ARMISTICE DAY!

America today enjoys an era of world leadership which was hastened in no small measure by those who faced Eastward ten years ago—sailing to the old world in the cause of humanity. Full credit, except at home, perhaps has never been given American arms in that world conflict. Nevertheless, as time sums up the part we played, there will be no wonder that a nation such as ours should establish itself as a power for good—and be an acknowledged leader.

"He suffered that we might smile; he died that we might live. He made the supreme sacrifice that we, on this side of the world, might carry on in the ideals our forefathers died for in '76. He sleeps; but his memory is active in the heart of every American."

The Unknown Soldier and his seventy thousand comrades who fell beside him occupy a shrine in our hearts. Let us not forget our dead. But let us also remember those of our boys whom the gods of war spared.

THIS STORE WILL REMAIN CLOSED ON FRIDAY, ARMISTICE DAY.

WIDOWS CLUB TO DINE ON EVENING OF NOV. 18

Dinner at the home of Mrs. A. B. Van Valsah is to be enjoyed on the evening of November 18 by members of the Springfield widows club, it was announced today.

The newly-organized group is now meeting regularly, the last meeting being at the home of Mrs. Pearl Clark. Organization took place a few weeks ago, the club being purely social, and limiting its membership to the widows of the city.

"We are having a good time, and that's our only purpose," said Mrs. Van Valsah. "We notice that in Eugene a bachelor's club is being organized. We are not in opposition to that club, and we venture to say that we are not organized for the same purpose."

Wilbur McPherson Ill—Wilbur McPherson, son of Alvy McPherson, has been seriously ill for some time.

Goes to Philadelphia—J. Twortle of Pengra purchased a Southern Pacific ticket here this week for Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Camel

Made for one purpose —to promote pleasure

Camel is attuned to the mood of the smoker who seeks pleasures rather than panaceas. Offered as a cheer not as a cure.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.
