

SIX AMENDMENTS ARE SUBMITTED TO PEOPLE

Salem, March 4. Six constitutional amendments are to be submitted to the people of Oregon at the next special or general election and one at the next general election. Whether a special election will be held depends upon whether referendum petitions are filed against the excise tax bill or the inangibles tax bill.

The six to be submitted at the special election are:

H. J. R. 1—Providing for the repeal of Article XI-b of the constitution. This is the long article adopted in 1919, under which interest on Oregon irrigation district bonds were guaranteed by the State. The article consists of thirteen sections and in words is the longest article and longest amendment in the constitution. It is under this part of the constitution that more than ten million dollars of irrigation district bonds have defaulted at immense loss to the purchasers of those bonds and substantial loss to the general taxpayers of Oregon in having had to pay five years of interest without reimbursement by the defaulting irrigation districts.

S. J. R. 11—It to amend section 32 of Article I, to permit the Legislature to classify and subclassify property, including motor vehicles, and to take into consideration the element of value and depreciation in levying an excise tax without specific assessment of the property so classified. This amendment is intended to provide for taxing used motor vehicles on a different basis from new motor vehicles.

S. J. R. 12—Is to amend section 1 of Article IX. Its purpose is identical with S. J. R. 11, although a different part of the constitution is amended to bring it into harmony.

H. J. R. 20—Is to amend section 3 of Article IV, to provide that a vacancy in the office of senator or representative may be filled as provided by law. Heretofore a complete method has been lacking for nomination and election to fill such a vacancy.

H. J. R. 25—Is to amend section 29 of Article IV, to provide $500 pay for each member of the Legislature for each two years served plus $3.00 for each twenty miles traveled to and from the meeting. Presiding officers would receive one-half additional.

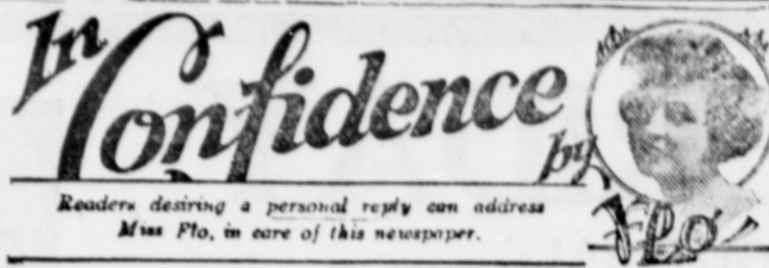

S. J. R. 6—Is to amend section 1, Article XI-c, the World War Veterans Aid amendment, to provide indebtedness may be incurred to 4% instead of 3% of the assessed valuation of state. It also is to extend privilege of loans to Spanish American, Philippine and Boxer war veterans serving between February 14, 1898 and July 4, 1902; reduce loan limit from $4000 to $3000; widow or dependent father or mother of any person who has died (whether in service or not at time of death) and who has not received loan entitled to, to be made eligible to loan. Also to extend loans to persons not residents of Oregon at time of enlistment or induction, who has been bona fide resident for 10 years continuously prior to application for loan, interest on such loans to exceed by 1/2% the rate of interest on state bonds.

To be submitted at the general Election of November, 1930 is the MacPherson amendment for cabinet form of government:

S. J. R. 16—Is to add two new sections, 19 and 20, to Article V of the constitution. It provides that administrative functions of state are to be exercised by governor with assistance of nine departments: (1) Agriculture, (2) Labor and Industry, (3) Financial Administration, (4) Commerce, (5) Education, (6) Public Works and Domain, (7) Health and Public Welfare, (8) State Police and Military Affairs, (9) Legal Affairs. All officers and commissions except governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, are to be abolished July 1, 1931, and duties transferred to said departments by law. Department of education shall be in charge of nine directors to be appointed by governor with consent of senate.

If no special election is caused, all seven of these constitutional amendments will be before the people at the November general election of 1930.

Baby Born—A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Becker on B street last Sunday morning.

Readers desiring a personal reply can address Miss Flo, in care of this newspaper.

They Wink at Her

Dear Miss Vera,
I have a problem which I wish you to solve for me. I am in High School and a girl in my teens and many boys wink at me. What should I do, smile, turn my head, or what? Please tell me what to do.

Dear Nella, just pay no attention if you do not know the boy who winks at you, and the winking will soon stop. Simply act as if you do not know he is winking. If you know a boy who winks at you, speak to him and politely ask him to stop doing so.

Excuses

Dear Miss Vera,
I have been going with a fellow who comes to see me about five Sundays right along, then doesn't come for a few weeks. He always has an excuse, and I always believe. He says he loves me and can hardly wait until he sees me. Why can't he see me on Saturday night or any other night? Why the excuses? But still his actions tell me that he loves me, and I do think a lot of him.
BROWN EYES.

Dear Brown Eyes, I hardly know how to answer your letter, for the questions you ask me are hard to answer—they can best be answered by the boy. Ask him why he can't see you any other night than Sunday. Ask him why he always makes excuses. I am sure if he loves you he will give you satisfactory answers.

A Broken Date

Dear Miss Vera,
A boy has been trying to see me for weeks, and I always refused to make a date with him—just to tease him. Finally I made a date with him and he did not show up. Later he said he had been feeling ill, but I suspect that he broke the date out of revenge. What do you think?
BELLE.

Dear Belle, I think that probably he really was ill, since he had been so anxious to see you. Why be so suspicious? And why tease him in that way? Make another date with him now and see if he keeps it. I don't see how your explanation could have occurred to you—it seems outlandish to me to think he would try to get revenge by not keeping a date he was anxious to make. In that event, why should he have excused himself and explained afterwards?

