COURT ACTION TAKEN ON RIGHT-OF-WAYS FOR NEW HIGHWAY

Condemnation proceedings were started in the circuit court by Lane county yesterday for the purpose of obtaining a right-of-way for the new McKenzie highway being built between here and Cogswell Hill across the properties of two farms, the of A. L. Currie and the farm of Frederic J. Gray and Maud Gray. The Currie property is close to the point where the new route will leave the present highway and the Gray property is further east.

All of the right-of-ways have been obtained and work is rapidly progressing on the construction. There will be no big fills or cuts and no difficult detours. Commissioner Clinton Hurd believes. Telephone lines on the section between here and the point where the new road will leave the old one must be moved to provide way for the widening process. Appraisals are being made on the W. F. Reed property west of the Springfield bridge bordering the Pacific Highway and the county court will endeavor to settle the matter of this right-of-way with the owner after the appraisals have been made.
