FARM MARKET REVIEW

Corvallis, Oregon, August 11—

Grain: Reports of further spread of rust in the spring wheat areas of both the United States and Canada together with moderate offerings of winter wheat caused wheat markets to strengthen generally last week.

Livestock: Good killer cattle, especially lights were generally steady with poorer grades tending to weaken.

Butter: The San Francisco market was steady but at New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston markets were easy to unsettled with slight price decline.

Hay: Light receipts continued to give some strength to the cash market, but country trading was dull and western alfalfa draggy with practically no trading in the Yakima valley.

Wool: A strong situation with good volume of mill buying but country buyers retiring from the field feature last week's reviews.

Hairy Vetch: Recent reports confirm earlier ones of increased acreage and production and small carryover.

Apples: Latest reports indicate the smallest crop in the United States for twenty years except in 1921, but more apples in Canada, England and Europe than last year.

Pears: The United States pear crop is estimated at 69 per cent of last year. The Canadian production is relatively more promising than in this country and in Europe where production is expected to be much less than average except in the higher regions of Austria and Switzerland.