POISON BARLEY FOR SQUIRRELS DISTRIBUTED; TO ENFORCE RODENT LAW

Poison barley for use in the campaign against gray digger ground squirrels was delivered to dealers in all parts of Lane County during the past week by O. S. Fletcher, county agent. The county agent states that he has prepared three tons of poison barley for the 1929 campaign. The poison is put up in five-pound bags that sell at fifty cents each.

Following is a list of places in this county where poison barley can be purchased: Springfield, at part of the county where poison barley is sold; Gray's Cash and Carry store; Waltherville, Sylvester's store; Marcola, Walter Price store and Merwin store; Fall Creek, R. C. Brewer store; Lowell, F. E. Blair store; Dexter, Wm. Williams' store; Trent, J. R. Woods store; Eugene, Oregon Seed and Feed company, Brogdon Feed and Seed store, Farmers Union Warehouse company, and the county agent's office.

The state rodent control law requiring all persons having charge of land to poison ground squirrels on their holding will be enforced in Lane county against this year, according to the county agent. Official notice in regard to this matter will be found in another column of this paper. The county agent states that under this law squirrels on 11,003 acres in fifty-two tracts neglected by the owners were poisoned at the expense of the owners in 1928 and the expenses charged against the land and collected with the taxes. Land owners are advised to see to it that tenants poison squirrels on their lands.

Farm organizations and community committees in all parts of the county are cooperating with the county agent in the squirrel control campaign and rodent control supervisors will be appointed in all school districts where squirrel control is a problem.

BECKET FUNERAL HELD HERE SATURDAY 2 P. M.

The funeral service of Benjamin B. Becket, 81, who passed away in this city last Thursday, was held at the Walker-Poole chapel Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. A. C. Archer officiating. After the funeral the body was shipped to Wilson, Kansas, the deceased's old home, where interment was held.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. M. J. Betcket, of this city, a son, F. C. Becket, of Portland, and a daughter, Mrs. Art F. Watz, of Dorance, Kansas.

PARTY HONORS CHILD'S BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Many beautiful presents delighted the heart of little Betty Jean Jacobson, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Jacobson, at a pleasant little birthday party given her at her home last Saturday afternoon. Seventeen little ones gathered together at the party and enjoyed an afternoon of children's games and refreshments.

Present were: Benlah Martin, Agnes Moon, Mayetta Moon, Landon Macornack, Peter Chase, Henry Chase, Loy May Rodenbough, Patty Lou Tomseth, Clover Jean Cox, Ruth Houk, Gloria May Green, Wallace Elliott, Elene Baker, Betty Aldrich, Bobbie Aldrich, Claire Nelson and Lucille Malosh.

RED CROSS WORKERS GO TO MCKENZIE BRIDGE

Miss Marie Annin, Red Cross secretary of Eugene, and Miss Leta Brownlee of Portland, field representative for the Red Cross, were in Springfield Saturday enroute to points up the McKenzie. They spent Saturday afternoon at McKenzie bridge and way points inspecting Red Cross cases.

The needy condition in Springfield, according to Mrs. M. B. Huntly, local Red Cross representative, is about the same as during the previous few weeks. So far the opening up in the weather has not provided much employment for those who are looking for work, she says.

Do You "Charge It" or "Save It"?

The Modern Woman knows that Good Housekeeping isn't a matter of drudgery, but of wise spending and intelligent saving.

She doesn't say "Charge It" because she knows that it always costs less when you pay cash, and she prefers to put that saving into her own bank account.

Carrying her package home is another sensible economy she is glad to make.

Are you a "Charge Account" or a "Bank Account Housekeeper"? We cordially invite both types to visit our store and judge for themselves just how much they can save by paying cash

She called it SIN —he called it A Noble Sacrifice

... who was right?

STANDING in the shadows, Marvin Smith saw Jack's young wife come swiftly, silently into the moonlight.

How tired she looked—how ragged her clothes. His pulse quickened. She was getting tired of the struggle. Soon, she would come to him...

"Bobbie," he whispered. She stilled a cry. "What are you doing here?"

They were close to each other now, his body aflame, his arms aching to hold her.

"Let me help you, Bobbie! I love you—I want to help you—"

"But my husband..." "He'll never know. You ought to do it for his sake, Bobbie—he needs care and medical attention."

"For his sake!" She thought wildly. She had come to these desolate hills a young bride—eager for the love-nest Jack had promised. Love-nest! There were no comforts, not even the bare necessities. Now Jack lay injured... penniless... in pain...

And here was Marvin Smith, offering her money, comfort, luxury! His handsome face was bent close to hers.

"It would be sin," she whispered. "It would be a noble sacrifice," he said. Who was right?

As a result, certain definite specifications were developed for tires for the new Ford. These specify cords of certain strength and texture, a large volume of tread and side-wall rubber, sturdy non-skid design, and reinforced plies for protection against bruise breaks—all the strong features of construction formerly considered for only the largest tires.

Great care also was taken to secure the best riding qualities in connection with the transverse springs and the Houdaille shock absorbers.

At the end of each 5000 miles, when you have the front wheels packed with grease, it is a good plan to have the wheel alignment checked. This will prevent premature wear.

When punctures come, as they will with any tire, you will find the Ford dealer particularly well-equipped to make repairs quickly and at small cost. See him, too, for replacements. Then you will be sure of getting tires built specially for the Ford car according to definite Ford specifications.
