WORDS FROM THE LIPS OF GREAT MEN

"Labor is the Foundation of the Wealth of Every Country"—James Buchanan.

SPRINGFIELD INDUSTRIAL CENTER

If all the industrial plants that are now interested in Springfield free factory sites should locate here this city would easily lead all others, except Portland, in Oregon as an industrial center. Of course it is expecting too much that they would all come here but the value of Springfield's rail location, raw material, fresh water and electrical power is pretty well established. And also the free location is worth while. Surely we will land two or three good ones soon and probably more later.

The report of the year's county agent work bespeak the value of having a county agent. Surely much good will accrue to Lane county agriculture and livestock industry if this sort of service is continued. The present county agent is an energetic and practical thinking official as well as an expert trained in his line.

A ONE-TUBE SET

In an Alabama town a one-armed mayor fined a one legged man for striking a one-eyed police chief. The trial was a one-sided affair.

About the time Coolidge and the country gets going good on law enforcement (dry) advocacy, comes this fellow, Darrow, and says where would the world and the Christian religion be if the Romans and the Gauls had enforced the law. Oh, Well, 'tis said a fool can answer more questions than a wise man can answer.

America has become the largest fur consuming country in the world even exceeding Russia with a colder climate. The demand for fur on coats and dresses has brought about this wide use of fur.

A pig unearthed the most valuable salt mine in Europe. His brother unearthed the Teapot dome.

Co-eds in Japan take military training along with the men students. Hope we will never have to go to war with Japan.

Marriages are made in heaven, so we are told. Fords are made in Detroit but they don't stay there, say the wag.

Don't worry so much about the younger generation. Remember we were all younger generation once, and look at some of us now.

We are reminded that getting drunk used to be a disgrace. Now it is an accomplishment.

You can't always judge a man's character by what he thinks laughable.

There is plenty of room at the top but standing is mighty slippery.

SEVEN MILLION UTILITY INVESTORS IN COUNTRY

More than seven million individual investors have purchased the securities of electric and gas utility companies, telephone companies and electric transportation companies because of their confidence in these public utilities, says W. H. Hodge, of H. M. Hyllesby and Company, owners of the Mountain States Power Company of Casper.

The safety of their investments rests upon five underlying conditions, he says, which are:

First, the securities are issued by industries rendering services which serve the user money, time and inconvenience. They conserve, and do not waste; they build up and do not destroy.

Second, the investments are backed by tremendous physical plants and distribution systems, staked to and imbedded in the soil.

Third, modern gas, electric and telephone systems produce and distribute service at the lowest possible rates. Utility companies have held down rates during the past ten years while costs of everything entering into expenses have advanced greatly.
