SPRINGFIELD, LANE COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY OCTOBER 20, 1927

NUMBER 41

LOCAL INDUSTRY'S GROWTH IS RAPID

Dryped Chemical Company's Shipments Increasing Steadily; Capacity At New Location Is One Million Cans Annually.

Rapidly extending its business constituency over the west, the Dryped Chemical company is steadily increasing shipments of its waterproofing product, and is now sending out more than 500 cans a day, and on some days running to 2000 cans.

Ownership of the company has changed recently, with Dr. S. R. Jaynes and Thomas McKinnis now the sole proprietors. Headquarters of the business have been moved from West Springfield to the McKinnis building on Main street between Second and Third streets here. The move was forced by the expanding operations of the company.

In the new location, the company can handle between half a million and a million cans of "Dryped" annually, according to Dr. Jaynes. When the local company was first organized, a 200 can vat was used. The concern now uses a 2000 can vat, and can turn out as much as 8000 cans on some days.

Between two and nine men have been employed by the company steadily since August.

Shipments now go out all over the coast. Montana and Colorado have recently been added to the company's constituency, and Alaska shipments are also sent out from here. Operations of the company may be expanded even farther this winter, according to Dr. Jaynes.

An extensive advertising campaign has been carried on. "Dryped" is a waterproofing for all leather.

SIDEWALK PROGRAM IS NEARING COMPLETION

R. Pierrie and Son are nearing the end of their 1927 sidewalk building program, according to city hall officials. A few days of good weather, it was said, and the last of the cement construction will be finished and the crews laid off for the winter.

Probably the largest single summer's program of the kind here has been pushed by Pierrie and Son this year. Many cement walks have been linked by new construction work, and in a few instances, walks of considerable length have been built.

A. J. PERKINS BUYS EUGENE RESIDENCE

A. J. Perkins, formerly of Springfield, has purchased a residence in Eugene, and will make his permanent home there while he continues his business activities in Portland with the Guaranty Trust company. It was learned here this week. Mrs. Perkins will move to the Eugene residence immediately, but Mr. Perkins will be kept in Portland most of the time, it was said.

Mr. Perkins was a visitor in Springfield over the weekend. Farel Perkins, his son, and wife and baby, have moved to Santa Ana, California, where Mr. Perkins will operate a service station.

ONE SPRINGFIELD BOY BACK FROM COLORADO

The other boys are still at Hotchkiss, but are planning to come home as soon as possible, according to Neet. They are Joe Thompson, Edgar Louk, and Wilfred Gelger.

Grid Team Faces Hard Game Friday

Cottage Grove Fresh From Win Over Roseburg; Locals Whip Brownsville

The seemingly increasing power of the Springfield football team will be put to the test tomorrow afternoon when the strong Cottage Grove high school eleven will invade this city to battle the locals on the Brattain grounds. The game is called for 3.15.

The two teams are traditional rivals. Last year, the crack Springfield team managed to annex a victory, and Coach Mayfield's proteges are determined to repeat the performance tomorrow. A later game between the two will be played at Cottage Grove, indicates that the Springfield team will have no pink-tea drinkers to conquer, if conquer it does, at Friday's game. In fact, the Grove high school appears to have a cracking good team.

Although far outweighed, the Grovers won a decisive victory, 19 to 7, over the Roseburg high school eleven at Grove last Friday. On both offense and defense, the Grove outfit showed excellent form, and a pretty aerial attack was responsible for at least part of the victory over the Douglas county seaters.

On the Grove team the line-up will look about like this tomorrow:

On the other hand, the Springfield team is demonstrating constantly improving style, as witness the 19 to 0 victory over Brownville at Brattain field last Saturday. Francis Deeds showed up especially well for the locals.

With each team hopped up by fresh victories, tomorrow's battle should provide plenty of torrid struggling for supremacy.

MARTHA MOORE, 14, TO BE BURIED ON FRIDAY

Martha Henrietta Moore, 14, who has lived with Mr. and Mrs. Ward of West Springfield for several years, died this morning at 4:30 o'clock at the Pacific Christian hospital in Eugene. HAMLIN NAMED HEAD OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AT DIRECTORS MEETING

F. B. Hamlin, postmaster, was made president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce for the unexpired term of Herbert Cox, resigned, at a directors' meeting Monday night.

Mr. Hamlin's advancement left the vice-presidency vacant, and H. E. Maxey was appointed to this position. Mr. Maxey will serve during the postmaster's vacation, which he started this week.

The appointments will hold only until the annual election, which occurs on November 25. The new officers will assume duties December 23.

Mr. Cox's resignation was accepted with regrets by the board. The former president was forced to relinquish the position due to business duties which kept him out of the city during the day, he said.

SCOUT COURT OF HONOR TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY

The monthly court of honor of the Springfield Boy Scouts will be conducted next Tuesday night at the Christian church gymnasium, with scouts of both local troops participating.

