Laura La Plante in "Show Boat" at the McDonald Theatre.

Plucking a rag-time banjo, and singing the "hot" coon songs of three decades ago, Laura La Plante, as Magnolia in Carl Laemmle's super talking picture "Show Boat," coming to the McDonald Theatre, Sunday, makes a charming and tuneful heroine.

"Show Boat" As Talking Picture Is Announced For Next Sunday

Universal Super Adaptation of Noted Edna Ferber Novel Features Laura La Plante and Joseph Schildkraut

Manager Brown of the McDonald theatre, Eugene, announces that "Show Boat," the super talking and singing version of the famous Edna Ferber novel, is coming to the screen of that theatre next Sunday. This should be interesting news for theatre goers here, as "Show Boat" is reported to be one of the most enterprising films ever made.

It is a Universal production, sponsored by Carl Laemmle, and directed by Harry Pollard, with Laura La Plante and Joseph Schildkraut in the leading roles. Such favorites as Otis Harlan, Emily Fitzroy and Alma Rubins are featured in the strong cast.

By special arrangement with Florenz Ziegfeld, producer of the stage musical extravaganza, "Show Boat," from the same story, the Laemmle picture includes movie-toned highlights from the show, with such popular Ziegfeld stars as Helen Morgan, Jules Bledsoe and Aunt Jemima singing their popular song hits from the Ziegfeld musical comedy.

The screen production is rich in music, from the strident steam calliope tunes of long ago down to the negro spirituals so popular today. The glittering show boat band, the groups of darkies on the wharves, the coon-shouters of the Chicago music halls, all contribute to make this picture an epic of the development of America's popular music.

A room filled with rich brocades, silks and velvets of Oriental pattern, with shaded lights and soft cushions, but with bullet-proof glass at the windows and peep holes in the panneling of the doors, is Florence Vidor's boudoir in her role of a white woman who penetrates the secrets of Chinatown in the Paramount all-talking production, "Chinatown Nights."

Miss Vidor is featured with Wallace Beery in this story, adapted from an original story by Samuel Ornitz, "Tong War," in "Chinatown Nights," Miss Vidor is called upon for one of the most exacting dramatic portrayals of her career.

William A. Wellman, director of four other successful Paramount pictures, "Wings," "Legion of the Condemned," "Beggars of Life," and "Ladies of the Mob," directed this picture, and will show at the McDonald theatre until Saturday night, with a new "Collegian" talking comedy and Vitaphone act also on the bill.

Barnes Circus Coming

The all new production of the A. G. Barnes circus is coming to Cottage Grove for its Lane county showing on May 17.

Advertising agents representing A. G. Barnes Circus have been posting pictorial circus bills in this vicinity announcing the coming of this excellent show, and advertisements will be found in our columns this week. The management of the A. G. Barnes Circus announces the following features this year:

"The all new spectacle, entitled 'Alladin and the Parade of Gold,' in which approximately 1,000 people take part, including the Chinese beauty, Lola Lee Chong; the two Mastodons, Tusko and the mighty Tusko; Klinkhardt's equestrian midgets, fourteen tiny horsemen from Bavaria; San Marcus, the $16,000 equine star; the zebra round-up, with the largest herd in captivity in America; and many other novel features and performances given by American and foreign artists, also animals from every part of the world.

"Two performances are given daily, the afternoon show at 2 o'clock, and the night performance at 8 o'clock. The doors are open one hour previous for the inspection of the zoo, and for the children to see the two mammoth beasts which require two specially constructed railway cars for their transportation."

Plows Still Work on Pass

The two rotary snow plows that are working on the east and the west sides of the McKenzie pass are still nearly 11 miles apart, according to the latest reports, and are working in more than 60 inches of snow. The depth of the snow makes the work progress quite slowly.

It is doubtful if the McKenzie pass is opened to traffic by May 28, the opening day of last year, but it will probably be opened early in June. Tourist traffic through Springfield will increase considerably as soon as the pass is opened.

The purpose is to raise funds for new scenery for the stage in the auditorium. There are to be four separate performances, at 7:30, 8, 8:45, 9, and 10:15.

The program will include the high school orchestra, a chorus featuring Ruth Bettis and Freeman Squires, and five other features, including the boys' quartet which took first place in the music tournament at Eugene last week-end. Special fountain menus are advertised with general admission

Roosevelt Beats Lincoln

Roosevelt Junior high school of Eugene overwhelmed the Lincoln school by a score of 33-1 in a game of baseball played there Tuesday afternoon. The major part of the Lincoln team arrived in Eugene too late to take part in any but the latter part of the game, and this in part accounted for the one-sided score. Wetzel started the game picking for Lincoln and Gillette finished. The Lincoln school will play a number of other games before school is out.
