Here are the big guns of the baseball world who gave a good account of themselves in the first battles of the season. Many rookies made gallant bids for fame, but fandom continues to idolize the names of Ruth, Johnson, Cobb and Hornsby, veterans tried and true.

Teams Inject Young Blood In Lineups, But Veterans Star As Of Old.

There're off. Meaning sixteen major league teams.

We're off, too! Meaning sixteen million of us, more or less, who are certain right now—although few of us will sneak up—which will win the pennants!

The grand game—baseball—grips the nation once more.

Baseball experts—writers, managers, owners, stars—predict that 1926 will be the banner year. Total attendance of 118,769 on the opening day seems to warrant that prediction. World series crowds of 30,000 or more saw the openers at New York, Cincinnati, Detroit and Chicago.

Most of the teams have added new blood. Yet we have with us again many of the old-timers. Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Zach Wheat, Jacques Fournier, Eddie Collins, Cy Williams, Rogers Hornsby, Ty Cobb, Harry Hellman, Tris Speaker, Charlie Jamieson and many others.

What are they going to do this year? Are they going to show up the aspiring youngsters—dozens of them who are getting their first real chance to show their stuff?

Well, these veterans seem determined to make 1926 their best years. Walter Johnson, started his twentieth season with the Washington Senators, by blanking the Athletics 1 to 0 in 15 innings. Babe Ruth, who swears by all that's holy that he'll make more home runs—and be a better boy—than ever before, made two doubles and a single and stole a base. Hornsby crashed out three singles and Sisler got three. The heavy stick-work was done by the veterans.

One interesting point this year is that the Washington Senators are going back into the struggle with the same crowd of "old men," led by their boy manager, Stan Harris. The Pirates world champions, opened the season with the championship team intact.

Who'll win? We won't wager a guess, but like you, and you, and you, we'll scan the box scores before breakfast each morning, dig up last year's figures to make ourselves believe we're absolutely right in our mental note book.

And we're going to see a game of baseball ever so often. If the prices are too far away, we'll skip out to the county league or industrial league brand, or the kids on the corner.

For there's something about a ball, a bat, a glove and four 90-foot oaths on a field that makes baseball the greatest sport in America.