Local National Guard Sergeant Goes to Georgia On February 1

Griffis, Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 162nd Infantry, Springfield, to Fort Benning to attend the communications school for non-commissioned officers. Sergeant Griffis will be ordered to proceed to Fort Benning so as to report there on February 1."

Community Week Programs Successful

FINAL COMMUNITY WEEK MEETINGS IMPORTANT MUSICAL PLANS MADE

"To obtain the greatest good from the community week events, one must not fail to attend the final meetings. Previous experience has shown that it is from these that the greatest inspiration for community service is obtained," said Capt. C. S. Nusbaum, director of the community week, today.

"At the final meeting tomorrow night, an appeal to the people living in surrounding territory, especially, will be made," he continued. "We should have a large attendance of townspeople and farmers. It will be the summing up of the whole week, and we want to put our best into it."

Musical programs for the final meetings are of especial merit.

At tonight's meeting Robert McKnight, prominent vocalist of the university of Oregon school of music, will sing. Miss Winifrid Tyson and Miss Agatha Beals, Springfield girls, will give a piano solo.

On Friday night, the high school orchestra, directed by Miss Grace Potter, will give several selections. Accompanied by Miss Tyson, Miss Potter will give a clarinet solo, and Miss Tyson will present a piano solo.

No. 3—George Mason, leader; Carol Adams, assistant.

Billy Wheeler was elected scribe of the troop.

Recently Earl Wheeler was advanced from senior patrol leader to scout instructor, and Peyton Oederkirk made senior leader.

MT. STATES DIG MORE TEST WELLS FOR WATER

More test wells, bringing the number up to 14, have been driven during the last few weeks by the Mountain States Power company in an effort to locate a new water supply for Springfield. Most of the wells have been driven on the Industrial tract east of town and some closer to the river. The company officials indicate that they have not been satisfied with what has been found, none of the wells as yet yielding sufficient water for a city this size.

The test well has been driven from 30 to 75 feet. In all the wells volcanic ash was encountered. W. C. McLagan, local engineer of the company, says he believes that this ash came from the prehistoric mountain, "Mount Multnomah," in the Three Sisters region or some nearer volcano in centuries past.

Chrysanthemum Elects

The Chrysanthemum club elected Mrs. W. H. Adrian president at a meeting held yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. A. Seavey. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. B. A. Washburne.

Hundreds Hearing Captain C. S. Nusbaum, Community Builder; Friday Night Farmers Are Given Special Invitation To Meet With Townspeople.

Three successful meetings have been held on the Springfield Community Week program and Captain C. S. Nusbaum, community builder, has sent his hearers away each night with new ideas and ideals. Two more meetings will be held this week: Tonight when Captain Nusbaum speaks on "The Home and the Community," and Friday night, "The Building of a Real Community." The meetings are being held in the Odd Fellows building.

Last night 150 people attended the meeting and heard Captain Nusbaum speak on the "Investment of Life's Forces in the Community." He proved to his audience that the time and energy put in building of a community and serviceto one's fellow men bring the greatest returns of any investment.

The banquet at the Methodist church Monday evening and the first meeting held in the Odd Fellows building Tuesday evening were attended by about 100 people. Everybody who has heard Captain Nusbaum at these meetings has been convinced that he is an orator of unusual ability and has information that everyone should hear.

Speaks on Home Tonight

His talk tonight on "The Home and the Community" is especially for the parents and young people and Captain Nusbaum promises some helpful advice on how to live and be happy. He expects this to be one of his big nights in Springfield.

Farmers' Night Friday

Friday night has a special appeal to the farmers as well as the townspeople and Captain Nusbaum will explain how town and countryside can unite in building of a real community. He shows that only by cooperation between the two can a community hope to prosper and develop to the fullest extent.

Townspeople are urged to invite country people whom they know to this meeting. While everyone is welcome to attend special invitations should be sent wherever possible.

The week's program is being put on under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce with other clubs assisting. The dinner Monday night was served by the Ladies Civic Club.

Captain Nusbaum has also spoken at the schools this week.

HOPES HELD BRIGHT FOR ACTION ON NEW BRIDGE

Some hope that the highway commission may be able to take early action on the Springfield bridge plans, regardless of the decision of the public service commission on the Second street closing, was expressed today by County Commissioner Martin Anderson.

"While it will be impossible to do actual physical work on the bridge until spring, it is possible to go ahead with plans for the structure, so that all will be ready for the actual work," he said. "The highway body seems optimistic over the proposition, despite the fact the closing remains uncertain."

Mr. Anderson said that an inspection of the old bridge had brought about a decision by the county court to abandon plans for replanking the bridge deck, as announced recently. The present decking, he said, is altogether safe, and it seems inadvisable to spend money on new decking which would be torn out next summer when the new span is built.

The state highway commission is shaping plans for protecting the Pacific highway in West Springfield in event of floods this winter. Shoulders on the paving are being reinforced and other work done.

The Southern Pacific is still working on the strengthening of the trestle near the overhead crossing at Glenwood. Concrete bases for the trestle are being constructed.
