

S. P. TO OFFER SPECIAL SAN FRANCISCO RATES

Springfield people and those who live on the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad between Portland and San Francisco will be enabled to take advantage of the special round-trip rates which the company is going to offer for sale on January 24. The round-trip ticket from Eugene to the California city and return will cost the traveler $15.00. These tickets will be good on all coaches and in any sleeping car where the traveler pays the extra pullman fare, according to an announcement made this week by L. L. Graham, district freight and passenger agent at Eugene.

These special tickets are good for ten days from date of sale, and the owner of one may leave San Francisco on any train before the expiration of his ticket.

The holders of the tickets will be taken south on the Shasta Limited, which leaves Eugene at 11:45, Friday, January 24.

These special tickets are on sale here at the local depot and may be purchased from either Carl Olson or his assistants, but it will be necessary to go to Eugene to take the train, as it does not come through Springfield.

SLEDS BECOME POPULAR AS SNOW COVERS GROUND

Sleds, toboggans and all other devices manufactured for the purpose of sliding on the snow are in great demand in Springfield this week. The manual training shop at the high school has been one of the busiest places in the building, according to W. E. Buell, principal. The boys are all busy making sleds and toboggans. The sound of hammers can be heard in his office all day long.

There are short sleds and long sleds, single runner sleds and some of the more elaborate ones which have two sets of bobs, the rear set fastened securely to the frame and the front set secured to the body with a bolt, allowing it to be moved and thus guide the sled. The construction of toboggans did not bother the boys either. They found some smooth boards and after soaking them for a while in hot water, they turned up the end and soon had their toboggan ready to use.

BUILDING IS HAMPERED BY INCLEMENT WEATHER

Construction work on the new Stanley building has been almost at a complete standstill all week due to the inclement weather which has prevailed in most of the state. Carpenters started work last week and have the framework for the roof in place, but are unable to lay the roof while it continues to snow. A little work was done yesterday forenoon, but the snowfall in the afternoon put a stop to most of the work.

DYNAMITE USED ON ICE AT MILL-POND MONDAY

There were a lot of cold and uncomfortable jobs everywhere in the city on Monday morning, but it is doubtful if there was any which was as cold as the one at the Booth-Kelly mill pond, where men were busy trying to break up the ice to free saw logs for the mill.

Workmen spent part of Sunday breaking the ice in the channel to the saw logs and on returning to work Monday morning they found it completely frozen over again. Dynamite was resorted to several times to break thick ice which held the logs immovable.

A large number of enthusiastic youngsters made their way to the pond on Sunday, and tried skating and sliding on the smooth ice.

KNIGHTS OF ROAD SEEK SHELTER IN CITY JAIL

Springfield does not make an effort to keep a very comfortable or attractive bastle for those who violate the law, but even the one which the city does have was a welcome haven to two knights of the road, who appeared at the city hall last night and asked the city recorder if they might spend the night there. Mr. Peterson showed them the jail and told them that it was not a very comfortable place to camp, but the men were willing to try it and were given possession. They left early this morning their destination being unknown.

PUBLICITY

It is said that there are twenty-eight mountains in Colorado that are higher than Pike's Peak. Can you name any of them? Neither can we. But we have all heard of Pike's Peak because it has so much publicity. So Pike's Peak gets all the business and twenty-eight higher peaks just stand around or sit or whatever a peak does and we imagine, complain that business is poor and wonder why people flock to Pike's Peak and refuse to believe in publicity. Some merchants are like Colorado mountains
