Farm Leaders in the Making

Harold C. Stimson, Donor Annually, of a Fine Heifer; Club Girl, Carmen Daniel—1926 Winner—And Her Prize.

Each year Harold C. Stimson, owner of the famous Hollywood Farm of Washington, presents a splendid Holstein heifer for the best work in Livestock activities, done by Club boys and girls in the Northwest. Carmen Daniel of Cove, Oregon, outstanding Club girl in Holstein activities in the United States for 1926, was the winner of last year's award.

Over 11,000 boys and girls are doing Club work in Oregon, an equally large number in Washington, and over 600,000 in the United States at large.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work is found at its best at Camp Plummer during the week of the Annual Pacific-International Livestock Exposition at Portland, to be held this year, October 29 to November 5, inclusive. Here the Northwest's future agricultural and livestock leaders obtain one week's practical instruction in the science of farming. Boys and girls come from all parts of the Northwest to participate in the inspiring exercises held annually at the Camp.

Over $100,000 in premiums are given each year at the Pacific International for exhibits of Pure Bred Livestock and Agricultural Products. The Exposition combines great Livestock Show, Dairy Products Show, Land and Manufacturers' Show, Northwest Fox Show, Wool Show, Industrial Exposition, and the world's greatest Horse Show.

That the Pacific International is one of the great assets of Agriculture and Livestock interests in this western country is now conceded without question. 150,000 people from all parts of the nation are expected to attend this year. Special fare-and-one-third rates to Portland during the Exposition are to be in effect on all the leading railroads of the Northwest.

Once in a Lifetime

Ruth Lee Taylor, 20 years old, of Portland, Ore., is one of the few exceptions who finds sudden fame in the movies. Because she is young—and pretty—and BLONDE—she goes from comedy filler to lead for Lasky in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

SHERIFF INVESTIGATING PIERCE BOY'S SHOOTING

A few oddly shaped fragments of lead and steel form the basis of an investigation being conducted by the sheriff's office and district attorney in connection with the fatal shooting of Earl Pierce, 13, in the Swisshome district late last week.

The fragments, parts of a bullet, were taken from the boy's body at a partial autopsy yesterday. Sheriff Taylor took them to Portland, where a bullet was to be reconstructed in order to determine whether or not it came from the shell found in the Pierce boy's gun.

If this is proved, the investigation probably will be dropped. If not, the theory is that the boy was shot by a bullet from the gun of a deer hunter, and the county's officer will make a thorough probe of the entire affair before dropping the matter.

Return From San Francisco—James and Dolbert Mitchell, who have been for several months at San Francisco and Oakland, returned here early Tuesday morning and will remain with their parents in this city. They were employed in the bay district, and drove to Oregon by motor car.

Olson is Transferred—Oswald Olson, formerly connected with the local office of the Southern Pacific, has been transferred to this point. He served several months at the terminals in Eugene.

Visitors Here from Montana—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pirtle and son and daughter of Loma, Montana, have arrived and will spend the winter with Mrs. Pirtle's mother, Mrs. F. F. Barnard.

Comfort and Satisfaction

Are your glasses giving the comfort and satisfaction they formerly did? If not, your eyes should be examined and glasses made according to the new prescription.

Our complete examination will reveal whether your old glasses are still suited to your eyes. Your eyesight is priceless—Delays are dangerous. Have your eyes examined today.

WHO WILL BE THE MAN? THE VANISHING BOB. PROGRESS AND SACRIFICE. BREWERY STOCK.

Now is the time to pick your candidate, with President Coolidge "not choosing," which means that he does not intend to be a candidate.

Hoover, Mellon, Hughes, Lowden or a dark horse, who will it be?

Charles Evans Hughes is back from Europe, with "nothing to say to reporters," a dangerous sign with a national convention near.

Mr. Hughes never said, "I am too old to be President," that would be preposterous, from one of the most hard working men in public life. He did say, "I am too old TO RUN for President."

Secretary Mellon is back from Europe, also "with nothing to say to reporters."

