COMMUNITY HOUSE TO BE CLUB'S OBJECTIVE

Establishment of a community house will be the chief objective of the Women's Civic club during 1927. It was decided at the annual meeting of the organization, Tuesday night. Plans for the new year and election of officers featured the session.

The club will enlist the support of other civic and fraternal organizations in pushing its plans for the community house, and a membership drive will probably be a part of the campaign. It is the plan to build a structure which will serve as a recreation and meeting center, and will include gymnastic equipment, a kitchen and banquet room, and similar features.

Need for such a center here was emphasized, and further plans will be developed when the Civic Club's new officers meet to discuss the new year's work shortly.

New officers named Tuesday night were Mrs. Bernice Van Valzah, president; Mrs. S. R. Dippel, vice-president; Mrs. I. A. Valentine, treasurer; Mrs. L. K. Page, secretary; Mrs. W. H. Stearmer, assistant secretary and Mrs. Paul Brattain, corresponding secretary.

The treasurer's report showed that the club took in $425.87 during the year, and spent $393.20 on civic improvement.

The next meeting will be on January 25. Club officers have urged that all Springfield women attend the meetings, as they are open to every one, as is membership in the organization.

LATE NEWS

He who sells ribbons:—"Did you say 'This is so sudden' when Mr. Kussman proposed?"

She (leaving to be married):—"I didn't have the audacity."

He who sell, etc.:—"Why?"

She:—"Well, you know how Kussman stutters."

WINTER SKIN TREATMENT

"Won't you please tell me how some girls manage to keep their skins so lovely and soft, despite the ravishing Winter cold, snow and winds."—A Reader.

It's really very easy to keep the skin from becoming chapped and red, if one will use a little foresight.

The face and hands should never be washed in soap and water just before going out into the cold. Even though they are carefully dried afterwards, the washing eliminates, temporarily, the surface oils from the skin, thus leaving it dry and susceptible to chapping.

The skin should be washed thoroughly at night, with warm water, pure soap, and a rough wash cloth. Be sure to rinse free from all soap. After drying, massage a soft cleansing cream into the skin, allow it to remain on for a few minutes before it is wiped off. Follow this with several applications of hot towels and then close the pores with cold water or by massaging the skin with a piece of ice wrapped in a soft cloth.

Then before going out, a cleansing cream is used rather than soap and water. After the surplus cream has been removed use cold towels or ice until the skin tingles and glows—then dry it very carefully and thoroughly. If vanishing cream is used, apply it next. Your skin is then ready for the rouge and powder.

So much for the prevention of rough skin—now for its remedy.

There are, of course, any number of remedies for chapped skin, but what helps one person will not always relieve another because of the wide variations in skins.

Glycerin and rose water is an old stand-by and most people find it very efficient. But if you've tried it and it unsatisfactory you might experiment a little by using different proportions. Possibly a little more glycerin and less rose water, or visa versa will prove more effective. Almond creams are good and camphor ice massaged into the skin in the same manner one would use a cold cream is exceptionally good, especially in aggravated cases.

All of these remedies should be applied after the skin has been thoroughly softened by washing so they can penetrate easily.

Chapped lips offer a real problem to some women and for them I know of no better remedy than to cultivate the regular use of the white pomade lipstick.

SOLDIERS NEED BRAIN. WE ARE RELIGIOUS. KILLING BREEDS KILLING. THE HATEFUL AGE.

A college authority, says college men fail, not for lack of learning, but for lack of CHARACTER. There is not enough discipline in universities, Dr. Brown tells the Union College Alumni Association. Colleges treat boys from 18 to 23 as though they were men, whereas usually they are children.

On the other hand the West Point Academy seems to overdo discipline. A first-year cadet, A. J. Van Leeuwen, trying to stand straight and stiff enough to please his superiors, strained too hard and broke his neck.

Young West Pointers, stiff and straight, are fine to see and gratifying to their superior officers. But it is an agile mind rather than a stiff neck that makes a great soldier. Napoleon was slouchy, also Frederick the Great.

Lord Inchcape says missionaries are to blame for the upheaval against Britain in China. This calls indignant denials from bishops and others.

Everybody should know that missionaries have done great good, not only spiritually but materially in the Far East, especially in a medical way. They have taught natives to take care of their bodies as well as their souls.

Some of them, it is true, have made money. The seven greatest sugar fortunes made in Hawaii all belonged to descendants of intelligent missionaries.

But what is there wrong about saving the souls of heathen and making a fortune, honestly, at the same time? One, or ten, talents should not be buried. The Bible says so.

Major Coupal, President Coolidge's physician, says some Egyptians had false teeth. He has a set found in the Nile mud made by the Greeks who now sell you fruit and other things.

Such teeth were rare. Even in George Washington's day the making of them was very clumsy. The ancients went through old age without false teeth or eye glasses.

No wonder they called old age "the hateful road."

The Egyptian Chamber of Deputies has passed a cotton limitation law, and for three years cotton planting in Egypt will be cut down two-thirds.

The Government thinks that the best way to solve low-price problem. Some may starve—but that is part of the game.

Here, thus far, Government decides that the best thing to do about cotton farmers is to do nothing. That also works, sometimes.

Attorney-General Ehafer of North Dakota wants the Legislature to restore the death penalty for murder. He says a burglar will shoot more recklessly if he knows the worst penalty is life imprisonment. In fact, those that practice robbery with violence deliberately select States where there is no gallows or electric chair.

Perhaps exceptions must be made in these days of promiscuous shooting, but it has been proved a thousand ways that, under normal conditions, murder increases when the Government sets an example in killing.

We are more religious than the people of England. There such questions as "Do you believe in God—in Immortality—in Hell—in Heaven—the Divine Birth of Christ," etc., bring all sorts of strange answers. Here we usually answer "Yes" to such questions.

Good times have something to do with it. Many are too prosperous and busy to devote much time to thinking or questioning.

LADIES OF G. A. R. INSTALL OFFICERS

Installation of officers will take place at a meeting of the Ladies of the G. A. R. tomorrow afternoon at Eggmann's hall, members of the Eugene circle will attend, and the guests will enjoy supper at 4:30 o'clock.

All civil war veterans, regardless of membership either in the Springfield or Eugene posts, have been invited to attend, according to Mrs. C. F. Eggmann, who will be installed president for her fourth term.

A LITTLE LATE

Percy—Oh, I have the most glorious news!
Esther (his cousin)—What is it?
Percy—Peggy has promised to be my wife!
Esther—So that's what you call news! A month ago she asked me to be her bridesmaid.

CLEVER TRAMP

The tramp paused outside the gate. "Clear out!" shouted the lady of the house. "I ain't got no wood to chop. There ain't nothing you could do here."
"But, madam, there is," retorted the wayfarer, with dignity. "I could give you a few lessons in grammar."

I'LL SAY SO!

Grandmother:—I suppose you have to stay up very late at college.
Grandson:—Yes, but really, Grandmother, it's worth it.

SECRETS OF THE OFFICE-BOY TRADE

Brown—How's you new office-boy getting along?
Grey—Fine! He's got things so mixed up that I couldn't get along without him.

SOME DAY IT MAY BE A WHALE

Tommy—Do fish grow very fast?
Billy—I should think so! Father caught one once and it grows six inches bigger every time he mentions it.
