows and with a possibility, during times when calves are in demand, of making for their owners, on top of their milk and cream check, some added money from their off-springs.

Prof. P. M. Brandt of Oregon Agriculture College has been requested to take charge of this exhibit which will also feature daily tests for butterfat by accredited testers of the state so that lay people may get a close-up of what testing really means. A chart for each animal will show exactly the amount of milk they produce at each milking and the exact amount of butterfat in their milk for that day. The amount of feed given to each of these animals in the various groups will also be tabulated, which will clearly show that, although an animal giving a good flow of milk takes more feed than a scrub animal, that the differences in this amount of feed do not correspond to the difference in production.

This exhibit will be housed prominently in the dairy barn and is expected to attract a great deal of attention.

FARM REMINDERS

Garden land now through producing this season is best plowed or disked so the weeds cannot get a foothold this fall. Parts of the garden that produced such crops as sweet corn, snap beans, dry onions and other vegetables about finished, should also be worked. Too many gardens remain through the winter just as they were in late summer and fall," says an O. A. C. station report. "Others become a weed patch by spring, to say nothing of the soil packed by the gardener during the season, and by the winter rains."

The purchase of a good grade laying mash for a small flock of 25 pullets rather than buying and mixing the materials, is recommended by the experiment station. In order to save anything by making his own mixtures the poultryman would have to buy the materials in lots too large to provide them in a fresh state. Although the bought mash cost more it will make a better feed.

Raspberry canes should not be topped back at this time of year, says the O. A. C. station. Such heading back may result in a strong succulent lateral growth that would very easily winter kill, thus affecting the older parts of the cane. The cane had best be allowed to keep their growth till spring, and then headed back.

Cleanliness of houses and feed is essential to continued good health of the laying flock, says the O. A. C. station. Dirty houses further spread of disease, and musty or moldy feed knocks production as well as causes sickness and death in the flock.

Cauliflower grows so rapidly in these mild moist days of fall that the heads often get beyond the best condition for marketing, warns the vegetable gardening section at O. A. C. They must be watched carefully for cutting at the most desirable time. "Better cut the heads while they are smaller yet compact and white, than somewhat later when they may be larger but have a divided curd."