Secretary Mellon was walking up Park avenue in New York City last week, looking about half his age and going at a rate that would have taken him from his desk in the Treasury building to the front door of the White House in considerably less than a minute and a half.

The Smithsonian Institution will have a weather station in southwest Africa. There, high up in the air, in the dry, clear atmosphere, science will study the sun, calculate solar radiation, and, if hopes are realized, predict weather as much as a week or a month, and even one year, in advance.

It has taken men a long while to find out that what they have and what happens to them depends largely on the big star that lights their short lives.

"Curls are coming back," says a professor of physiology, even "puff girls" and the "shingle" will pass. Common sense is with the bob. Romance with the puffed curl. You could not imagine Martha Washington with a bob.

No great thing is achieved without sacrifice. Those distressed by loss of life in flying may remember that the total number of deaths in trans-Atlantic flying is smaller than the number killed automobiling on any fine Sunday. The thing is to keep on and conquer.

C. V. Miller, of Toronto, left brewery stock to seven Methodist ministers and Ontario Jockey Club shares to opponents of race track gambling. At the end of nine years, the proceeds of his estate go to the parents of the largest family born in the province during that time.

Methodist ministers, to get the $75,000 brewery stock, must draw the dividends and vote on the company's management "to see whether their avarice for money was greater than their principles."

The ministers, of course, will do what is necessary to collect the money, and use it for prohibition propaganda, thus thwarting Satan.

Leaving your money to the biggest family is dull. The mouse would beat any human being, the shad would beat a mouse, and the female oyster, with her millions of youngsters each year would make the shad look like birth control. Leaving money to poor parents that take the best care of their

SPANIARDS EXTEND WARM HOSPITALITY TO YANKEES SAYS EMBASSY SECRET'RY

The American who visits Spain today is greeted with the warmest of Spanish hospitality and cordiality, according to John N. Hamlin, third secretary of the American embassy at Madrid, who is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hamlin.

In former times, he said, the Spanish were more reserved in their welcome to American tourists, but the growth of a better understanding between attended the state university two eliminated much of this conservatism and it has been replaced by a warm friendliness, said Mr. Hamlin.

At the same time, Spain has been improving its attractions to tourists, constructing new hotels and better roads, and the country gives the visiting American many places of interest to visit.

In this connection, Mr. Hamlin said that there is to be a great international exposition at Seville in October 1928, in which Spain, Portugal, the United States, and nearly all the Latin American countries are to participate. The United States government has appropriated $700,000 for exhibits at this exposition, and a tract of land on which to locate them has been leased. In the Spring of 1929, another international exposition is to be conducted at Barcelona, and many of the United States exhibits will be taken to this fair.

Mr. Hamlin is home on a furlough and will be here about 60 days. He went to Europe first as secretary of the American legation at Tirana, Albania, later being transferred to Madrid. He arrived here Sunday, and has been spending part of his time on the University of Oregon campus. He attended the state university two years before going to Harvard.

Supreme!

Bill Tilden, great French tennis ace, has finally topped our Big Bill Tilden from the throne he ruled so many years. Lacoste won the American title last year—and this month defeated Tilden—the team taking the Davis cup to France.

children might be a good idea. But money left for benevolent purposes—excepting science and education—is usually wasted. The work you do while you live counts; there's no knowing what your money may do after you.

Great Britain intends to protect ignorant investors against get-rich-quick stock salesmen and other schemers. Peddling stocks from door to door is to be stopped, selling stocks through the mail restricted and watched. The oil, real estate, and mining schemes that rob investors in this country would not be possible in Great Britain.

Came Right Back

Dad said: "My son, when Henry Ford was your age he was earning his own living." The young hopeful replied: "Yes, dad, and before he was YOUR age he was worth a billion dollars."

To be sure we can't all become billionaires. But industry, economy and careful management will put any one on the road to a competency, especially if the savings are kept in a good bank like ours, where they will be SECURE and subject to call when needed.
