

THREE ESCAPE INJURY IN HEAD-ON COLLISION ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Three people narrowly escaped injury Sunday afternoon when two automobiles being driven by Dr. Mortensen and Emmett Innis, route 1, Creswell, collided head-on on the covered bridge over the Coast Fork of the Willamette river about seven miles south east of Springfield at 3:30.

The impact of the two cars coming together was sufficient to cause Mr. A. J. Schnetsky, father-in-law of Dr. Mortensen, who was riding with him, to be lifted from the seat and thrown against the windshield. His head struck the glass and shattered it, but he was not injured or even scratched. The windshield on the Innis machine was also broken.

Both cars were badly damaged. Their radiators were broken, the front left fenders, headlights, springs, and axles were all damaged on both automobiles, which were towed to local garages to be repaired.

No one seems to know how the accident happened. Dr. Mortensen says that he was going to his ranch near Creswell and saw the Innis car coming. Innis says that he did not see the Mortensen car until they had crashed.

OREGON BUSINESS MEN TO DISTRIBUTE STAMPS

Portland, Jan. 9.—Special.—Keen interest and enthusiasm from every part of Oregon has been expressed about the first series of Oregon Poster Stamps being issued by the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce in its 1930 program of "Build Oregon," W. G. Ide, manager of the organization stated here yesterday.

The first series of stamps cover only a few of the outstanding points about Oregon and we're now planning the issuance of additional series of poster stamps. It is our desire to produce the most effective series of poster stamps ever issued by any state and believe we can gain this distinction if the people of Oregon will give us their ideas and suggestions for additional poster stamps, Ide said.

Ideas and suggestions for Oregon Poster Stamps will be greatly appreciated and should be turned in to the local chambers of commerce or sent to the Information Service department of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce at Portland.

Each Oregon Poster Stamp tells tersely some interesting fact about Oregon and the lines of copy on each stamp invite the reader to write to the local chamber of commerce for further information. The complete series of stamps is planned to tell what Oregon has, offers, wants, how the state ranks and about its special points of interest.

The state chamber plans for 6,750,000 Oregon Poster Stamps to be placed on outgoing mail during 1930 through the cooperation of the states 30,000 business and professional men. The stamps themselves advertise Oregon and funds created from the sale of stamps create the state chamber's budget to carry on its program of work.

DUCK SEASON TO CLOSE BAD YEAR FOR HUNTERS

The open season for duck hunters will close in the state of Oregon on Wednesday of next week. This has been one of the poorest duck seasons which this section of the state has had for many years. Local sportsmen have repeatedly gone into the field, but have usually returned with nothing but a good amount of walking to their credit.

The lateness of the fall rains is blamed by several for the bad season. The low spots in this section which are usually covered with water in the fall, and upon which the ducks frequently stop to feed, were dry this year until most of the ducks had gone over.

SEPT. 16 TO 18 DATES SET FOR 1930 LANE FAIR

The Lane county fair will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 16, 17 and 18 this year. The dates were decided upon at a meeting of the fair board members this week. This is the latest that the fair has been held for many years.

Strict inspection of all entries will be made this year, say members of the board. Blood tests of livestock will be made to ascertain their condition of health.

Mrs. Mabel Chadwick, secretary of the board, announced that work had already been started on the premium lists.

Mother: Fightin' again—don't you know that well behaved children do not hit anyone.

Boy: Yes, I thought Jack was well-behaved and hit him—but he was ill-behaved.

Teacher: Why do you insist on spelling bank with a capital "B." Johnny: Pa said a bank was no good unless it had a big capital.

Mr. Staylate: Sweetheart, is it possible for me to leave you?

Miss Yawnsome: Oh, yes, I think so! D— may be waiting for you at the front door, but the back way is clear.

PUBLICITY

It is said that there are twenty-eight mountains in Colorado that are higher than Pike's Peak. Can you name any of them? Neither can we. But we have all heard of Pike's Peak because it has so much publicity. So Pike's Peak gets all the business and twenty-eight higher peaks just stand around or sit or whatever a peak does and we imagine, complain that business is poor and wonder why people flock to Pike's Peak and refuse to believe in publicity. Some merchants are like Colorado mountains
