With the maintenance of the McKenzie highway all under the state control the road should be kept in better condition next summer. Heretofore the various road districts along the highway and the country have kept up those portions of the highway not taken over by the state. The result has been when one section was good perhaps another right next to it would be poor. With the equipment the state has at hand it will no doubt look after the road better than the county was able to do.

The school board announces it will probably be able to reduce the district debt about $4,000 this year. That's the best news of its kind we've heard for a long time. Progress on paying off the bonded and warrant indebtedness of District 19 has been slow heretofore. It was beginning to look like the school houses would be worn out before they were half paid for. Patrons should back up the board in its economy program.

The grandfather of George Vallier, our congenial street commissioner, had a homestead on the ground where Milwaukee now stands. If the grandfather had had the foresight as to what the German's and their beer would have done on his place in the future, George would be wealthy now perhaps. But, the French never did understand the Germans.

Hoover is found to be the choice of Oregon republicans by straw vote. Well Oregon would be a pretty poor state to not favor one of its own sons with a record like Hoovers. He should get all of the votes on the first ballot at least at the national convention.

The Kafoury sale now going on is evidence what good advertising and merchandising can accomplish. Saturday, the opening, was probably the biggest sale's day ever witnessed in Springfield. Hundreds of people from every point from Blackbutte to Brownsville were on hand and bought liberally.

Three to four foot of snow on the McKenzie pass at this time of the year when there is generally two or three times that much indicates we will have an early spring and low water this summer.

Mothers go through a lot for their sons. Mrs. Emma McMahon, 106 years old, of Kansas city is a supervisor in a knitting mill. She supports her 70 year old son whom she says it "too old and feeble to work."

A Frenchman was found to have wives in 30 towns. No traveling salesman even in Utah could beat that.

A Scottish woman has been arrested for swindling a score of men after promising to marry them. She must be an accomplished woman to beat that many scotchmen, or are the Scots so canny as they are supposed to be?

A Canadian has invented a folding airplane. Soon we will be carrying our transportation under our arms and coming to work over the housetops like a flock of birds.

Miss Maude Wetmore, of Rhode Island, is the new president of the Women's National Republican club. Can't see where the drys can find satisfaction in a name like that.

RECORD PLOWED FURROW

Last fall an Arkansas farmer plowed an unbroken furrow a mile long and "straight as a ruled line on a piece of paper"—so he reported to his local newspaper and thereby started something.

An Oklahoman soon announced that he had plowed a furrow a mile longer than the Arkansan's, but his record didn't stand very long. A Kansas farm hand came to the front with a furrow that beat the Oklahoma farmer boy's by more than half a mile. Then another Kansan produced witnesses to support his assertion that had plowed an unbroken furrow of five miles which he declared, was "the longest on record in the United States."

But someone in Washington looked into the records. It was discovered that George De Cow, a Government land locating agent at Meade, Kansas, in the summer of 1885 had plowed an unbroken furrow sixty miles long. It was necessary to establish a public road between Meade and Ulysses. Between the two towns stretched level prairie land. Mr. De Cow hitched a plow behind a wagon and "with the aid of a compass a bee line was made to Ulysses and an unbroken furrow plowed all the way, a distance of sixty miles." Mr. De Cow's sixty-mile furrow will probably be an all-time record.

DR. FRANK CRANE SAYS

THE MORAL ASPECT OF THE WAGE SYSTEM

Usually the money-making individual gets a very black eye from most high-brow writers. They think if a man does a thing in order to get money he should be somewhat ashamed of it.

I wish to say a good word for the desire to make money. It seems to me it is about the most wholesome desire in the human bosom.

What would we do unless people could make money? The gas we burn in the house would remain in the coal if there were no profits in taking it out and piping it to the residence.

You could not have electricity unless it paid somebody to bring it to your house.

You would have to do without most of the food you eat and the clothes you wear if nobody could make a profit by supplying you with them.

We should be very glad to give these middlemen something for their brains. Without their services life would be barren indeed.

Giving people wages or pay is the way we induce people to do something for us which we cannot do or do not want to do ourselves.

Formerly we had a system of slavery by which men did what we didn't want to do.

The conscience of the world rebelled against that, and now to get a man to do for us what we do not want to do ourselves, or cannot do, we simply pay him. Without this system of paying people for their labor there would be none of it done for us.

The wage system beautifies our lives, fills it with comforts and luxuries and the whole fabric of society rests upon it.

Every man or woman should not only be busy but should be busy about something that the world is willing to pay for.

When somebody pays for what you do, you may be sure your work is needed. If you are just working for nothing, you may be more of a nuisance than a benefit.

The wage system is a test by which you know that your work is appreciated.

No man should be ashamed of getting wages. Everybody of any account works for a wage in one form or another.

Of course he should do nothing dishonorable or disgraceful, but he should not do that, anyhow. So, eliminating all wicked or criminal or selfish acts, the best way to test the usefulness of your activities is to see whether anybody wants to pay for them or not.

"Luckies never cut my wind" says Billy Burch, Captain of N. Y. Americans' Hockey Team

"I can't afford to take any chances with my physical condition. That's why I stick to Luckies. In addition to the pleasure I get from their fine flavor, they have never cut my wind to any noticeable degree. Finally, I never suffer with sudden coughing which might be very dangerous for me when there's a scramble on the ice."
