THE PUBLIC IS THE GOAT

The bridge case has been appealed and likely it will be many months before the west approach is built and the structure ready for use.

The obstructionist who throws a monkey-wrench into a fine machine can do more damage in a minute than the best machinist can repair in weeks.

But in cases like the Springfield bridge the public will be the goat about so long and then public opinion will come down with a vengeance and some heads will come off and meddlers will get their fingers burnt.

THE FARM RELIEF BILL

The national farm relief bill has passed and will become a law. Whether it will be a success or not depends largely on the farmer.

Every now and then some one tells us that we are spending 25 billion dollars a year for luxury and predicts the end will be disastrous.

There can be too much even of religion in the home for happiness, it seems. A Portland man says in a divorce complaint that after a month of married life his wife became violently religious.

"Up to the present you have been receiving but from now on you must give," the president of the University of California told the graduating class.

The ability to create an alibi is not an accomplishment but is usually a detriment.

They used to burn the midnight oil but now it is the midnight gas.

GOING TO COLLEGE

"Shall I go to college?" is a question now being considered by thousands of youths who have just graduated from high school or preparatory schools.

Less than one per cent of American men are college graduates. Yet out of this one per cent have come:

- 55 per cent of our Presidents. 36 per cent of the Members of Congress. 47 per cent of Speakers of the House. 56 per cent of the Vice-Presidents. 62 per cent of the Secretaries of State. 50 per cent of the Secretaries of the Treasury. 69 per cent of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

THE LIMIT OF MAN

There is no way of predicting the extent of developments in the radio field. Tests by the Canadian National Railway near Toronto indicate the futility of predicting the ultimate destiny of radio.

Years ago it was thought the ultimate was reached when phonograph records broadcast were heard over a comparatively short distance.

At that time anyone suggesting that broadcasts might be made from a moving train would have been considered insane.

Yet these miracles have come to pass, and do not doubt it, others are coming. There seems to be very few limitations to the ability of man to conquer the elements.

When Lieutenant Soucek sought to make a new altitude record, eight miles above the ground he had to breathe oxygen from tanks in order to keep alive.

MUCH GAS CONSUMED

Motorists of America used over ten billion gallons of gasoline last year," stated George O. Brandenburg, Secretary-Manager of the Oregon State Motor association recently.

"Those figures," continued Mr. Brandenburg, "are based on statistics recently issued by the Bureau of Public Roads and do not include the gallonage of Massachusetts or New York, neither of which states had a gas tax in 1928.

"All changes, except one, in gas tax during 1928-1929 have been increases rather than decreases and Oregon was in accord with other states when she raised her gas tax from three to four cents.

"The average rate per gallon in 1928 was three cents; the highest was five cents and the lowest was two cents. At the close of the year the rate in effect was five cents in seven states, four cents in eleven states, three and one-half cents in one state, three cents in fourteen states and two cents in twelve states and the District of Columbia.

"Comparison of the total number of vehicles registered with the total tax collected in the states in which the tax was effective throughout the year shows an average revenue of $15.09 per vehicle. After deduction of the costs of collection the entire net revenue was used for rural road purposes in 35 states. In the remaining states and the District of Columbia a total of $18,491,754 was devoted to other purposes. In three states a portion of the collections was used for public school purposes.

"All of the gas tax money in Oregon is used for road purposes and is placed at the disposal of the State Highway Department."
