AMERICA FOR AMERICANS FIRST

Three or four hundred thousand people come into the United States every year from foreign countries. This is plenty to assimilate in any one year and immigrant laws should not be any more lax. In fact, they should be more strict as regards certain nationalities, especially the Mexicans. The southwest is overrun with Mexicans who force down the standards of living and wages.

Canada wants and needs settlers as much as any country which desires to develop large unsettled areas. But, Canada has never let down the bars to races which it deems undesirable. We know the Mexican in large numbers and of the class that migrate are not desirable.

Consider differential birthrates as to the Los Angeles Mexican who applies for charity for his cuts, including bobs, of his 33 daughters and sons. At this 33 rate, he may become progenitor of 1089 grandchildren. His competitor, the old-stock Anglo-Saxon American, who finds he must hustle to feed, clothe and educate his brood of three, can expect at his 3 rate, 9 grandbabies. We today face, in control of such differential birthrates through immigration restriction, a struggle for America's Soul. Shall our country remain reasonably homogenous, or shall mongrelization proceed until we sink to the level of hybridized Latin America?

There is no way to increase taxes without also increasing the cost of living, for the consumer must ultimately pay all taxes. The merchant and manufacturer put the amount of his taxes on the price of the goods. Railroads raise their freight rates to take care of their taxes which is now averaging more than six per cent of their earning. About the only fellow who cannot pass on his taxes is the wage earner, who is unable to get a raise out of the boss every time the school, city, county and state raise the levy.

We are afraid that before the sun has set on the sunset pageant, Eugene, because of her whisker growing movement will be referred to as the city "gack in the brush."

Despite the efforts of the press and many of the city's leading people the Eugene school budget went down to overwhelming defeat last Monday. Eugene school system and city as well has plunged headlong into debt until the people are faced with one of the highest per capita indebtedness in the state. The plain thinking people are beginning to take the situation serious and from now on it looks like budgets in excess of the six per cent limitation and bond issues will be hard to pass.

Big business sometimes start from humble beginnings. Montgomery Ward started with a clothes basket from which he sold hardware articles from door to door, stocking up each morning from a hardware store. When he got tired of walking he started a store where his customers could write to him, and have the articles sent.

There are on an average 6100 people born every day in America and 3500 pass away. This nation is getting larger faster than most of us realize.

A defaulting bank cashier says he used money he stole to help needy friends. Three of them happened to be chorus girls.

No pedestrian is safe nowadays. It the automobile does not get him the auto salesman will.

FATHER'S DAY

June 16th is Father's Day, and we want to urge everyone not to overlook this occasion. For some reason, Mother's Day is much more widely observed than Father's Day. This is understandable in the light of the beautiful sentiments that are aroused by the very word "mother"—yet father need not be neglected, as too often he seems to be.

Father may seem indifferent to such an occasion as Father's Day. Probably, if asked, he would call it "nonsense" and ask his children to "forget it."

Father may seem austere, or too practical to care for such trinkets as you might be moved to purchase for him, or, in many cases, it might seem ridiculous to present him with a gift out of his own money.

But remember one thing! A man is only a boy grown up. Your father, no matter what his exterior, has hidden away in his heart a little boy. And that little boy will come to the surface and father will retire to his room as happy about the red pair of suspenders or the tie, or the box of cigars that you have given him, as any little boy would be about a box of marbles or a baseball glove.

Don't be fooled by your father. He likes little attentions just as much as mother does.

A NEW FUTURE FOR THE INDIAN

A new policy in conducting the affairs of the American Indian is announced by the Secretary of the Interior Wilbur. Hereafter, the educated Indian will not be returned to the reservation to revert to the blanket but will be encouraged to go into industry and business along with his white brother. Anyone who is familiar with the conduct of the Indians on the reservation knows that the system the government has used has kept the Indian in a semi-civilized state instead of raising his standards.

While the Indian has not progressed it is not because he is not capable. Indians can be highly educated and assimilated easier than many other races that come to our shores, especially the oriental and the negro. Vice-President Curtis is an Indian and lived on the reservation until 15 years old. No one could imagine a boy of Chinese or negro extraction reaching the place of vice-president in this country. An educated Indian usually thinks, acts and conducts himself like a white man where he has had a chance to live in the environment of the whites and there is little race prejudice against him.

Indians have reached the top in all the professions and trades, yet the government's policy has been to make farmer's out of them or the thing they seem least fitted for. The new government policy for the future of the Indian will see the passing of the Indian reservation and the Indian after all taking his proper place in the sun.

A dealer advertises to the farmers, "we want your hides." He should have said "Come in and be skinned."

A LIBERAL RAILROAD POLICY

Ralph Budd certainly knows how to capture popular imagination. His announcement that his railroad would add no differential for travel via the Pacific Northwest between Chicago and San Francisco won cheers from Washington and Oregon, who for years have been battling to induce Southern Pacific to haul transcontinental passengers free between Portland and San Francisco. Now he informs the Washington public that Great Northern will pay the taxes involved in the big railroad tax suit in that state and will claim no refund on back taxes if the railroad win their case. Through the Northwest he is credited with being the influence in forcing the 61-hour train. His interest in Central Oregon has always been manifested in a like manner that won public plaudits. Like Hannibal as an invader winning the good will of half Italy, Budd invades the field served by Southern Pacific and Union Pacific with all the prestige of a rescuer from oppressor. While we may disagree as to the wisdom of duplicating facilities at a cost which may impair carrier capacity to serve, we cannot help feeling a thrill at the brilliance of his onslaught.—Oregon Voter.
