WILLIAM JANNEY FORCES WAY INTO McDONALD FILM

Two minutes was the length of William Janney's interview with Mary Pickford which started the 21 year old stage actor on what promises to be an unusually successful screen career, but it took him two months to bring it about.

Janney, of a stage family and fresh from a two year's triumph in "Tommy," read that Mary Pickford was preparing to film "Coquette."

He knew he could play the role of the brother and he called at the United Artists studio to ask for the opportunity. At the end of two months, during which he made no effort to break into pictures at any other studio, he finally was given a chance to talk with Miss Pickford. She immediately ordered a test for the youth, and he won out over nearly thirty others.

George O'Brien appears as West Point's All-American halfback, while Janney is shown as his brother, who is substitute end on the Annapolis squad. Helen Chandler, Frank Albertson, Joyce Compton, Stepin Fetchit and David Butler are among the other featured players in this picture, which is now playing at the Fox McDonald.

"Drag," the new First National Vitaphone feature starring Richard Barthelmess, which comes to the Fox McDonald Theatre on Sunday is the second Vitaphone feature with dialogue and sound in which Barthelmess has appeared.

"Drag" presents the star in a dramatic narrative concerning a young, ambitious newspaperman who goes to a small town to edit the local weekly paper. While there he falls in love with a girl and after marrying her finds himself supporting a whole family of parasitic "in-laws." He composes a musical show called the "Love Prince" for the local Woman's Guild; its success encourages him to go to New York, sell his play and find that happiness which so eluded him in the small town.

Girls' Guild Has Meeting
The Girls' Guild of the Baptist church held a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ella Walker. Miss Myrtle Harvey was the hostess for the occasion.

"THE HOUSE OF COLOR"

REST-HAVEN Memorial Park

THE development of REST-HAVEN MEMORIAL PARK falls into two phases. In the first phase, the plan for the financing of this important and vitally needed project calls for the disposal of sections in the Park on an investment basis . . . for re-sale . . . at a profit to the original purchaser.

The first unit of REST-HAVEN—with sections priced at $100—was sold out a month ago. Among the investors are business men, physicians, professors, teachers, housewives, mechanics, living in Eugene and the vicinity. The second unit, with the price at $110 is now being rapidly disposed of.

When an "area" of the Park is completely developed, the re-sale of the property is then undertaken for actual interment purposes. To this end the REST-HAVEN Association guarantees to maintain a re-sale department with no expense to the investors, but with the restriction that sections must be listed for sale at a price double the original cost.

The demand for interment sites is assured by the beauty and scientific management of the Park, and by the normal death rate of this community. Original purchasers may confidently expect a re-sale of their property within a period of from six months to two and one half years from the date of purchase, and at an advance of at least one hundred per cent.

The sponsors of this development are Mr. A. A. Rogers, president of the First National Bank; Mr. C. D. Rorer, and Mr. A. R. Tiffany, president and cashier, respectively, of the Bank of Commerce; Judge L. T. Harris; and Mr. Charles Wiper. The character of these men is a sufficient guarantee of the worthiness of the undertaking.
